

MAKE a salad dressing with it; to see how good to eat Wesson Oil is. Then cook with Wesson Oil and see how much better everything can taste. You'll never know how good things can taste until you've cooked with a fat that is good to eat itself.

Wesson Oil makes the best pie crust you ever tasted

Mr. Boyd makes the best pies ever tasted. He sends us this recipe for pie crust, with the comment that the secret here is to fail.

Set into a mixing bowl one and one-half cups of flour and one-half teaspoon of baking powder. Make a depression in the center. Into this pour a generous half cup of Wesson Oil and an exact one-half cup of very cold (or very) water. Add a pinch of salt. Mix quickly with a fork and divide into two portions. Do not knead, but roll on a well-floured board, spread on paper, fill and bake as usual on a well-dusted tin.

The ingredients should be cold, and do not knead or knead. The dough must not stand, but the whole process must be completed as rapidly as possible.

Do not pinch or clamp the edge of the pie. To do so makes a hard edge that no one cares to taste. Instead, trim the edges in the usual way, then place the pie on the tin and on opposite sides of the pie and raise the dough until the edges stand straight up. This prevents all leaking and the crust is tender to the last moment.
