EGG PRICES GOOD; GIVE PULLETS CARE

The fact that egg prices are moving upward, with indications for a profitable winter for poultry raisers, should cause special attention to be given to pullets, says "Poultry Pointers," issued by the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky.

Many poultry raisers bring their pullets in off the range when they are laying as much as 10 percent. The house should be cleaned, disinfected and all needed repairs made before the pullets are housed. Late hatched pullets should be housed by Nov. 1, even if not laying. Early hatches may start coids among pullets left out.

Care should be taken to avoid overcrowding. It is considered better to keep only the number of birds that can be comfortably housed. Even if they are apparently fat they should be fed a ration heavy in grain during the winter.

The feed wasted on one cull pullet will offset the profit from two good pullets. Cull the pullets when they are housed and send to market any late maturing, deformed or weak vitality ones. After they are housed, continue this culling process as pullets are often put in the house that should be culled out later.

DR. JAMESON'S WILL FOUND BY ACCIDENT

(Bourbon News)

The finding of an alleged will made by Dr. John W. Jameson, veterinary surgeon, who died in Paris in 1926, has reopened court proceedings in a contest which had occupied the attention of the courts at various times since the death of Dr. Jameson.

Shortly after the death of Dr. Jameson a will was filed for probate in which he deeded to his daughter, Mrs. Jane Jameson Bedford, his property and the furnishings therein. Walter Hedges, Jr., as guardian for Walter Hedges, 3rd, a son of the latter's sister, Dr. Jameson, filed suit to set the instrument aside claiming that the deed was consummated the day before Dr. Jameson died, and that at that time he was incompetent to make a will. A jury set the deed aside and the Court of Appeals affirmed the lower court.

The will just filed for probate bears date of November 16, 1924, and is said to be in the handwriting of the testator, and is as follows: "This is to all heirs concerned—I want it understood that my daughter, Jane Jameson Gregg, remains with and cares for me and her mother the balance of our lives. I give her this home for the care of us both.

"25-16-1924.

J. W. JAMESON."

STATE HEALTH BOARD IN WARNING OF TULAREMIA

Approach of the fall hunting season has brought a warning from the State Board of Health against tularaemia, or rabbit fever.

All hunters and persons handling rabbits on the market or the home are advised in the warning issued by the board to take special precaution against the disease. It is a germ disease, the letter says, and it is usually transmitted to human beings by handling or dressing rabbits.

In most cases," the warning says, "an infected sore develops at the point of infection which is often on the hand. One type of the disease resembles typhoid fever, and there may be no skin sore but enlarged lymph glands."

The laboratory of the State Board of Health and the Public Service Laboratories of Lexington are equipped to make examinations of blood of persons suspected of having the disease.

DO YOU WANT TO VOTE NEXT YEAR?

Voters who register as Democrats and boll but one primary election precinctions will not be eligible to take part in the primary election to be held next year, according to a decision from the attorney general's office. This ruling also applies to those who do not participate in the preconditial election, the opinion declares.

The ruling was quoted in a letter from Attorney General Hobson to which was addressed to Humphrey Marshall, Owensville, who had asked that certain questions be answered that were being asked by county committees.

A portion of the letter reads as follows: "He (Marshall, in addition to said qualifications, be a member of the party for whose nomination he intends to cast his vote, and shall have affiliated with said party and supported its principles and shall not be shall be deemed to have affiliated with the party in whose primary he seeks to cast his vote if he voted against the nominee of such party at the last general election." Thus, no one claiming to be a Democrat could vote the ticket this fall and fail to vote Governor Smith, and still be eligible to vote in the primary of 1929. This letter says. Luther, "in case the Democratic people should vote for the November election, 1928, he is not eligible to vote in the Democratic primary in 1929, because he did not 'affiliate' with the party at the last general election." The letter also says from that part of the statue that before he is eligible to vote in the primary he must "have affiliated" with said party and supported its principles." Another question upon which a ruling was asked was:

"When any can be taken by the officers of the election or challengers to keep a voter from voting in the primary who has failed to support the nominee or nominees of the Democratic party in November 1928?"

"The challenge at the primary election has the right, and it is his sworn duty, where a voter presents himself and seeks to vote in a primary, to have him sworn before allowing him to vote, and to require that he sign and swear to a blank affidavit, swearing that he supported the candidates or nominees of the Democratic party at the last general election, and if the voter refuses to subscribe and swear to such affidavit, it is the sworn duty of the officer of the election to refuse to allow him to vote."—Glasgow Times.

139 MINING COMPANIES FORCED OUT OF BUSINESS

One hundred and eight coal mining companies of the 180, which operated in the Big Sandy fields in 1925 have either gone into bankruptcy, into the hands of receivers or have discontinued entirely or suspended operations indefinitely within the last five years, due chiefly to the freight rates imposed by the Lake Cargo rate by the Interstate Commerce Commission, according to statistics published in the Lexington Herald.

In the Hazard field of Eastern Kentucky 31 coal companies have gone out of business since 1923, others have discontinued entirely or suspended operations indefinitely within the last five years, due chiefly to the freight rates imposed by the Lake Cargo rate by the Interstate Commerce Commission, according to statistics published in the Lexington Herald.

In the Hazard field of Eastern Kentucky 31 coal companies have gone out of business since 1923, others have discontinued entirely or suspended operations indefinitely within the last five years, due chiefly to the freight rates in the past 15 years.

The prices of steam coal, the coal which is shipped to the Great Lakes for sale into the Northwest for use in factories, has fallen to an almost unbelievable depth. There have been cases in which steam coal has sold for only a small part of what it cost to dig it out of the mines.

NUNNELLY'S INTOLERANCE

The Williamstown News has the following to say of an address delivered last week at Williamstown by Capt. Brent O. Nunnelly, who spoke here Tuesday in the interest of the Republican ticket:

"Captain Nunnelly's speech consisted largely of a denunciation of the Catholic religion. From information given the News he is, or was, a member of the Ku Klux Klan, an organization that is almost extinct in Grant county. Just why he should have made the religion of the Democratic standard bearer his chief theme no one seems to know. If he had been coached to make a Ku Klux Klan speech he could not have done better than he did along that line.

"Many persons of both parties who went to hear him, hoping to hear the 'Real Issues' of the day expounded from a Republican standpoint, were disappointed. Many left in disgust when they found that the only thing that the Captain seemed to care anything about was hatred of the Catholic church.

"Grant county citizens are liberal in their views, as relates to both religion and politics and most of them are sick and tired of hearing the subject on the matter. The wavering Democrats fell in line the third day hearing the speech of the doughty Captain. "Many Democrats expressed their resentment that such a speech should be made here. It is extremely difficult to understand when it is realized that not more than two per cent of the people are members of the Catholic faith.

"Many Democrats expressed themselves as being satisfied that the address of Capt. Nunnelly left them in much better shape than they were before the address was made. Several letters of the Democrats who had been counted on by the Republicans to help reduce the Democratic majority in the county, joined on Smith bulons after the speaking.

"They say if Captain Nunnelly could be prevailed on to speak in every precinct in Grant county it would go for Smith by at least 1,000."

HARRISON AGENT MAY LOSE POST

At the meeting of the Harrison Fiscal Court the magistrates failed to appropriate money for the services of a County Agricultural Agent, deferring the action until the November meeting. The court has been appropriating $1,-600 a year for salary, $210 for office rent and subscribing for a telephone for the agent for the past two years. The motions were made by magistrates, both for a reduction of the present salary. One of the motions was for $1,200 and one for $1,410. Neither received a second and the matter was dropped.

R. O. Wilson, former County Agent of Union county, has been the agent here since the office was created by the magistrates two years ago. While agent for Union county, Mr. Wilson had the distinction of being the first county agent in the United States to rid his county of scrub sires. He is a graduate of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

MOTHER AND SON DEATH VICTIMS

Mrs. Eliza Burris and Son, Ray, Succumb With Three Hours Of Each Other

DOUBLE FUNERAL HELD

Mrs. Eliza Rice Burris and her son, Sidney Rice Burris, prominent residents of the Little Rock section in Bourbon county, died within three hours of each other at the Burris family home near Little Rock early Thursday morning. Funeral services for mother and son came as a shock to the community.

Mrs. Burris and her son had been in declining health for several months. Mr. Burris' death was caused by the infirmities of age and her son's from heart disease.

Mrs. Burris was the widow of the late Thomas J. Burris, prominent Bourbon county farmer, who died in 1909. She was born Eliza Rice, also a native of Nicholas county, being the daughter of the late Sidney and Josephine Rice. She has numerous relatives in this county. Mrs. Burris is survived by one sister, Mrs. Ella Rice Bonar, who is the only survivor of a family of seven children. She lives at Little Rock. Burris, of Little Rock. She was one of the most beloved women of her community, a devout Christian, and highly esteemed and respected by all who knew her.

Sanford Ray Burris was born near Little Rock on August 10, 1878, and for many years was extensively engaged in the livestock industry and farming. Although he had been in ill health for several months, he was able to get around the farm and partially attend to his business. He suffered a stroke of paralysis more than a year ago and with heart trouble had been a sufferer for some time. Shock of his mother's death is thought to have hastened his death. Mr. Burris is survived by his widow, Mrs. Julia Elliott Burris, and an only daughter, Miss Edith Burris.

Double funeral services were held for the mother and son Friday afternoon in the North Middletown cemetery, Rev. Frank M. Trader, pastor of the North Middletown Christian Church, officiating.

$1700 LOOT TAKEN AT BARLOW STORE

Men's Suits, Overcoats, Women's Dresses, Jewelry Taken Friday Morning

THIEVES MAKE ESCAPE

Merchandise valued at from $1500 to $1700 was stolen by thieves who entered the store of B. T. Barlow & Son, Headquarters at an early hour last Friday morning. The thieves made their escape without leaving any clue to their identity.

The articles stolen included from 40 to 50 men's suits, 10 to 12 men's overcoats, 35 to 50 women's dresses, 12 sweaters, seven sheep lined men's coats in large numbers, ladies' neckties, some jewelry, watches and other small articles.

Most of the goods stolen had just been received at the store and unpacked for the fall and winter trade.

Entrance to the store was gained by making a screen door open at the side entrance of the store. Entrance to the store from the rear was effected by forcing goods department were made by forcing open the doors. The door leading to the upstairs department was unlocked.

Mr. Barlow believes the thieves were frightened away by his appearance on the front porch of his home nearby about 3 o'clock in the morning. He stated that the latter he heard a high powered machine pass his home and that Harlow frequently awakens during the night and walks to the front porch a little dog accompanied him and it is believed that his barks frightened the burglars. The window blinds in the front of the store were found open by the thieves.

Mr. Barlow is of the opinion that the theft was committed by a band of four or five men. About 2 o'clock last Thursday night a large machine, occupied by four or five men, was seen standing on a road near the store.

Within the past few weeks, Mr. Barlow said, numerous stores have stopped at his store, and the occupants have inquired about work in the community. He is of the opinion that some of these persons familiarized themselves with the store.

Mr. Barlow's store is one of the largest country merchandise stores in this section of the state, the largest two-story building being crowded with all kinds of merchandise, valued at several thousand dollars.

Authorities in all nearby towns and Kentucky cities were notified and Mr. Barlow has offered a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of any of the persons connected with the robbery.

Congressman Johnson is known as one of the most brilliant orators of the South and has been greeted by tremendous audiences everywhere he has spoken.

Sheriff L. B. Barton, chairman of the Nicholas County Democratic Campaign Committee, received word from Mr. Johnson's office that he would be glad to speak in Carlisle Saturday night. Mr. Johnson is a member of the seventy-second congress and is expected to produce about 72,-370,000 bushels compared with 76,010,000 bushels last year and a five-year average annual production of 69,042,000 bushels in 1922-26.

The window blinds in the front of the store were found open by the thieves.

Mr. Barlow is of the opinion that the theft was committed by a band of four or five men. About 2 o'clock last Thursday night a large machine, occupied by four or five men, was seen standing on a road near the store.

Within the past few weeks, Mr. Barlow said, numerous stores have stopped at his store, and the occupants have inquired about work in the community. He is of the opinion that some of these persons familiarized themselves with the store.

Mr. Barlow's store is one of the largest country merchandise stores in this section of the state, the largest two-story building being crowded with all kinds of merchandise, valued at several thousand dollars.

Authorities in all nearby towns and Kentucky cities were notified and Mr. Barlow has offered a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of any of the persons connected with the robbery.

GOVERNOR SMITH'S CREED

Summary From Gov. Smith's Letter To Charles C. Marshall

I summarize my creed as an American Catholic.

I believe in the worship of God according to the faith and practice of the Roman Catholic Church.

I recognize no power in the institutions of my Church to interfere with the operations of the Constitution of the United States or the enforcement of the law of the land.

I believe in absolute freedom of conscience for all men and in the equality of all churches, all sects, and all beliefs before the law as a matter of right and not as a matter of favor.

I believe in the absolute separation of Church and State and in the strict enforcement of the provisions of the Constitution that Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.

I believe that no tribunal of any church has any power to make any decree having the force of law in the land, other than to establish the duties of its own communicants within his own church.

I believe in the support of the public schools by all the constituencies of American liberty.

I believe in the right of every parent to choose whether his child shall be educated in the public school or in a religious school supported by the taxes of his own faith.

I believe in the principle of noninterference by this country in the internal affairs of other nations and that we should stand steadfastly against any such interference by whomsoever it may be urged.

And I believe in the spirit of brotherhood of man under the common fatherhood of God.

In this spirit I, as an American citizen of all creeds in a fervent prayer to Almighty God, do pledge myself with any opponent to the challenge and defiance of religious prejudice that has tried to make liberty impossible in this land.

NICHOLAS QUOTA FOR CRIPPLES $750

I. B. Ross, Chairman, Asks Workers To Complete Drive This Week

WILL CANVASS COUNTY

I have just learned that the quota for Nicholas county in the drive for funds for the Kentucky Crippled Children's Commission is $750 instead of $350 as was first reported to us.

This is quite a bit more than I thought we at first thought we were working for. However, there have been appointed thirty-seven Vice-Chairmen in the county, who have been given sections and will solicit in each section of the state, the largest two-story building being crowded with all kinds of merchandise, valued at several thousand dollars.

Authorities in all nearby towns and Kentucky cities were notified and Mr. Barlow has offered a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of any of the persons connected with the robbery.
