

The Girl Who Came Back

By Jack Woodford

Copyright W. N. U. Service

For some time a week Lottie had been sitting at her desk in the office of the American Legion, waiting for the return of the girl who had disappeared from the building of the Western bank last night. She had been told by the manager of the bank that she would be coming back in a few days. She had been told that she had been kidnapped and taken to a place where she was being held. She had been told that she was being held in a place where she was being held. She had been told that she was being held in a place where she was being held.

YOU pay for first-class electric service and we will do our best to see that you get it. But we are not mind readers, so we have to depend upon you to tell us when the service is not entirely satisfactory.

It is the business of our service department to keep you satisfied and we want you to take full advantage of it. Perhaps you are not now getting the full value of your electric service. Maybe you are not using your electrical appliances in the most efficient and economical way.

Investigate Our Combination Rates

Electricity is ready to perform your heaviest household tasks at reasonable cost. For a few dollars a month you can be relieved of drudgery that makes home-keeping a burden for most women. Ask our service department to demonstrate various labor-saving appliances and explain our combination electric rates.

We will gladly teach you to read your own meter so you can see how much electricity you are using.

The Presidents Question Games

PREPARED BY THE NATIONAL AMERICAN COMMISSION OF THE AMERICAN LEGION

How Many Can You Answer?

Thirty million or more people will vote for President this year. Do you know who have been our Presidents, how they were elected, what they did, why they are the best remembered? These games are good for them, and good Americans. Young and old will enjoy and profit by them.

Game Number XIX

1. Who was President in 1801? 2. Who was President when New Mexico and Arizona became States? 3. Who was President when the Civil War broke out? 4. What five Presidents were assassinated? 5. Under what President was the African slave trade finally abolished? 6. Who was also "Scholarshipman President?"

Answers to the question in Game Number XIX will be found on another page.

Know Your Country's History and Its Presidents

You look like something that a kind of "ghost" has been haunting you for some time. You have twenty pounds lighter, your hair has turned gray, and you are a complete wreck of nervousness. You are a complete wreck of nervousness. You are a complete wreck of nervousness. You are a complete wreck of nervousness.

Any Telephone Worker will take your order for

It is a simple matter to have telephone service in your home. Any telephone company representative, however, will gladly explain about rates and accept your application.
