HOW PRIZES WILL BE GIVEN JAN. 19-26

The merchants of Carlisle announce the following rules, which will govern the awarding of prizes to holders of tickets in the Yule Campaign, now in progress, on January 19 and 26.

Mr. I. B. Enos has been selected as manager of the awards. Not later than 12:00 p. m. on Saturday, January 19, the ticket stubs held by various merchants will be delivered to Mr. Enos in the Court House Yard, and placed in a locked barrel $1 2 p. m., someone will be selected from the crowd to draw tickets from the barrel. As each ticket is drawn, its number and prize drawn by that ticket will be set down on five black boards in plain view of all. When the number of tickets, corresponding to the number of prizes, have been drawn out and the numbers placed on the black board, a half hour will be given to enable Ticket holders to look over their numbers.

If at the end of half an hour, all of the prize-winning tickets have not been presented, a second drawing will be made, in the same manner, until those prizes remaining shall have been awarded.

The stubs remaining will be locked up in the barrel and placed in the vault at the circuit clerk's office, until January 26, when the stubs are circulated during that week will be placed in the barrel with the others and a second drawing be made in the same manner. On page 5 of this week's Mercury, a list of prizes given on the two days may be found.

Tickets must be presented here in order to win a prize.

Ticket holders are urged to make a numerical list of their tickets, in order that they may be fixed any ticket held by them easily.

IGNORING WARNINGS

In the city of Philadelphia alone 875 persons lost their lives during 1923 as the result of drinking poisonous bootleg whisky.

These deaths have occurred despite repeated warnings by the authorities and physicians that bootleg whiskey is dangerous and should be shunned. Barnum's contention that there is a fool born every minute seems substantiated in these deaths which represent people who, in the face of ossified warning, drank stuff that only can be classed as poison.

It seems impossible to persuade many people to protect themselves by abstaining from bootleg liquor. This adds to the government's responsibility to keep the stuff away from the public. Those who will not or do not protect themselves must be protected from themselves and strict enforcement of the prohibition laws seems the only feasible way of giving them this protection.—Winchester Sun.
