CO. AGENT'S COLUMN

Regular Office Days

Heretofore I have made a practice of conducting demonstrations and doing similar work in the country on court days and farmer days, observing no special time for office work. However, hereafter, it will be in my office adjoining the County Attorney on court days and Saturdays so that anyone desiring to get in touch with me may do so readily by calling at the office on the aforementioned days. Remember, too, that I can most usually be reached by calling my home, either morning or evening, telephone number 10.

County Fair

Considering the educational influence of a county fair, I believe it is quite important that each farmer in the county take some part in the coming fair, which will be held on Oct. 10th and 11th, in Carlisle, and assist in making it a success.

There is on every farm and in every home something better or at least different, that a number of the neighboring farmers in the county will be interested to see. Look around your farm and home to see if you do not have one or more articles that will prove interesting to your neighbors, bring them in, so that others may profit through your interest. Remember, the fair is entirely free to all visitors. Good programs are being planned for both afternoon and night. Let's get together and have a truly successful fair. This can only be done by realizing now that this is your fair and a little attention on your part to do your bit in helping to make it interesting and really worth while.

Be sure you receive a premium list. They are free for the asking, look through the classes and enter something wherever possible. Do not be afraid to display your samples, even though you think they are quite sure some one else will win the blue ribbon. Three prizes will be given in all classes. Competent judges will be secured; they will be ready and willing to tell you how you can improve upon the materials you exhibit if you will request them to do so. If your article is not the best you have to offer, observing no premium has been won each year, even more, through this fair, "go out work together with a unified effort to make the best better."

The Pure-bred Bull Pays

Some way or other it's pretty difficult to convince some people that "some" means thousands—that it pays to own and use pure-bred bulls. Too many people look upon the bull as being useful only in the part he plays in causing cows to produce at regular intervals. He does more—or less—than just that. He's the forward-looking part of the herd. He determines whether the herd is to be three and four and ten years better. As the herd is concerned he's the father of the heifers, and what he's like in the herd will finally become. The heifer of to-day is at all its head long grows into his likeness. For which reason, the likeness of the bull and which represents beauty and constitutional points of dairy products.

Twenty-five ago Secretary of Agriculture Wilson made a comprehensive dairy survey in the dairy-producing states. Five hundred and seventy-seven dairy farms were examined, the object being the study these unbreeding herd (at least distributed) and of them used pure-bred bulls. Even some used scrub bulls. The Iowa Private Association recently summarized the Illinois herd. Starting the whole thing into dollars and cents. In the first group of herds placed dairymen who use pure-bred bulls only. Increase in their group, who had used pure-bred bulls from 1 to 3 years, showed an average annual labor income of $79. Those men in this same group who had been using pure-bred bulls for a long time—4 to 10 years had received their labor income of $1,162 annually. These profits show that the herd grows with the improvement of the bull. In the second group, half-breeding dairymen used pure-bred bulls. These farmers had interests in keeping with the quality of the bulls they used. Those in the third group—that is, each one who had used grades from 1 to 3 years, had a labor income of $444. When he had employed grades longer from 4 to 10 years his income grew to $772. A third group of farmers who didn't own anything better than scrub bulls had labor incomes which darkened the one who had used scrub bulls from 1 to 3 years had an annual labor income of only $198. As time went on it got worse and worse. The farmer who had been used continuously for 4 to 10 years all profits disappeared. The old scrub did just what he's always done—he ate up all that each one of his owners on annual labor income loss of $242. That is the herd grew worse and worse as its head.

These results plainly teach that pure-bred bulls pay. They teach in addition, that the longer one uses a scrub bull the less money one will make, and the longer one uses a pure-bred bull the more money one will make. The pure-bred bull is an accumulating will. The pure-bred bull is an accumulating blessing.

Edgar Lee, Frankfort youth the first defendant tried for the murder of Edward Morrow at Frankfort several months ago, was found guilty Saturday and sentenced to ten years imprisonment. The murder resulted from a car driven by Morrow splashing mud on Lee and some companion.

Meeting a Public Demand for Unified Telephone Service

In response to the request of municipal authorities, individual telephone users throughout Kentucky, the Cumberland Telephone Company has purchased the physical properties of the Louisville Home Telephone Company and Associated Companies.

The service will be unified in cities where there are now two telephone systems as rapidly as possible after the preliminary negotiations are completed, and connection will be established with the Bell System, after consolidation, in towns where this universal service has not heretofore been available.

There are many problems of a mechanical, physical and financial character to be worked out, but the splendid telephone organization in Kentucky approaches them with a determination to give Kentucky a comprehensive, unified system equal in efficiency and adequacy to that in any section of the nation.

The actual consolidation of the two systems will be completed in some towns earlier than in others, due to the more extensive plant and equipment involved, but, with your co-operation, the entire job, including Louisville, it is hoped will be completed early in 1926.

During the more than eighteen months when negotiations for unification of Kentucky's telephone service were in progress, there was evidence of public interest and co-operation. A continuation of this splendid spirit will enable the telephone workers to complete the plans speedily and efficiently.

Even aside from the sensational new DUPLEX BODY—the Studebaker Special Six has no superior in value in any car yet built. It was the conscientious intention of Studebaker in planning and designing the new Special Six to make it just such a leader—so that end every resource of the great Studebaker organization has been concentrated.

Even if we had the space we could not begin to tell you of the very many new and unusual features which indicate its superiority.

Certainly no words could do justice to its distinctive beauty.

In appearance it is unlike any other American car—yet its long, low, broad, sweeping lines are conservative, crisply stylish and in beautifully good taste.

Think of the new Studebaker Special Six Duplex-Phaeton as the ultimate in value and performance in a five-passenger car—think of it as a car matchless in practical convenience and desirability.

But to appreciate the sparkling beauty of its totally new lines you must see it. To know its perfection of operation and performance you must ride in it and drive it.

If you have not seen this NEW type car —come today!

Burley Tobacco Growers Vote To Cut-Out in 1925

Majority of Counties Favor Eliminating Crop Next Year if Other Burley States Will

NICHOLAS UNANIMOUS

151 tobacco growers of Nicholas county met at the court house in Carlisle last Thursday evening, pursuant to a call, to discuss the proposed cut-out of the 1925 tobacco crop and to select delegates to attend the meeting in Lexington next week-end.

Hendy Myers called the meeting to order and was elected permanent chairman. Dr. B. F. Reynolds was elected secretary.

Talks were made by Hendy Myers, Smith Weaver, Dr. B. F. Reynolds, Mrs. Blair Batterton, Judge Hamilton, W. F. Clark and several others.

A resolution was introduced expressing confidence in the integrity and ability of the committee of nine, and expressing the sentiments and desires of Nicholas county as being 100 per cent in favor of the cut-out and a poll of the farmers assembled was taken, not a single vote against the adoption of the resolution was cast. Some few did not vote, but the majority and the majority favored it, cut out, not voting.

Mr. Myers urged that the fact that the Burley Association was formed for the orderly marketing of the crop and that it is a marketing association and not a pool, should not be forgotten.

Dr. B. F. Reynolds expressed the utmost confidence in the Association and said that if the cut out is effected this year, the growers should rally to the standard of the association and strengthen and support the same. He called attention to the fact that the Association was not active last season on account of this movement.

Smith Weaver expressed himself as for the cut out, "first, last and all the time."

The others who spoke all said they were heartily in favor of cutting out the crop.

Tobacco growers of the burley district of the state, in a three-day convention held at the court house in Lexington Saturday evening went on record both by counties and by districts in favor of a cut-out in the growers of burley in the six other states of Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia, and the movement to make the cut-out effective.

No out-and-out declaration of a cut-out in the form of resolutions was adopted by the convention, but the vote on each of the questions put was overwhelming in favor of a cut-out in 1925 leaf crop on condition that the growers of burley in the six other states of the burley belt—Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia—join in the movement to make the cut-out effective.

The question reported in favor of a cut-out were: Adair, Bath, Boone, Bourbon, Boyle, Carter, Crossing, Casey, Clark, Fayette, Fleming, Gerald, Franklin, Harrison, Henry, Jefferson, Madison, Marion, Mason, Mercer, Montgomery, Nicholas, Oldham, Owen, Pendleton, Pulaski, Robertson, Scott, Shelby, Spencer, Washington and Woodford.

Those favoring a curtailment of the crop, but not a complete cut-out ways: Greene, Hardin, Larue and Taylor; while the counties opposing the proposed cut-out were: Garrard, Meade and Spencer.

The following burley counties were not represented in the convention and consequently no report was received from them: Anderson, Ballard, Barren, Bracken, Breathitt, Bullitt, Campbell, Carroll, Cumberland, Gallatin, Grayson, Green, Hancock, Hart, Jessamine, Kenton, Lincoln, Lewis, Metcalfe, Menifee, Monroe, Morgan, Rockcastle, Shelby and Trimble.

OGDEN AND FAMILY ARRIVE IN TIBET

Parents Here Receive Letter Announcing Safe Arrival Of Missionaries

WAS DIFFICULT TRIP

News of the safe arrival of Rev. and Mrs. James C. Ogden and children with a party of other missionaries at Batang, Tibet, will be received with great pleasure by the many friends of these Nicholas county people who are giving the best years of their lives in the service of the Master in the mountains of Tibet, one of the most inaccessible countries in the world.

Rev. and Mrs. Ogden and children left Carlisle about a year ago, after a year's leave of absence, spent in visiting relatives in this county. While in the United States Rev. Ogden was lecturer in Theological Seminary of the College of Missions in Indianapolis, and received a nervous collapse from overwork.

The following letter, received a few days ago by parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ogden, of Carlisle, was the first message telling of their safety:

Batang, June 9, 1924

My dear Parents:

We have been here over three weeks, getting settled, and have ordered men to take the rest our things. We have stayed in best rest of the time. The straits at home seem to be very hard for me, and I broke down. I am much better, and getting stronger day by day, with appetite and digestion improving. Everything this party to Batang was a difficult task, with the hiring of men and horses, mules and yak, and 20 mules, besides harnesses and saddles, under the dangerous conditions prevailing. We have much to be thankful for. The caravan of men and supplies all needed things—provisions, clothing, and bedding. May He be praised!

We have quiet and peace in and around Batang, with the exception of small robberies.

I hope to regain my strength by the end of this year.

With tender love to you and all,

Your son, Jim.

FORMER KENTUCKY MINER CONFESSES POISONING

At Marion, Ill., last week, Robert Tate confessed he plotted to poison Joseph L. Herrington, whose brother he married last Tuesday, twenty days after Herrington's death. His confession followed the confession of the woman made a day before. Poison put in a cup of java taken by Herrington lunch bar was the method used. Tate and bore-and-reared in Muhlenburg county.

MOCK TRIAL TO BE FEATURE OF THE AGRICULTURAL FAIR

One of the most interesting exhibits to be shown at the Nicholas county agricultural fair, which will be held here on Friday and Saturday, October 10 and 11, will be the display of the Burley Tobacco Association. It will be the same one exhibited at the Blue Grass Fair and the State Fair, which attracted considerable attention.

Agricultural and mechanical displays from the college of agriculture at Lexington, and mechanical displays by local merchants will also be interesting features of the fair.

The fair will be held in the Grover Watkins tobacco barn at Market. Already stalls are being erected and exhibits arranged, and everything will be in readiness for the opening of the fair on Friday morning, October 10.

One of the feature attractions of the evening entertainment at the county fair for Friday, October 10th will be a trial in the Court of Bovine Justice. The Scruh Bros. whose family has caused so much loss to the people of the Commonwealth, having been indicted, will be brought to trial, on a charge of being a nuisance, worthless and unprofitable to the farmers generally.

This trial will be conducted in regular court manner. A competent judge will preside. The respective sides will be handled by attorneys who have made much preparation for the event. A jury of twelve men from the county will hear the evidence from each side and render a verdict.

The trial has attracted such attention that the State University has decided to send some expert stockman to hear the trial and to offer pointers from the evidence, and if necessary, to testify in behalf of the prosecution.

STILL ACTIVE THOUGH 70 SETTLE ESTATE

In Saturday night's edition of the Louisville Times, in a department story "Down to Date and Still Active," there appears a photograph of Mr. H. M. Taylor, of this city, with a brief writeup. Mr. Taylor is past eighty years old, and was a member of the Fifteenth Army Corps during the Civil War. Although crippled by a fall a few years ago, he still retains an interest in business and public affairs. He is a member of the Nicholas County Building and Loan Association, the Masonic fraternity, and active in church work.

There are many more octogenarians in Nicholas county who are actively engaged in business, or other pursuits. There are in the county perhaps a score or more of men and women past eighty years of age who are able to get around.

Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, assistant secretary of the navy, and son of the late President, was unanimously nominated by the Republican State Convention, and arrive to church work.

FARM FACTS

A decrease of about 8,500,000 bushels in the crop in the corn belt has tended to place the local tobacco on a normal basis, and has had a very strong influence on the entire field tone.

A total of 227 Jerseys and 104 Holstein-Friesians at the recent Kentucky State Fair in Louisville made one of the best dairy cattle shows ever seen in the state in years, and indicates increased interest in dairying in the state.

SHANKLAND LAND SOLD TO SETTLE ESTATE

D. M. Curry, agent for the heirs, sold last Friday the home of L. Shankland and Mrs. Wil. Shankland, on Cassiday Creek to settle up the estate. The home place containing seven acres, was purchased by Wm Shankland for $3,000. The remaining 100 acres of land on Locust Grove ridge was sold to Ben Shankland for $4,000.

Farming implements, household and kitchen furniture brought fair prices. Col. George D. Speaker, of Paris, was auctioneer. A fair sized crowd attended the sale.

Hoots, County Patrol Chie, Robert Vanzenos, and Patrolman Carter T. McCage, all of Pineville, in connection with the slaying of George Britain during a raid on a home in that city two weeks ago.

TOME OF ANDERSON FARMER TURNED UPON

John Sea, wealthy farmer and independent tobacco grower, of Anderson county, was called to his home one night last week by a boy 10 men. When Mr. Sea inquired the mission of the men he was told "we wanted him and that it "didn't matter" what he wore. He pressed a gun and started firing. Five .38 shots were exchanged between Sea and members of the mob before the gun and window in which it was shattered. The farmer was one of the members of the mob. Neighborhood farmers were used, unsuccessfully to attempt to trail the men.

LEXINGTON ATTORNEY SPEAKS AT CARLISLE

Hon. W. C. G. Hobbs, well known Lexington attorney, addressed about 200 Nicholas county people at the court house in Carlisle last Thursday evening in the interest of the Democratic party. Mr. Hobbs expressed the belief that the Democratic ticket would be victorious at the coming election and urged Democrats to adopt as their slogan "Everybody registered and vote."

He pleaded with the voters to restore the country to the high plane of corrupted around the world under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson, and characterized as the greatest statesman America has ever produced.

DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE WINS NOV. 4

As the popularity of John W. Davis spreads throughout the country the belief is growing intense in the Democratic party over the philosophical fact that, since the 1872 election of the Democratic party every Democratic presidential candidate nominated in a year having November 4 as election day has been elected. This began with the election of Jackson in 1832, was repeated in 1844 and 1848 and 1912, the intervening years in which Buchanan, Cleveland and Wilson were elected.

$90,000 Subscribed To Build Carlisle Redryer

Plant and Storage House To Be Built Here in Time To Handle the Crop This Year

15,000,000 LBS. CAPACITY

At a mass meeting held at the court house last Wednesday evening, the remainder of the $90,000, necessary for the establishment of a redrying plant in Carlisle was subscribed and preliminary work of constructing the building was started.

The construct for the construction of the redryer was let several days ago upon the condition that citizens of Nicholas county raise money to build the redryer and storage house. The Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Marketing Association will pay off the indebtedness to the redryer as fast as funds for this purpose become available. Officials of the Association estimated that the cost of redryer and storage plant will be $90,000.

The money is mostly loaned to the farmers in notes and mortgages bearing six per cent interest, which are due in three years. The four Nicholas county banks subscribed $44,000 of the amount and the remainder was subscribed by individual citizens, mostly in amounts not exceeding $1,000.

The redryer will be built on the lot of C. C. Ratliff, adjoining Farmers Bank on Main St. It will be constructed of brick and will be of sufficient size to house a plant with a capacity of fifteen million pounds of the weed. The site for the storage plant has not been selected, but several sites are being considered and a choice will be made soon.

Under the contract the redryer must be ready for operation by October 1. It is estimated that twelve million pounds of tobacco will be received here during the season.

The redryer will have a payroll of approximately $250 per day and will operate five or six months of the year. It will be one of the biggest things for Carlisle that has come her way in years.

While the necessity for a redryer in Carlisle was admitted, in view of the fact that the market here was the largest in the burley district last year, the association was unable to put up the plant this year without loans.

To the Carlisle Chamber of Commerce belongs the credit for securing the redryer for Carlisle. Having successfully put over the local spring this was one of the major projects placed on the program for this year. The efficient work of Secretary E. Burton, and members of the organization, have devoted considerable time to the project and by way through hard work that the association finally succeeded in the establishment of the plant here.

For the past three years efforts have been made to secure a redryer here through lack of an organization and cooperation the part of the individual farmers. Starting of this plant is one of the best things that has ever been presented for Carlisle and a Chamber of Commerce.

FEWER PAUPERS

Government records show that there are fewer paupers in almost all of the United States than there have been in the last 20 years. The number of paupers in Kentucky is smaller than it ever has been in the history of the country. On January 1 of this year there were 74,000 paupers in almost one in the country as compared with 84,194 in 1910.

The statistics indicate that irregularity in early years is practiced less frequently now than ever before. They also indicate that general living and wage conditions are improving. The country which has the greatest number of paupers where advantages are many and where, in fact, its people have always enjoyed the highest standard of living.
