It has been predicted that the industry of making electricity will be one of the most important of the future. The large variations of power--driven for sale in the state and even further south and west will not make in Kentucky.

SURE WAY TO STOP COUGHING

This Prescription Relieves Almost Instantly
Coughing is usually due to causes which cannot be reached and cough syrups do not reach. However, there is a famous doctor's prescription which reaches coughing with the very first swallow. It works on an entirely different theory, has a double action, relieves the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause.

Trade and Prosperity Follow the Highways

Hidden away in mountain and forest, Kentucky has unrivaled natural resources which will some day be unlocked for the benefit of its citizens. The key to this hidden wealth is highway transportation.

Durable paved highways make it easy for people to travel, which encourages trade. Travel brings new ideas--new wants. Industries follow trade, if transportation opens the way.

Paved roads will bring visitors into the state--people with money to spend. Thousands of people now drive from northern cities to the Kentucky Derby every year. Paved roads will make it easy and pleasant for them to visit other Kentucky cities, as well as Louisville.

Kentucky has built some wonderful concrete roads, but more are needed. The present average cost of this material is approximately $23,000 per mile for pavement only, while other paved roads--not so durable--have usually cost much more, and their maintenance costs have been two or three times that of concrete roads.

STATE LIBRARY SERVICE HAS SHOWN EXPANSION

The Kentucky state library, with 15,700 volumes of listed books and 1,100 volumes unlisted, has expanded its service to now available to every county of the state, according to a report submitted to Governor Finn P. Chagness by the office of J. B. Adams, state inspector and examiner.

Traveling stations have been established in each county, every five counties have less than five, and none have more than 25. The report states that a total of 126 libraries, consisting of 10 public and 116 school libraries, were in operation in Kentucky. This is an increase of 20, or 20 per cent, from the report submitted to Governor Finn P. Chagness by the office of J. B. Adams, state inspector and examiner.

Lightning!

Gathering clouds . . . Darkening skies . . . Then . . . a loud clap of thunder and sheets of torrential rain, amid vivid flashes of lightning.

Miles of exposed electric wires are in the storm area. Lightning strikes them. Yet, marvelously, electric service is uninterrupted. The lights of the city burn while the storm rages.

The electric light and power companies expect such contingencies and are prepared to overcome them. High-voltage lightning discharges that would burn out transformers and cripple unprotected lines are passed off harmlessly to the ground through intricately constructed lightning arresters.

These silent sentinels of public service are but one of the endless array of safeguards with which the electric light and power companies protect the flow of power which soon will bring to every family and community freedom from toil and drudgery.

Are you getting your share of the inestimable benefits electricity provides?
