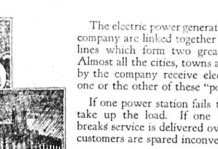
Why Interconnected Power Plants and Lines Assure You Good Service



No matter how bitterly the storm rages over mountain and valley, the lineman is on the job all the time, ready for emergencies day or night, a "key" man in keeping the power wires "hot."

The load dispatcher's desk is never unoccupied. Twenty-four hours a day there is an expert seated before it, his hand constantly on the electrical pulse of the power "pool," maintaining a steady flow of energy from generating stations to thousands of our customers.

This organization is now supplying electric service to 185 cities, towns and villages, from eleven large modern power plants, and transmitting the energy over approximately 1,600 miles of high tension lines. It has some 2,600 rural customers who use electricity to operate farm equipment, and 2,100 industrial customers (including 200 coal mines) who use electric power to operate vital machinery.

An abundance of cheap electric power for industrial purposes encourages prosperity and fosters progress.

The electric power generating stations of this company are linked together with transmission lines which form two great power "pools." Almost all the cities, towns and villages served by this company receive electric energy from one or the other of these "pools."

If one power station fails the other stations take up the load. If one transmission line breaks service is delivered over others. Thus customers are spared inconvenience and loss.

Before the formation of these large power "pools" a few years ago each city and big town had its own isolated electric power plant, with local distribution lines, which was not wholly dependable. When an isolated power station failed customers often were without service for several days at a time while repairs were being made. Small towns and villages did not have any electric service.

As improved electrical machinery and equipment is developed this company installs it. A thousand skilled employees concentrate their efforts on constant betterment of service, working to keep down production and transmission costs and passing on to customers the benefits of economies effected.

Our dependable, efficient electrical service is cutting the cost of industrial operation, reducing housekeeping drudgery in the home, providing great conveniences on the farm. And the average rate for service is lower than ever before.

VOLUME LXI ESTABLISHED 1867 CARLISLE NICHOLAS COUNTY, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1928 PUBLISHED THURSDAYS NUMBER 10

THE CARLISLE MERCURY

LEGISLATURE HAS ONE MORE WEEK

Every Industry Has Lobby Except Farmers Says McRohan

HOPEFUL FOR MUSEUM

Frankfort, Ky., March 5.—Dear Mercury: This has been a very busy week in both houses. On Tuesday the rules committee took charge and has been reporting out bills with a rush, the House passing on as many as seven or eight a day. One bill which passed the House that will help the farmer is aredaction of the state tax rate on live stock from 56 cents to 10 cents.

In desperation the free text book advocates have been searching for some method that would finance their scheme. As your readers know, the state highway bill, the pet measure of the Highway Commission, was tied up in committee for some weeks, but was voted out Thursday. Also a bill that met with the approval of the highway Commission is the one that will boost the gasoline tax, amounting to ninety million dollars per year, for a period of two years to finance the free textbooks. This was the same highway Commission that voted out on the floor of the House that any reduction in auto licenses would seriously interfere with their road program.

I am doing all in my power to get the bill pertaining to the Blue Lick museum out of committee. I have the promise of virtually every member of the committee to report it out this week. Dr. Laughlin, of Bracken county, Mr. Mann, of Fleming, J. D. Furlong, of Mason, Mac Swinford, of Harrison, and Will Ardery, of Bourbon, are assisting me. I have the promise of the support of John W. Milliken, the Speaker. The Herald-Post carried a very interesting article in regard to the museum and the Centennial Emperor will carry a more extensive article.

Maurice Galvin and Billy Klair are in evidence and a number of others equally as clever and persuasive.

Every industry and interest in Kentucky seems to have a lobby here excepting the largest and most essential industry in the state, the farmer. I am convinced that if the farmers would form county organizations like our County Agent has formed in Nicholas and cooperate with other farm organizations in the state and send down here for each meeting of the legislature real dirt formers to represent them it would be very beneficial to the entire state. Will McRohan.

RAILROADS PLAN FIGHT

Southern railroads, including the L & N will put the 5 per cent rate cut on coal in spite of the ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission to the contrary, it was announced in Lexington last week. The ruling will be fought out to the Supreme Court, if necessary.

FIVE-FOOT DRESSES

The bobbed-hair fashion has not influenced Mrs. Mason Dunn, of White's Station, Madison county, to part with what is perhaps the most remarkable suit of hair that adorns the head of any Kentucky woman. Mrs. Dunn's auburn tresses measure five feet and four inches in length. She is about five feet tall and when her hair is permitted to fall at her side it drags on the floor.

100,000 TREES READY

One hundred thousand two-year old tree seedlings for reforestation and watershed protection are awaiting spring shipment by the Kentucky Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, Frankfort, Kentucky. Species available are red and white oak, white ash, locust and black walnut. Prices range from five to ten dollars per thousand. Six thousand ash, maple, elm and hackberry are also ready for planting along highways and on school and other property. These trees are transplanted stock averaging from 4 to 6 feet in height and will be disposed of at 20c each, which price will about cover the cost of digging and packing. Persons desiring any of the above trees should apply for order blanks at an early date, as the demand is starting in strong this spring and will probably exceed the supply. Order blanks and planting information may be secured from the Kentucky Forest Service, Frankfort, Kentucky.

1928 Tax Rate Fixed At $1.00

Council Fixes Same Levy As Last Year—Let Purchased For Dump —Building Permit

At a meeting of the city council Monday night the city tax levy for 1928 was fixed at $1 on each $100 worth of taxable property, 75 cents of which will go to the general fund and 25 cents to the water works fund. This is the same rate as in force for several years.

J. B. Hamm was granted a permit to erect an addition to his garage on Elm street.

City Clerk S. C. Vaughn reported collections in the amount of $561 collected in February. Police Judge Henry Myers reported fines of $42.50 collected in February. Delinquent tax collector Joe Clay reported delinquent tax of $781.21 collected in February.

The council voted to purchase the lot on the overhead bridge from the Moorefield road from the county at a price of $200. The lot will be used as a city dump.

Telephone Co. Raises Rates

Telephone Service To Subscribers Here Boosted Approximately Thirty Per Cent

The new schedule of telephone rates went into effect March 1, the increase being about 30 per cent. The raise is effective only where there is a change in rates, and the exchange area, which extends two miles from the exchange.

Accompanying the bills was a statement from J. J. Veatch, of of Paris, district manager, as follows:

To our subscribers: During the month of February, 1927, this Company completed the installation of new central office equipment for Carlisle, which enabled us to well constructed, efficient, comprehensive telephone system, affording all telephone users a service of service, both local and long distance.

We will, as of March 1st, 1928, render bills for service in accordance with schedule of rates to become effective one year following installation of the new central office equipment.

We take this opportunity to thank you for your continued cooperation and patronage.

Two years ago the city council voted to allow the increase in rates over the schedule called for in the twenty cent franchise, the raise to be effective one year after a modern plant had been installed. The plant was completed last February.

The present franchise of the company expires in 1929 and the new schedule of rates will be in force until that time.

GOT YOURS YET

When motor cars numbered 17,000,000 in the United States it was believed that was close to the limit of demand. But this country started 1928 with 21,000,000 autos in actual use, and probably more will be made and sold during the remaining months of the year than ever before in a like period of time.

BUILDING ANNEX

The Lexington postoffice is being improved by the addition of an annex 30 by 80 feet being added to the rear of the building. This improvement has been needed for many years, as the quarters have been very badly crowded, it is said.

PITTS, FRAZIER ARE GIVEN LIFE

Man and Woman Charged With Murder of Child Escape Chair

TRIAL AT VANCEBURG

In the Lewis circuit court last Thursday, Mrs. Marie Frazier, 32, pleaded guilty to a charge of murder in connection with the death of 2-year-old Mary Magdalene Pitts, and accepted a life sentence after agreeing to help prosecute Robert H. Pitts, the child's father.

Mrs. Frazier, who was accused jointly with Pitts in the death of the child, made the plea against advice of her counsel. Her mother begged her to plead guilty in order to make sure she would not go to the electric chair.

The plea was made in the presence of the Judge only, all witnesses, court attaches and reporters having been sent from the room.

The prosecutor said that Mrs. Frazier first offered to plead guilty to manslaughter and accept a 21-year sentence but that he refused to agree insisting that she plead guilty to wilful murder.

During the arguments that followed the prosecutor's dictum the mother prayed aloud and begged her to accept the life term.

Judge Healy Myers pronounced the sentence.

Mrs. Frazier was convicted of the murder and the jury sentenced him to life imprisonment after deliberating for more than two hours.

Commonwealth Attorney Nichols demanded a life sentence for Pitts. The man admitted whipping his three year old daughter but denied striking her with a poker which caused her death.

ADMITS DEATH OF SONS

Father Confesses He Tricked Boys Into Jumping Into Canal

A father Sunday confessed to authorities at Indiana Harbor, Ind., that he caused the death of his two sons by tricking them into jumping into the Indiana Harbor ship canal on a promise that by so doing they would see their grandmother, who is dead.

George Chisholm, 36 years old, made the statement in identifying the bodies of two boys, 9 and 7 years old, found floating in the canal, as his sons. Chisholm said he planned to kill the boys and another son because he could not provide a home for them and believed they would be better off dead. He was held on charges of murder.

Life Sentence For Velma West

Young Hammer Slayer Pleads Guilty At Perry, Ohio, and Accepts Life In Prison

Mrs. Velma West, young bride of Perry, Ohio, Wednesday entered a plea of guilty to murder at Marysville, Ohio, to begin serving a life sentence for the slaying of her husband, Thomas Leonard West, son of a wealthy nurseryman.

Following a hasty trial on a charge of first degree murder when she entered a plea of guilty to second degree murder and accepted a life sentence. The 21-year-old girl was jubilant over the verdict.

It is alleged she struck her young husband in the head with a hammer when he objected to her attending a bridge party at the home of a girl friend. After beating him to death she attended the party and it was arrested the next day.

KEEPING HENS PAY

Average of 43 Eggs Per Day Laid By 20 Hens and 55 Pullets

Mrs. Matt Gaunce, of the Salt-well section, last week sent to The Mercury office a record of the number of eggs laid during the month of February by 20 hens and 55 pullets. The total number of eggs received during the 29 days was 1246, or an average of 43 per day.

In a note Mrs. Gaunce said this record will, perhaps, furnish some information to people who are in doubt as to whether hens properly cared for in winter time pay. Mrs. Gaunce says she has not had a sick hen or one with frosted comb.

The hens were fed a balanced ration and housed in model poultry houses.

Aged Man Kills Wife In Grant

Charles Shearer, 72, Chokes Wife To Death And Then Attempts To End Own Life

Charles Shearer, 72, was arrested at Walton, by Sheriff Utz, of Grant county, charged with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Shearer, who was found in their home, apparently choked to death. Sheriff Utz said Shearer admitted to him that he killed his wife but he gave no motive for the crime.

After choking his wife, Shearer slashed his own throat and wrists with a razor and was in a dazed condition on the floor of his home, when found by a neighbor. He was taken to a hospital in Covington, where it was said he will probably recover.

Dr. Morgan was driving the car. The party was enroute to Florida.

The new terms of the agreement the Dwight P. Robinson Company will construct a vehicular bridge and the Maysville Bridge Company a combination bridge. The two permits will be placed in escrow with the Central Trust Company at Cincinnati. A combination bridge will be built, the Dwight P. Robinson Company constructing the vehicular bridge and the Maysville Bridge Co. the other. A similar bill has been presented in the Senate and action on it will probably be taken this week.

WOULDN'T PROSECUTE

Case Against Chas. Everett Dismissed In Police Court.

When the case against Charles V. Everette, charged with grand larceny in taking jewelry and other things of value belonging to his wife Mrs. Lucy Davis Alexander Everette, was called for trial in the police court at Paris Thursday, a surprise was sprung.

Mrs. Everette appeared in court and through her attorneys announced that she would not prosecute the charges against her husband and that she would not testify. Police Judge Sutherland accordingly dismissed the case and Everette was released from custody.

MENACE TO INDUSTRY

With reference to the collection of the dog tax, Editor Harry Sommers, of the Hickman News, says: "The time has come when we must either abandon the sheep industry in order to raise worthless dogs free, or we must collect the dog tax on all dogs in order that sheep can be raised in the county with the assurance that if any of them are killed by dogs the owner will promptly pay for the same out of the dog fund which would be ample for the purpose."

No funds will be solicited at this meeting, but an organization will be formed to conduct the drive in the county. So far no effort has been made to collect any funds for this purpose.

A representative of the state committee was here Monday arranging for tre meeting. Present plans call for an intensive campaign for one or two days.

Every citizen of the county is invited to be present.

Senate Passes Judge's Bill

Measure Would Pay Presiding Officer $4.50 For Each Case—No Provision For Justices

The Senate last week made its first humonious progress toward the solution of Kentucky's inferior court problem by unanimously passing a bill which provides for county judge's salaries to be paid by fiscal courts.

The measure would pay county judges $4.50 for each criminal case whether the defendant is found guilty or not. The fee will be paid out of state funds. Judges would continue to receive fees from civil proceedings the same as under the present system.

The measure, drafted by a special committee after several futile attempts would make no provision for the financial relief of magistrates. The House will probably pass the bill as a measure of some nature if necessary.

The negro went into Mrs. Gardner's shop to make a purchase and while her back was turned struck her with a club, grabbed a pocket book and ran. Eighteen stitches were required to close the wounds.

HOME-GROWN THE BEST

It is best to sow seed which has been produced in Kentucky for several years and as a result adapted to conditions here, rather than to sow any foreign seed, no matter how highly recommended, according to information given out by the Agricultural Experiment Station.

R. L. Norton Sells Large Quantity Of Tobacco Seed

R. L. Norton has sold approximately three thousand ounces of all of various types of tobacco seed. Mr. Norton has shipped the seed to Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Missouri, Indiana and Tennessee.

This seed was raised on his farm in this county. In addition to the seed 27,300 pounds of tobacco were sold off the field on which the leaf was raised for an average of $36.93 per hundred pounds.

Many of the seed dealers have sold out, but Mr. Norton has a small quantity of this seed left.

Senate Passes "Ripper Bill"

Ten Democrats Join Republicans In Passing Bill Which Would Make Political Board

Dr. Milton Board's "ripper bill," designed to change the Public Board of Health from supervision of the Kentucky Medical Association to a politically appointed board, the Senate Tuesday by a vote of 21 to 15. Three republicans voted against the bill, while 10 Democrats joined the Republicans in passing the measure which had been rejected by the House last week by a small majority.

The whole purpose of the bill, it is said, is to rip out of office Dr. A. W. McCormack, who succeeded his father, the late Dr. J. N. McCormack, as chief of the board.

Politicians allege the measure was passed as a trade with Dr. Board for organizing Democrats to defeat Beckham in the November election.

It is said the measure will again be presented to the House.

Equipment For Hospital Bought

Supplies For Johnson Memorial Hospital Purchased And On Way To Carlisle

All of the equipment for the Johnson Memorial Hospital has been purchased and is on its way to Carlisle, according to Judge Paul G. Darnall. Sam T. Howe is in charge of the committee for purchasing the equipment.

The various church societies have turned over funds for furnishing five rooms in the hospital. Nearly half of the furniture in the hospital has been sold and the equipment purchased is of the latest hospital type.

A number of changes in the plumbing system was necessary. Engineers have about completed their work.

The committee in charge of the hospital has received a number of applications for the position of superintendent and will probably take action on the matter soon.

Funds are still needed for purchasing equipment for the operating room, the only department not completed.

McROHAN COMMENDED

State Medical Association Praises Local Representative

Dr. O. S. Kash last week received the following letter from Dr. A. T. McCormack, secretary of the Kentucky State Medical Association, which is self-explanatory:

Dear Dr. Kash: I hope you and Mrs. Kash, and every other friend we have in Nicholas county, will make Mr. McRohan feel the gratitude and love we all have for his fine support of the preferences in the proposed Ripper Legislation. He was one of the first to rally to the floor when they sprung their surprise attack, and he was responsible for getting out and getting our votes in a most effective manner. I wish very much you would get the local paper to write an editorial of gratitude for his work. He is so sincere and modest, himself, that his friends can do no less than appreciate.

Mrs. McCormack joins me in much love to you and Mrs. Kash.

Sincerely yours,
