FEATHERED PILGRIMS.

Our feathered friends have started on their journey to the Southland. Florida-bound, but not for the possible gain that lurks in exploitation of real estate, not for the gold that glitters and lures from the will-o'-the-wisp of speculation, ...

GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP.

... bones" on the outcome of the game. You will notice that the admonitions to "take um out!" or "kick um in the face!" come from those who can drop a ball in the "corner pocket," but who never looked a goal line in the face. Some "putting out" should be done from the stands in the interest of good sportsmanship. The Mercury will wager that a football game played by teams representing schools or colleges between which there existed the most intense rivalry, would, if staged without spectators and by elevens properly coached, be practically free from the "dirty playing" which sometimes mars such a contest.

After all, learning to "play the game," is more important to both players and student body than winning games.

The high school boy or college athlete will "play the game," if encouraged to do so. He is a good sportsman at heart and the best coaches recognize this fact and foster the spirit of fair play. Eventually they win games because of the existence of such a spirit.

Our local high school, it seems to us, has been particularly fortunate in this regard. We have had winning teams and losing teams at foot ball during the time that Mr. Embry has had charge of the coaching, but the writer has never seen an exhibition of poor sportsmanship on the part of any member of his teams. Quiet and unassuming, a gentleman and a true sportsman, he has inspired good sportsmanship in his players. In the opinion of The Mercury this is of supreme importance in preparatory school athletics. "As the twig is bent the tree inclines," and Joe Embry, it seems to us, has been bending "twigs" in the right direction. In the making of football teams he has been laying the foundation for the making of men.

TRANSYLVANIA REDIVIVUS.

POEMS THAT WE LIKE.

THE SPELL OF THE YUKON

(Robert W. Service)

I wanted the gold, and I sought it;
I scrabbled and mucked like a slave.
Was it famine or scurvy—I fought it;
I hurled my youth into a grave.
I wanted the gold, and I got it—
Came out with a fortune last fall,—
Yet somehow life's not what I thought it,
And somehow the gold isn't all.

Good Looks as Well as Good Service

The improved Ford Runabout, with its all-steel stream-line body, is an unusually good-looking car.

It hangs low to the ground, and the body has been lengthened and re-designed for greater comfort and convenience.

The gas tank under the cowl is filled from the outside, and the weather-proof storm curtains open with both doors.

Under the sweeping rear deck is an unusually large compartment designed for convenience in carrying luggage.

Standard equipment includes four cord tires, nickeled head-lamp rims and windshield wiper.

The price remains the same $260, and you can buy on the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.
