Farther than the Earth's Distance Around the Sun

—Mileage Travelled by L&N Locomotives and Cars Last Year

Hurtling through space at the rate of 19 miles per second, the earth travels approximately 570,000,000 miles every year in its orbital journey around the sun.

Last year, the total distance travelled by locomotives, and freight and passenger cars, owned by L. & N. rails, was approximately 730,000,000 miles—about 160,000,000 miles more than the earth travelled in its race around the sun.

The average person has but little conception of the vast and varied labors which are necessary on the part of the 52,000 employees of the L. & N. Railroad, in order that this stupendous movement may be accomplished.

Day and night, on Sundays and holidays, as well as week days, in addition to thousands of details and operations, the L. & N. organization functions smoothly, furnishing the people in its territory with a freight and passenger service adequate to their needs, and this service will be constantly being enlarged and improved as time trends grow.

Memorial Services Will Be Held Friday-Saturday For War-Time President

END CAME PEACEFULLY

President Woodrow Wilson died at his home in Washington, D. C., at 11:15 o'clock Sunday morning after a long period of ill health, acknowledged he had been an invalid since Sunday, October 25, 1919, when he was stricken while making a speech in Pueblo, Colorado.

Following the latter illness President was ordered to his bed following a slight digestive disorder and his condition steadily grew worse until all hope of his recovery was abandoned. He died peacefully. Life ebbed away while he slept. His last spoken words at midnight were uttered early Friday when he told members of his family and physicians, "I am ready." The old machine has broken down, but the machine that I am in is better than I would go than live in a wheelchair.

Woodrow Wilson's name became a household word in the United States during the World war. He was born in Staunton, Va., December 28, 1856, and was graduated from Princeton as the Democratic nominee for governor of New Jersey. He served in that capacity until 1910, when he was elected president of Princeton, August 1 of that year.

On November 10, 1910, he was elected governor of New Jersey and on July 2, 1912, was nominated for President on the Democratic national convention on the forty-sixth ballot. He was elected November following. He was renominated in 1916, and was elected in 1920, he asked Congress to declare that a state of war existed between the United States and the German government, which declaration was promptly forthcoming.

Woodrow Wilson's speechmaking trip for the League of Nations was cut short by his illness. He had made many speeches and talks and outlined in his long illness, was wonderful, due to the fact that the president had warned that it might so result, and had previously made out a program that he would follow in the event that he should be stricken down. In his speeches he declared that there was never done or believe, but I try that I am right and make it right if it ends my life."

Simple funeral services were held at the residence in Washington and the body was placed in the Washington receiving vault, where it will remain until Tuesday, when it will be taken to Princeton, N. J., for the purpose of holding impressive memorial services.

"A. B. Tilton, Judge Nicholas Court.

"P. D. Darnall, Mayor City Carlisle."

Martin, former president of Geneva College, will speak at the Presbyterian church in Carlisle Thursday evening, February 7, at 7:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Sherrard Literary Association. His subject will be, "The Making of a Nation," and will be a presentation of the worth of the Bible in the public schools. Christian Education is advanced as the means whereby our country is to be saved to the nation.

The public is cordially invited to hear Dr. Martin's present station of this subject.
