Farmers and Factories Build Communities

Farmers are economically builders. They produce wealth from the soil. When farmers are prosperous, as they are at present, every industry and the whole community is benefited.

Factories are community builders also. Since a good city or town subsist in normally and in either no more of the country, factories bring into it the money they make in which they are established. The farm is employment to many people—all kinds of commodities and trades, professional men, artisans, bringing in

LIFE WITH PLANTS AND ANIMALS

People who have never tried life on a farm have no idea of the satisfaction that comes to a normal minded man or woman from living with growing things. There is a wonderful sense of companionship in farm animals. The man who treats them kindly finds they are warm friends, and there is something almost human in the response that they give to the considerate master.

Even the flowers and vegetables in the garden seem almost to have personality. They make a grateful response to the effort put forth to nourish them from weeds and to give them water in the dry times, it seems to say, "Thank you," by redoubling their efforts to grow and flourish. There are many rewards of happiness in this contact with nature, which is more satisfying than material pleasure.—Smithfield, N. C. Observer.

FARMERS' DOLLAR NOW WORTH 60½ CENTS

Wage-workers are being paid for their labor and farmers are receiving for their produce a dollar that is worth but 60½ cents, compared with 1914, according to the National Industrial Conference Board, an organization representing large employers. This depreciation of the dollar is revealed in a survey made by the experts of the Board.

The American people bought their winter clothing, fuel, light, shelter and other necessities and the gifts they exchanged at Christmas time with what were the highest that have prevailed since May, 1921, the Conference Board reports.

Wholesale prices of agricultural products were about 4 5-10 per cent of higher in October this year than in the same month of 1922, according to the Department of Labor. But the wholesale prices of foods was 5 6-10 per cent. the price of clothes and clothing, 5 1-10 per cent, and of all house furnishings 11 per cent higher than in October, 1922. In other words, if the farmer was getting a living wage then he should be in about the same fine paying mood for what he had to buy from others.

SELLS TURKEYS FOR $1.000

Mrs. E. D. NO REST—NO PEACE

There's no peace and little rest for the man who suffers from a lame back and distressing urinary disorders. Carlisle people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. W. T. Crump, Dorsey Ave., Carlisle, says: "I suffered from dizziness and my head ached. I had pains in my back. My kidneys were out of order. At night I was restless and could get little rest. This continued until I heard of Doan's Pills and took some. They soon made me strong and well." (Statement given January 18, 1912.)

Over 30 years later Mrs. Crump said: "Doan's Pills cured me of a severe attack of kidney trouble. I am only too pleased to do what I can for Doan's by giving them another endorsement."

LIEUTENANT L. D. YOUNG ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY

Lieutenant L. D. Young, of Paris, formerly of Carlisle, is a candidate for the office of Confederate Pension Commissioner and is circulating a petition to the Governor asking for the appointment. The appointment of Mr. Young to this office would be highly pleasing to his host of friends throughout this section. He is well qualified for the position and has passed the eightieth milestone but still enjoys rugged health and is capable of performing the duties of the office. Lieutenant Young's record with which Mr. Young will present to Governor Fields:

I come before Your excellency asking for appointment to the office of "Commissioner of Confederate Pensions."

It is proper Sir, that I should tell you I was an applicant for this office following the death of Capt'in W. J. Stone. That application was endorsed by twelve hundred gentlemen together with a number of individual appeals from citizens, Masons, Knights and Prominent citizens of Central and Eastern Kentucky. Governor Stone, however, appointed another citizen of this appeal, but it seemed that he "loved" the office much better —whether through political obligation I do not know.

Through precedent and in justice to this office as created by the Confederate Soldier and as such, I am appealing to Your Excellency and invite reconsideration of my application. I began as Camp Bartlett, Tenn. Sept. 1861, enrolling 3 months, a private and three and half years from Bowling Green to Appomattox serving in engineering every campaign and battle (with one exception) in which the famous "Orphan Brigade" participated. My record as a citizen, though I am not a pauper, is known to many and to an open book to which I also invite investigation.

I come before you Sir, as one absolutely dependent upon this great remembrance. I am the only appointee from Bowling Green from Warren County and the only survivor now living in the County out of two hundred and fifty who served with the "Orphan Brigade" furnished by this County.

Assuming a privilege I will you that I suffer with chronic kidney trouble and have been filled from its establishment. I am a member of the Camp, member of the Cavalry Arm of the service—First by the invitation of Gen. "Morgan" and lastly by the "boy" soldier, George, of a few months service in the 2nd Regiment in Tennessee Regiment and whose name I have forgotten but am credited to that stalle and not to Kentucky.

In general, the crops of 1922 were the most perfect ever in the cotton belt and in the wheat belt suffered from the ravages of weather and insect pests, but the aggregate crop production was equal to the average of the previous years.

Considering country rather than state, the crops of 1922 were greater than in 1922. The total value of all crops in 1923 is greater. The values of the wheat, hay, rice, flaxseed, cranberry, peach and pear crops are below 1922; in the case of wheat 40 per cent below. The values of all other important crops are greater.

As to cotton, it is seen the productive value of livestock during the year, dependent, upon crops harvested in that form. In general, there has been a prosperous year for sheep growers, fairly good for dairymen, less satisfactory for producers of hogs, and discouraging for growers of range cattle. Cattle feeders, as a class, have done well on the whole.

There are discouraging conditions still to be overcome. There is the heavy burden of taxes. The heavy taxes to be met. The cost of production and of what the farmer has to remain high. Farmers in the spring wheat territory especially are in need of opportunities for steady work beyond their control.

The experience gained during these years of depression, however, together with winning the battle for wages warrant a hopeful attitude for the future. Readjustment of wages is being better adjusted. The domestic market continues strong. The children keep coming which guarantees a steadily increasing number of consumers. There will be stimulation by the farm and do good farming and look forward to better times as a reward for their years of toil and hardship. Those with small businesses depend directly upon farm purchases can find detailed encouragement in the growing prosperity of the material prosperity of the farmers and the farmer continues to be the material and spiritual backbone of the nation.

AN APPROPRIATE THOUGHT

On January 14 the League of Women Voters met at Lexington and, in my opinion, is the best sentiment for the Christmas card which I hope to make universal.

Governor Smith of New York and Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania suggest the following, respectively: "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

Was uttered by the angels; war is the devil's delight."

"Ring out the years of foul disease, Ring out the narrowing lust of gold; Ring out the thousand years of old, Ring in the thousand years of peace."

Either may appropriately be chosen.

STATE BRIEFS

The high school building at Dayton, Ky., was destroyed by fire Monday.

Richard Cornelius, of Harrodsburg, is the father of 21 children. He has been married twice.

David Williams and C. W. Cobb have purchased Bonnieblue Beach and Bonnieblere hotel.

The Harrison county board of education has decided to hold "eight months term in the rural school next year.

By a majority of 270 to 2, Midway voted a $15,000 bond issue for a new school building at an election held Saturday.

L. E. Gregg has purchased a lot in Mt. Sterling upon which a stockyard for the cooperative sale of livestock will be built.

The Bath county fiscal court, at a meeting last week, sold $100,000 worth of road bonds at a special election held September 16, 1922.

Judge Charles H. Morrison, of Louisville, last week assumed his duties as Judge of the Federal Court of the Western District of Kentucky.

Judge B. Frank Day, Democratic nominee for circuit judge of this district, is the only ex-Confederate veteran serving in either branch of the legislature.

App Perry, deputy sheriff of Rowan county, was shot and killed from ambush Saturday night and another officer were going to round up moonshiners.

Eight guests of the Owens hotel at Horse Cave narrowly escaped death early Sunday morning when the building was destroyed by fire, causing a loss of $25,000.

The home of W. D. Hamilton, chief of the Lexington division of the revenue service, in Lexington, was destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon, entailing a loss estimated at $16,000.

The will of Robert A. Taylor, who died recently at his home at Hickman, leaves the bulk of his estate, valued at about $750,000, to the Masonic Widows and Orphans home at Louisville.

In federal court at Lexington Monday, Ike Miller, Fayette county farmer, was sentenced to serve one year and one day in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta and fined $20,000 on a charge of bootlegging.

C. H. Steer, motorman, was killed, and fifteen passengers were injured, some of them seriously, when an interurban car struck a freight train at Appleton Station, two miles from Louisville, last Thursday.

Considering money return we find that Shelby, Jessamine and Scott counties, Ky., have been favored quite heavily with crops in the matter of equity and fairness. Central and Eastern Kentucky should have some consideration.

Had my loved and dear friend Mr. Carroll lived, I should not have been compelled to make these arguments as to the knowledge and value of my service as a soldier and citizen and my appeal for myself and wife, and by this father, I feel would have been sufficient. I mention this, feeling it is far to complicated with your sense of obligation to carry out his plans and principles, you will feel pleasure and satisfaction in so doing.

As to my record, I will but place Your Excellency may conclude that my age, by reason of infirmity and its efficiency, to which I plead no effort, by saying I am as strong and healthy as most men of my age and less and feel that with the confidence I have and the blessing of Providence, there are a few more years of opportunity for work and duty to come coming to me, and I shall only feel grateful for the opportunity of making your administration a brilliant and glorious success.

Sir, I earnestly solicit this honor and privilege as the crowning chapter to an Old Soldier's life and to life I am anxious to become a member of Your Excellency's cabinet, feeling fealty and devotion to your place whatever they may be. I am

Sincerely and Truly,
L. D. Young.

THIS IS THE MONTH

To wipe the slate clean.
To keep all of the stock warm.
To plan the crops and plot the ground.
To put up the season's ice supply. Next August you'll appreciate it more.
To smoke the meat. Cheese cloth saves some the pieces will keep the chippers out.
To make up breeding pens. A general rule is two sows to each cockerels and pullets with older males.
To get new blood into the poultry flock. An extra dollar or two for a good cockerel is money well invested.
To start the fertilizer into the incubators, and order yours early. Late orders may cause serious delays.
To cover the strawberries with straw. It is the freezing and thawing of late winter and early spring that hurts.
To warm the axe and other steel tools before using. In cold weather, a piece is easily chipped out with a little strain.
To roughen the horses' shoes on icy days. Nothing is more pitiful than to see a horse fall and break a leg on a slippery road.—Farm Life.

ORIGIN OF BUZZARD

BOND AND MYERS

Mrs. Emma M. Barnett send. The Mercury an account of how Buzzard Bond and Myers derived their names. The account was furnished Mrs. Barnett by a man over 80 years old, who claims to be the true account of their origin.

Synout was formerly called Buzzard Roost, a name given it by old time hunters. This was many years ago. In those days whisky was sold there and came to be a buy and delick and would sit on the fence, and he called it "Buzzard Roost," and in a late date Uncle Jeff Shrout bought the place and he changed the name of the postoffice changed from Buzzard Roost to Shrout, and wrote to the postoffice department to have it changed. Through mis-error, a p was substituted for the h, making the name Synout.

Myers was at one time called "Black Hawk," which was a nickname for George Myers. To shorten the name Mr. Myers had it changed to Myers.

ORIGIN OF BUZZARD

BOND AND MYERS

Mrs. Emma M. Barnett send. The Mercury an account of how Buzzard Bond and Myers derived their names. The account was furnished Mrs. Barnett by a man over 80 years old, who claims to be the true account of their origin.

Synout was formerly called Buzzard Roost, a name given it by old time hunters. This was many years ago. In those days whisky was sold there and came to be a buy and delick and would sit on the fence, and he called it "Buzzard Roost," and in a late date Uncle Jeff Shrout bought the place and he changed the name of the postoffice changed from Buzzard Roost to Shrout, and wrote to the postoffice department to have it changed. Through mis-error, a p was substituted for the h, making the name Synout.

Myers was at one time called "Black Hawk," which was a nickname for George Myers. To shorten the name Mr. Myers had it changed to Myers.

JAS. C. OGDEN IS REPORTED BETTER

LETTER STRENGTHENS BELIEF THAT MISSIONARY FAMILY ARE OUT OF DANGER

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ogden received a letter from their daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. C. Ogden, from Yuncanlo, China, written December 8, which states that Mr. Ogden is much improved in health. While nothing of the uprising in Balang, Tibet, is told in the progress Ogdens were enroute, had been heard from Mrs. Ogden, the letter substantiates the theory of relatives here that they had not reached Tibet at the time of the uprising. Following are extracts from the letter:

"We are much better now, and has been since last Sunday. I couldn't have a great deal of change until then. He has a good appetite now and we can get eggs and milk. We have packed all our boxes and have them ready for moving. We expect to go to Atuntze if he can stand them on yesterday. We leave in taking them with his and make them on to Atuntze if he can. It will help us much if he still has so many when we go. We have valuable prizes will be given, Save your tickets and bring them to the drawing next Saturday.

In order to avoid confusion, The Mercury would suggest that the ticket holder put the number of his ticket on a piece of paper or card for effort for fiscal.

50,000 CHRISTIAN GIRLS PRISONERS OF THE TURKS

Fifty thousand young Christian girls said to be held as slaves in the homes of Moslem Turks in the Near East, is one of the difficult problems now confronting the organization of Near East Relief and it is to render aid in rescuing these victims of Turkish bestiality that the Kentucky relief committee is making a strenuous effort for funds.

"To help free these poor girls, relieve their awful misery and to feed our more than 50,000 children we have in orphanages, we are pleading with generous Kentuckians to be more than usually liberal", is the statement of Mrs. Bessie Hagins, of Louisville, state director of Near East Relief.

MORE SALES OF POOL LEAF MADE

PURCHASE OF SIXTY MILLION POUNDS BY NEW COMPANY IS ANNOUNCED

Substantial sales of pooled tobacco at satisfactory prices were reported last week by James C. Stone, president of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Marketing Association, a number of American manufacturers and dealers. The sales were not made, the sales were not made public, nor the grades taken by the buyers.

The purchasers were: P. Lorillard Company, New York; Liggett & Myers Tobacco & Company, of Richmond, Va.; P. Orfeo & Co., of Louisville; International Tobacco Corporation, of New York; Southwestern Leaf Tobacco Company of Richmond Va.

These sales, following the big deal a few days before when tobacco amounting to 15,000,000 was disposed of, caused general rejoicing among tobacco growers and business men throughout the burley district. The sales are taken as an indication that the leading manufacturers intend to follow the policy of the two previous years avoiding discrimination against pooled tobacco.

The Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, it became known last week, was the purchaser of the approximately sixty million pounds of tobacco sold last week.

This was one of the largest single sales of leaf tobacco to a manufacturer ever made. Included in the purchase was a very large quantity of old burley of the 1922 crop, which is the best burley ever grown in Kentucky, it is said.

The 100,000 mark it is thought definitely believed will be reached by the end of next week.

Growers have been greatly encouraged over the large sales of tobacco made by the association during the past week.

BOND IS FORFEITED IN FEDERAL COURT

Saturday's Lexington Herald says: Sheriff M. Peale Collier accompanied Mrs. Bessie Lee Crockett, formerly of Paris, to Lexington today for her appearance in the federal court on a charge of having liquor in her possession. When Mrs. Dixon case was called on Tuesday's docket she was not present and her bond was declared forfeited. Attorney Cochran, Ward to this effect was sent to her brother, Joe Crockett, of Carlisle, who was on her bond and he immediately went to Crockett, where, after a day's search found her and returned to the court room book, for daily study.

The plan of the late Charles A. Lee, State Superintendent of Public Schools, who has placed it before each school in the county.

Mr. Lee asserts that the newspaper as the best medium of communication and exchange of thought, and, he declares, insists that pupils should be taught how to read and study as a step to better class of newspapers. Grasp of the dangers besetting Government, he says, can be had by serious study of the actual developments of the day.

Stephen A. Wagoner, member of the Louisville Board of Education, advocates that the board subscribe for a large number of daily papers, to be put into regular use in class room work. This plan would give each pupil a newspaper during a discussion period
