BOND OPPONENTS TO MEET SATURDAY

Public Meeting Called For 2 P. M. at Court House

Protest Meeting

The bond opponents of the new highway bond issue will hold a public meeting on Saturday, March 24, at 2 P. M. in the court house. The meeting is being held to discuss the proposed bond issue and to hear the arguments of the bond opponents.

TO WAGE OPPOSITION

Dr. J. W. Hardy, 618 North Main St., Carlisle, Ky., is waging opposition to the proposed highway bond issue. He believes that the bond issue is a burden on the people and that it will result in higher taxes and increased government spending. He is calling on the people to oppose the bond issue.

NICHOLAS HOME TELEPHONE CO.

INCORPORATED

He will analyze his qualifications— He is polite, intelligent, willing, always on duty. He will instantly present you the grocer, butcher, baker, or any of the trades-folks, or fire, freight, or fireman, or police in emergency. He will go beyond the confines of the town and bring to you in an amazingly short time, a member of the family, a friend or one of your good prospective customers. And so to home he will only cost you, in residence from five to seven cents per day. In place of business from eight to twelve cents per day.
