COPYRIGHT by ARTHUR D.HOWDEN SMITH

A new serial story by Howden Smith, author of "Purple Heritage," "Tyrant Gold," "Tiger Prince," "Fire Bride," "Fire Bride" and the romance of Panama, "Golden Isthmus," which will be published in this paper. Mr. Howden Smith has written a novel of pirate life and the romance in which the Spanish Main was the scene of many a stirring adventure. Mr. Howden Smith has made a study of pirate life and has written a story that will thrill the reader. The action takes place in the days when Captain Henry Morgan was the terror of the Spanish Main. Captain Peter and Big Bill Tarrant, the latter known as the Bull Dog, are the heroes of the story. Peter is the son of a wealthy Bristol merchant, who is the owner of the ship Sea Witch, which is captured by Morgan. Peter is forced to join the pirate crew. He is a prisoner on board the Sea Witch, but is treated as a member of the crew. Peter and Bill Tarrant are the only men who have not taken the pirate oath. Peter is in love with Thetis Frigola, daughter of the Governor of Porto Bello. Peter's father is also a prisoner on board the Sea Witch. Peter's father is a man of wealth and influence and Peter knows that if he can get his father safely ashore he will be able to obtain a large ransom for the pirates. Peter's father is also in love with Thetis Frigola and Peter knows that if he can get his father safely ashore he will be able to win the girl he loves. Peter's father is also aware of the fact that Peter is in love with Thetis Frigola and he
