CHILD HEALTH TALK by Dr. Joseph H. Anderson, Director of Child Health, Health Department of Health, Lexington, Ky.
Name our baby, do you? There are many reasons why you should name your baby, and one of the most important is to give him or her a sense of identity. This is especially true for the child who is adopted, for he or she needs to know who he or she is and where he or she comes from. Naming the child is a way of giving him or her a sense of belonging and a sense of purpose. It is also a way of giving him or her a sense of responsibility and a sense of pride. So, name your baby, and give him or her a sense of identity, belonging, and purpose.
