AUTUMN

(By James M. Woodman.)

Autumn skies and frets are here—
Sweetest season of the year.
Days when grains are gathered in,
Filling crib, and mow and bin;
Days when Nature's work is o'er,
When a carpet an earth's floor
Comes from golden leaves which fall
I love Autumn best of all.

When the first warm breezes blow,
Springtime has its charms, I know
Summer comes and brings us hours
Rich in birds, and bees and flow'rs
Swimming days and picnics, too;
And those wondrous skies of blue;
But when I hear Autumn's call
I love her the best of all.

Take my hand, old Autumn Time—
Lead me back through days subline—
Make me live again those days
Where the barefoot youngster plays
In the woodland, through the glen,
Guide me safely there again;
I will hear your gentlest call—
For I love you best of all.

CHARLES RAY "BROKE"

Charles Ray, motion picture actor, featured in a long series of financial misadventures, the most recent of which was a government suit for approximately a quarter of a million dollars in back income taxes, filed in federal court at Los Angeles last week a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. He listed his liabilities as $986,108 and assets as $130,355.

CHURCHES SHOULD ADVERTISE

Dr. B. A. Jenkins, of Kansas City, Kansas, who is known to students the Hebrew prophets and P. T. Barnum, said recently: "The secrets certainly know how to attract attention. Daniel of the lion's den, Elijah with his chariot of fire and trained nurses, the press, intermingled the lion in the fiery furnace, etc. You could not ignore them."

Dr. Jenkins tells clergymen to select snappier titles for their sermons, including newspaper sensational writings.

It is not easy, however, to be snappy and reverent at the same time, as the following from the Talmadge, Beecher and Spurgeon did it. It is not easy.

MANY CHILDREN MARRY IN BOYLE

(Danville Messenger.)

The County Clerk's marriage license books reveal some interesting facts when carefully studied, and until this date 109 licenses have been issued from the office since the first of this year. The first contract of the year was issued on January 12.

A boy 17 years old married a girl who was 16, and another 17-year-old boy married a girl one year his junior. One man 52 years old married a lass of 22; a man and a woman, both 74 years old, were issued to marry.

Four girls who were only 14 years old assumed the responsibility of matrimony and there were three brides during the year who were but 15 years old and six gave their ages as 16.

Six men 50 or more years old secured marriage licenses and one man of more than 60 was led to the altar.

FACTS FOR FARMERS

No farmer is ever richer than on land.

You can usually judge a farmer by the stock he keeps.

The Kentucky farmer who has gotten farthest ahead, suffered least from price reverses and financial losses, was never guilty of pulling up stakes and moving.

Not more acres, or more cows, or hens, or sows, but greater yield and profits from each acre, each cow, each hen, and each sow or litter.

If the poultry raiser has more pullets than space and has no chance to build more houses, or colony houses, he had best cull his pullets to about the right number. One hundred well grown, vigorous and healthy pullets that are well housed is plenty of space will return far more profits than a dozen pullets of all sizes and stages of development crowded into the same house.

MORE PEOPLE WITH MONEY

(Louisville Times)

Under the heading Rich Poorer, Poor Richer, a writer for The New York Herald Tribune says the number of persons having fairly good incomes has increased greatly in recent years.

According to the statistics, in 1916 the government received reports of 124,375 incomes of $4,000; in 1923, reports of 329,217 of $4,000 and rises to 1,158,200. This broad an increase of nearly ten to one. It meant a vast spread of purchasing power of the "comfortable" class. It meant ten times as many buyers of the products of the country's factories turning out necessaries of life, luxuries and labor saving. While it is true that the present value of the dollar is lower than the pre-war dollar, the great distribution of purchasing power since the war has made a wider market for an extended line of commodities.

An interesting phase of the situation is the development of the investment class of society. It is brought out by the New York writer that the installment plan has made the sale of factory goods to the jobber and retailer more than a wholesale consumer. The principle that the well-paid must be debt may be depended upon to stand for the status quo is possibly involved.

SHERIFFS TO SEEK REPEAL

Law Giving Taxpayers Until March 1 Will Come Up For Fight

The Kentucky Sheriff's Association has announced that it will endeavor to have the tax collection law, which gives into effect next January, giving taxpayers until March 1 to pay their state and county taxes, repealed by the coming session of the legislature, which meets in January. If the law is allowed to remain on the statutes the incoming sheriffs will be deprived of their commission of taxes for one year, it is pointed out.

A repeal of the law will most likely be forthcoming, it is expected, as giving taxpayers the extension of time met the approval of last year's session of the state.

Council Votes Telephone Raise

New Rates Do Not Effective For Two Years. Exchanges To Be Merged Within Sixty Days

At a meeting of the Carlisle city council Monday night, the Cumberland Telephone Co. submitted a modified proposition asking for an increase in rates which was passed by the council by a vote of 4 to 1, one member of council being absent.

No change in the original increase rates made, but only in the time when it becomes effective. Therefore the new rates will not be in effect until about January, 1926.

Commissioner Barton, Kimbrough, Riddell and Geary voted for the measure, while Fisher voted against it. Councilman Fisher was not present. L. B. Rose, attorney for the telephone company, submitted the proposition.

Health Nurse Here Next Week

Miss Hauswald, Of State Board Of Health, To Be Chief Of Clinic. T. B. To Meet Tuesday

The Bureau of Maternal and Child Health, State Board of Health, will visit Miss Lucille Hauswald, R. N., Carlisle next week to put on a Child Health Program. This work will be carried on with the assistance of local physicians and representative women of the county. Kentucky ranks each year too many children in the first year of life and too many children are growing up to be physically unfit because of conditions which should be corrected in early childhood.

In an effort to bring modern knowledge of child care to the county, a series of Child Health Conferences for children under six years of age will be held in various communities in the county. At these conferences the children will be weighed and measured, examined and given the correct weight according to age and height. Local physicians will give the children a complete physical examination.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Carlisle city schools will meet in the city school auditorium Tuesday afternoon, December 15, at 2:45, to hear an address by Miss Hauswald. All members of outside organizations are invited to attend this meeting.

The Child Health Conference for children under six years of age will be free, no medicine or treatment is given, the work is entirely educational. The county and city health conference will be held at the court house in Carlisle on Friday, December 18, from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 4 p. m.

Approximately 110,000 pounds of tobacco were delivered during the two days the receiving plants of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Marketing Association in Carlisle were open last week. An average advance of a little more than $11.50 per hundred pounds was paid for the leaf received on the opening days, the highest advance paid on the opening week since the pool was established.

The tobacco delivered was mostly of good quality, several baskets averaging more than $20 per hundred advance. A great deal of inferior leaf was delivered, however, which reduced the general average.

Only the Growers warehouse was opened last week, but both the Growers and the Farmers are being opened this week, room to will average about 100,000 pounds per day this week.

The registration book has been especially filled up until December 17 at both houses, thirty-five loads of tobacco being delivered.

The redryer opened Monday. The plant will be operated for the present only during the day, no night shift being employed. If receipts from the market and other tobacco markets in this section warrant, the redryer will be operated on a 24 hour basis later on.

The field service department of the Association has announced that an advance campaign will be waged against contract violators this year, and loyal growers who support the pool publicly declare that no quarter will be given. The campaign will be waged in Eighty-four districts, as follows: 17 Jacobs Hollow, 2 Ruddles Mills, 3 Wahoo (Corcoran), 5 Pregnant Rock Honeysuckle, 2 Forsythia (Sycamore), 3 The Hostel Spires, 4 Boonesboro, 3 Armour River Pond, 2 Bogart's Pocket, 3 Jackson (Head of Stream), 3 Morrow's Honeysuckle, 3 Viburnum Lantana, 1 White Dogwood, 4 Rhododendron (Jot Bend), 3 High Rock Cranberry, 2 Tennessee Piney Willow.

Nine teams, as follows: 4 weeping willows, which will be a screen; for the "dump", 1 tulip poplar, 1 lilac, 1 pin oak, 1 red oak, 1 sad. The tulip poplar is the Hostel Grove tree and the elm the Freshmen class tree. Bitter sweet vines and honeysuckle vines were planted on the fence in the new yard.

The shrubs were selected so that flowers will be in blooming in the early spring, and continue until late fall. In the spring it is proposed to plant a hedge in the front yard of the school, and a screen of shrubbery on the border to the land for the purpose may do so.

69th Congress Began Monday

Nicholas Longworth Elected Speaker Of House After Turbulent Scenes In Opening Meeting

Amid turbulent and colorful scenes in the House of Representatives in the Senate, the Sixty-ninth Congress began under way at Washington Monday.

Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, was elected Speaker in a three-cornered election in which the Democrats supported Finis J. Garrett, of Tennessee, and the Progressives voted for Henry Allen Cooper, of Wisconsin.

The scene in the Senate was in direct contrast to that in the House. Party lines were mapped out by the Republican leaders was carried through in the Senate, and the slim the Freshmen class by Senator Butler, while the Democrats and Progressives voted for Senator Borah.

Senator Curtis' merchants have united in promoting a trade extension campaign, which will open there some time in February. This campaign will be conducted in the same lines as similar affairs in the past.

Postal regulations prohibit newspapers advertising campaigns of this kind, and handbills will be distributed throughout the county detailing the plans.

The Carlisle stores are filled with Christmas goods, and a campaign by Nicholas county dollars in the vicinity of Nicholas county was declared upon.

Before filling your Christmas shopping list, call on home town merchants. It always pays to trade at home.

AUTO TAGS GOING SLOW

Clerk Urges Owners To Secure Tags To Avoid Rush; No Extension

Comparatively few automobile licenses for the 1926 have been issued by County Clerk Westfall during the past week, indicating a great rush during the next three weeks. There are approximately 1,000 automobile owners in the county, with less than one hundred now already bought.

While the new tags may not be issued until January 1, Governor Fields has announced that the time limit will not be extended, and it is probable that many owners of motor cars will be liable to prosecution if they drive their car with the old tags on it on January 1.

Car owners should bring their last year's license when applying for new licenses, the County Clerk says.
