Recently a widow came to the office of the Better Business Bureau. Her husband had left her thousands of shares of the stock of oil wells and gold mines. For seven years before his death he had been buying them, thinking to make his family rich. Almost to the day of his death he bought, hoping by a last fling to get back something of his losses. The widow showed the stock—handsomely engraved paper, all worthless—the tragic estate of a foolish man.

A small part of this money invested in a good life insurance policy would have left this widow a larger estate than the average man is able to accumulate in a life time.

Poultry Owners War On Disease

Between 100,000 and 150,000 purebred chickens in 25 Kentucky counties will be tested for bacillary white diarrhea this year, according to Dr. T. P. Polk, extension veterinarian for the College of Agriculture.

This disease, which has become a real menace to the poultry industry, has been spread widely and rapidly through eggs from diseased birds and through the purchase of baby chicks. More than one-fifth of the 20,000 chickens tested in the state last year were found to have this disease.

At meetings of poultry owners, Doctor Polk endeavors to acquaint them with the cause of the disease, its symptoms, and sanitary measures necessary for its control. Demonstrations are given in collecting blood for tests. The blood test is similar to the typhoid fever test for people.

THE CARLISLE MERCURY

VOLUME LX. ESTABLISHED 1867 CARLISLE NICHOLAS COUNTY, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1927 PUBLISHED THURSDAYS NUMBER 37

WILL OFFER NEW POOL CONTRACT

Association to Start Drive For New Members In Short Time

SEVEN YEAR CONTRACT

Directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association in regular monthly meeting at Lexington last week ordered that the new contract be submitted to the growers of the burley tobacco belt, including the states of Kentucky, Indiana, Tennessee and West Virginia, as soon as it can be printed and directed the organization of a campaign organization throughout the district.

There will be no paid workers in this campaign, it being the sentiment of the directors and of President James Graves, that as the association is an organization formed in the interest of the tobacco growers themselves it should be in minor and the local organizations of voluntary workers will submit the contract to the growers.

The contract is almost identical with that under which the association was organized in 1921. The only change in the terms of the sale, are that the contract is for seven years instead of five, and that it calls for a minimum of 75 cents to 85 per cent of the production of the first three years, and in the next year, the tobacco is to be sold at auction and the grower paid the full price of six tobacco's less warehousing expense, on the day of sale.

It also was made clear that the association will handle tobacco if the contract is not signed by November 15, for members or non-members at the same charge for warehousing. It was said that members were expected naturally to deliver to pool warehouses, as they own them, but they are not under no obligation to do so and can sell their tobacco, if the pool is not signed by November 15, wherever they please and in any way they please.

The association, however, will use the contract, undertaken to sell over its own floors the tobacco of its members and to pay them on the day of sale, if the required 75 per cent is not signed. If it is signed the contract marketing policy can be followed as it was the first five years of the association's existence, but the new contract gives the association the power to sell tobacco in any way it deems desirable.

Pool members who sell over their own floors possess one advantage over the outsider, in that they share, through the pool, in whatever profits may result from the conduct of the properties they own as loose leaf warehouses, which will be the method of handling the tobacco if the pool should not be signed.

BARKLEY MAKES PREDICTION

Senator Barkley said: "This government must provide legislation so the farmers will obtain relief. Nobody every obtained anything he obtained relief through the government at one time or other and the time has come to aid the farmers."

HENS EAT TOBACCO

Patch of Howard Allison Ruined By Fence Pulling Stalks

The first instance of chickens destroying tobacco ever reported to The Mercury was told Tuesday by Howard D. Allison, of the Saltwell section. Mr. Allison said a considerable patch of tobacco adjoining the yard of his home was destroyed by his hens before he discovered what was causing the damage.

The tobacco was large enough to cut, Mr. Allison said. The hens picked the stalks, from the ground up as high as they could reach, apparently after the suji in the stalk, injuring them so by fly that the stalks all fell over. The entire patch was ruined, Mr. Allison said.

This is the first time chickens ever, bothered his tobacco, Mr. Allison said. The hens apparently suffered no ill results from the nicotine spree.

Canning Plant On Capacity Schedule

Factory Opens Wednesday on Full Time Basis For First Time This Season

The Carlisle tomato canning plant opened Wednesday on a full time schedule for the first time this season, and C. M. Lanter, the manager of the plant, said it would continue to operate daily during the remainder of the season in all probability.

Although several runs have been made, the tomatoes have not been brought in fast enough to keep the plant operating on a full schedule. About 100 people will be employed at the plant during the season, Mr. Lanter said.

The tomato crop is about a month late this year, and due to the backward season the yield will be light. The following jurors have been summoned for service at the September term of court, which will convene on Monday, September 26:

Poolers To Hold Election Saturday

Association Members To Select Delegates To District Meeting To Be Held Monday

Members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association will hold an election at the courthouse Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, September 17, between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock to elect delegates to the district convention, which will be held next Monday, September19.

There are twice as many candidates for delegates as can be elected, and every grower has been mailed an official ballot on which he can declare his choice. If he desires he may write in the name of any one for whom he may want to vote, if the name is not on the ballot, but only the official ballots can be used.

A supply of ballots also will be in the hands of the election officers in this event that growers who vote in person have lost their ballots. Growers may vote by mail, if they wish, but if they do the ballots must be mailed to the election officers so that they will reach them not later than the day of the election. They have to be counted with the other ballots.

One hundred and nine thousand tobacco growers in the states of Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Tennessee, Missouri and Virginia have a right to participate in this election.

GIRL ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

A father's objection to his daughter's company is believed to have led Miss Myrtle Webb, 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. B. TWO BROTHERS KILLED

Companion Seriously Injured When Car Plunges Over Mountain

Two brothers were killed and a companion probably fatally injured when a Ford roadster in which they were riding Saturday afternoon toppled down a steep mountainside near Hazard, Perry county, and pinned the occupants beneath it.

The car which was driven by Jimmy Flannery was traveling along a narrow mountain road when it met a farm wagon and in trying to avoid striking the wagon he lost control of the machine.

Expressing the belief that better times are at hand for farmers, Dean Thomas P. Cooper, of the University of Kentucky, College of Agriculture, urges farm boys and girls to prepare about to enter college to consider the opportunities offered in agriculture.

Those who are hesitating to study agriculture because of present conditions need have no fear, he declares, for "agriculture is and will continue for many decades to be our greatest industry. Present conditions on the farm will change, and agriculture will be in a better relative position in the not distant future."

Agricultural training offers great opportunities to capable rural-minded young men and women, Dean Cooper declares. In the field of employment for agriculturally trained men and women is constantly widening, he says, and there is room for one of the many opportunities offered. Many aspects of transportation, manufacturing, marketing, banking, publishing, teaching, etc., are closely related to the farm and make use of agriculturally trained men."

Dean Cooper points out that rural leaders of the future must be men and women trained in the problems of the farm and its business. Such leadership, he declares, can use many agriculturally trained young men and women.
