News Notes

Carlisle, Kentucky. May 5. 1927

Mr. Watkins the Miller says that during the thirty-six years with the Carlisle Roller Mill he has never made better flour than he is making today. And a man who has milled for so many years ought to know.

On account of continuous rainy weather planting will be very late this spring, and we would advise our farmer friends to be careful about the selection of their seed corn. Many tests have shown 25% or more germinate only half to 40 per cent. The Carlisle Coal and Feed Company can supply you with high test seed, both white and yellow.

Virginia Halfpenny and Mammoth Yellow are the varieties of Soy Beans recommended for this section, and the Carlisle Coal and Feed Company can supply you with either of these popular varieties at somewhat cheaper price than if we had to buy them on the market today.

The experiment station has recommended Mill Feed and Tankage for growing pigs, and this method of feeding is proving successful for a great many local farmers who are using the Kentucky Mill Feed, one of the best permixed age of Tankage. This is a money making combination.

Mr. Frank Henry, popular salesman for the Carlisle Coal & Supply Company, is pleased at the prospect that Santa Carlisle will bring him appreciation of the nice orders and especially the repeat orders which they are giving him.

Here is the Tuxedo Limit Diet Menu:

Thirty-six hours after baby begin feeding Tuxedo starting mash. About the 7th day add Tuxedo Chick Grain. When six weeks old change from Tuxedo starter to Tuxedo Growing Mash and replace the Chick Grain with Tuxedo Developer. Under this method you should have 95 two pound broilers, at eight weeks, out of every 100 baby chicks.

BARTERVILLE

The Barterville High School will come to its conclusion Friday night, May 13. When the plays, "That Rascal Dick," a very amusing play, and "The Road to the City," will be given. The latter play has a great moral, particularly suitable to those who may be discontented with the advantages given in the country. Unless the next two weeks prove otherwise, Miss Thelma Hollar and Babe Greene, will be promoted to the Junior year with honors. Erma Dotson to the sophomore with honors. The others who will be promoted will be announced later.

Neville Browning's room closed last Friday with a box supper. The rainy south prevented some from passing their grades, but most of the pupils passed, and due to Mr. Browning's perseverance and persistence in requiring his pupils to do their work, Neville Browning made lasting friends. Neither he or Miss Ogden were applicants for the school, again. Each desires to thank the pupils, the community and the patrons for their kindness and their cooperation. The Barterville school has been fortunate for their cooperation. With all good wishes—we leave you to our most worthy successors wherever they may be.

Miss Anna Laura Dotson and Mr. Leslie McVey are anxiously waiting the time if they successfully passed the 8th grade examination.

Miss Ida Bruce Hamm, who has been working in Winchester, returned home Sunday.

Word has been received here by relatives, that Hugh Alexander, formerly of this county, now of Oklahoma, is married again. His friends of this community and of Nicholas county tender their very best wishes for his future success and happiness.

The storm Friday afternoon hit this community a rather severe jolt by blowing down fences, sumbers of trees, twisting barns, blowing out windows, aside from the serious damage received by some of the ladies. One lady got a free ride a few feet flew without wings, but received no damage other than the shock. When we think of the flood sufferers, the loss of life and of property sustained in the flood area, we are almost ashamed to mention our little storm Friday. We should be sending relief. Each community should send its quota to those brave, suffering people.

The health of our community is good, no one being ill except Aunt Sallie Dotson, who remains about the same. Hester Miller, her nurse, is looking and feeling much better at present.

A play will be given at the Barterville high school Friday night, May 13. Admission 25 and 15 cents.

MYERS

Goodbye, peach pie, is the cry, since the frosts of April 24 and 25. The tobacco crop this season in this section will be unusually light. Not much effort, not much interest, and not much plant beds were warrant the statement.

A successful operation, surgical, was performed last week on the very young baby of Mr. Stanley Cameron, in a Cincinnati hospital, in an effort to prevent what threatened to be a serious handicap to the proper development of the little one's mouth. The child means a record in growing well, so far away from its parents.

Mrs. Willie Kimes, of Butler, visited her father, Thomas Scranton, last week. His son, Clarence Cameron and wife, also called on Sunday.

Mr. Willie Marion Clay, our genial mail carrier has time for a degree graduation, University of Kentucky, spent the week end with home folks at Myers.

The storm of last Friday did much damage to the W. D.
