Some of the "essentials" of life on which we will have to pay higher prices resulting from a tariff are such things as nitrate of soda, nitrate of soda, rubber seed, nux vomica, sarsaparilla, Indian hemp, gentian, ipecac pure ipecac, violins made before 1800, fishing tackle, sloughgrass, asbestos and a few "indispensable" articles as generally used as these enumerated.

AN AMAZING DOCUMENT

(Anderson News)

Is there no limit to the insolence of office seekers? Here is a letter from a facial revelations of attempts by power organizations to propagandize public schools, buy newspapers and bribe Congress.

Now a referendum has been made public in Washington, which, if authentic, shows a power company official advising his associates generally to follow the procedure outlined with protecting the people in dealing with this power companies must be principal.

The Federal Power Commission, in policing power rights, has been acting under a law which provides that the government may recapture the power sites after 50 years, by paying the actual cost of development.

Thus the government must keep a check on expenditures from year to year or so, an accounting force has been organized under William Y. King.

King apparently forces the power companies to report under a system of accounting which they call the "Red Book" would require them to set aside retirement funds out of earnings, thereby lessening paper profits, lowering indicated stock values and hampering manipulation. Also King requires the "management" insurance, which runs large numbers of smaller companies, to tell just what they do for the charges they make.

Both of these requirements, of course, are in the public interest, and that it would, if carried out faithfully prevent watering of stock and evasion with the companies charge the public.

So this power company memorandum suggests they bring pressure on the commission to change the new accounting standards, and that the accounting check be started among the power, interior and agriculture departments.

The Federal Trade Commission of Congress should investigate this amazing document at once.

JOHN A. WESTFALL DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Popular County Clerk Expires At Lexington Hospital After Long Illness

FUNERAL HERE TODAY

John A Westfall, County Clerk of Nicholas county, died at 11 o'clock Monday night at the Good Samaritan hospital in Lexington following an illness of several months. Mr. Westfall had been ill for a year or more. About a month ago he was taken to the Lexington hospital for treatment and was thought to be on the road to recovery from illness when he developed pneumonia. Relatives were notified and were at his bedside when the end came.

John Anderson Westfall was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Elias Westfall, and was born in this county on December 15, 1889. He was a farmer by occupation and was married to Miss Ollie Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Purcell Fridley.

He was one of the most popular officials ever elected in Nicholas county. Always courteous and accommodating and courteous in his duties, he would have no doubt been honored with this office as long as he cared to fill it.

Mr. Westfall is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hollie Wood of Carlisle, two brothers, Nick, George and Dan Westfall, of Nicholas county, two sisters, Mrs. Fall and Thomas Westfall, of Fayette county, one sister, Mrs. Will Plummer, of Winchester.

Services will be held at the grave in the Carlisle cemetery Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. B. O. Beck, of Danville, Ky., former pastor of the Carlisle Methodist church. The Masonic fraternities and the American Legion will assist in the services.

The active pallbearers will be Howard, Ed Bramblett, Ben Bramblett, Claude Fridley, Ben Fridley, Jr., Ben Fridley, Sr., and Dr. Collins. The honorary pallbearers will be Judge Paul D. Darnall, Democratic nominee for re-election as County Judge of Nicholas county, is one of the best known men in Nicholas county.

Judge Darnall is the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Darnall, for many years a leading business man in Carlisle, and Mrs. Mollie Darnall. He was born and reared in Carlisle. Following his graduation from the Carlisle high school, he attended the University of Kentucky for two years, finishing his course in engineering at the University of Iowa. After this Mr. Darnall was employed as civil engineer for railroads and other construction work in Nicholas, California and Mexico.

Mr. Darnall returned home and engaged in the real estate business and later was connected with local tobacco warehouses. He served four years as county road engineer and put the road department of the county on a business basis. During his term of office the engineer much of the state highway of the county was built and other roads constructed.

While serving as road engineer Mr. Darnall was chosen by the Democratic county committee as nominee for County Judge following the death of Judge A. B. Tilton, who had been nominated for re-election. When he assumed the office of County Judge he continued as head of the road department without extra pay, affording a saving of several hundred dollars per year to the county. In addition to his duties as presiding officer of the county courts, Judge Darnall spends considerable time on the roads and is in charge of the entire county highway department.

Judge Darnall served as a member of the Carlisle city council for several years and was Mayor of Carlisle for four years. He is a member of the Presbyterian church and an officer in the church. He is Past Master of Dougherty Lodge No. 61, F. & A. M. and Past Eminent Commander of Carlisle Commandery No. 18, Knights Templar. He is also secretary of the Lexington Shrine Temple.

Judge Darnall is a director in the Carlisle Deposit Bank, member of the executive committee of the Carlisle Cemetery Company and has been one of the directors of the Nicholas county fair held here annually. He has taken an active interest in all civic movements.

Judge Darnall has made one of the best presiding officers of the courts Nicholas county has ever had and his extensive knowledge of road construction eminently fits him for re-election to the office he seeks.

CITY SCHOOL OPENS WITH 412 STUDENTS

County High Schools Cause Slight Decrease In High School Enrollment

LARGE SENIOR CLASS

The Carlisle city schools opened Monday morning with a total enrollment of 412 pupils, a decrease of 12 from the number enrolled on the opening day last year. The decreased enrollment was in the high school.

An interesting program was given, Prof. Plaxico, H. B. Hume, chairman of the board of education, and members of the faculty making short talks.

A total of 244 pupils were enrolled in the grades, as follows: First grade, 41; second grade, 33; third grade, 36; fourth grade, 36; fifth grade, 29; sixth grade, 37; seventh grade, 27; eighth grade, 23.

168 students enrolled in the high school, as follows:

Seniors, 41; Juniors, 41; Sophomores, 34; Freshmen, 24. This is the largest Senior class to matriculate in the Carlisle high school in many years. The small decrease in the enrollment for this year, Monday, is due to the many county high schools recently established and to the fact that a small eighth grade was graduated.

Miss Anna Conley, graduate of the Carlisle high school and of Bowling Green Business University, has been added as a member of the faculty. Miss Conley will be secretary to Prof. Plaxico and will also be the instructor in typewriting and shorthand. The remainder of the faculty were given in last week's issue.

TOBACCO AND CORN ARE CUT BY DROUTH

Dry Weather Expected To Bring Yield Of Leaf Much Smaller Than Year's Figure In Burley Belt

With most of the leaf in the burley belt cut and housed, indications point to a yield much smaller than the 1928 crop of 425,000,000 pounds, compared to a 275,000,000-pound crop this year. However, the recent drought is expected to reduce the poundage greatly.

Not only is the weight of this year's crop reduced by the drought, but the quality, in some instances, is also impaired, it is reported by buyers who have been touring the Blue Grass during the past few weeks. In many sections, the lack of rains caused the plants to become pinched and short, with the result that many crops will be short-leaved and coarse.

Despite the loss in production and the drop in quality, however, sales factory prices are predicted for the 1929 crop. When tobacco is sold short of expectations because of floods which drowned out many plants, the supply in the manufacturers' storehouses is reduced and when the new crop is ready for sale, with the result that prices last year advanced, the demand is greater and prices are better than 2 cents a pound.

This year's losses result in prediction. Manufacturers are short more than 100,000,000 pounds of their operating needs, and it is believed that this shortage will cause prices to remain at a profitable level throughout the sales season, which will begin the early part of December.

Mrs. W. T. Fairbairn, of Evanston, Ill., found in the street three diamond rings worth $2,500 that she had dropped four days before.

HOME TALENT PLAY HERE SEPT 12-13

"Aunt Lucia," Screaming Farce, To Be Given For Benefit Of Hospital

TICKETS NOW ON SALE

On Thursday and Friday nights, Sept. 12th and 13th, the famous play "Aunt Lucia" will be given by the High School Auditorium, under the auspices of the Carlisle Hospital Association. It promises to be one of the most delightful plays ever staged in this community and has a cast of over one hundred local people. It is a burlesque comedy of American College life and has a number of clever specialty spots. This show has been staged in Kentucky towns before with hundreds of organizations and has been a tremendous success wherever given. Everyone who has seen the show declares it to one of the funniest to miss it. The show is a story of the adventures of Mr. Bliss, a wealthy Duke College and is an aunt to one of the girls, Betty Watkins, played by Grimes Carwood, one of the college boys, with the help of his fraternity mates, George and Dick, played by Willis Davis and Jerry Watkins, the latter dresses himself as an old lady, for the entertainment of his fellow students. While dressed in this outfit he was mistaken by Prof. Claddis, played by E. L. Ross and Howard, played by Mrs. J. B. McElfish as the two have gone to Jacksonville, Florida, and they immediately introduce him to the college president as the real Lucia Wakefield and try to marry her to the college president, to satisfy Auntie, when in reality he is only Jerry Watkins.

Around this character playing the part of the fake Aunt Lucia, all the fun and comical situations of the play are developed. When Auntie arrives at home together and are married, only after the Professor finds that Lucia Wakefield was only a man. In the meantime the real Lucia Wakefield, Florida, wires the necessary amount of money for the building of the college stadium and Jerry, who has been the fake Lucia, gets the girl, who has stepped out with the College Prexy. Besides these characters, there are two college girls, Frances Hughes and Dick, Betsy and Molly, played by Mabel Collins and Mrs. A. R. Fisher, Jerry's girl, Ethelyn Wycoff, is Minerva Lambert. Also, there is the College President, Dr. Seamore, played by Judge Darnall and Mrs. Seamore, played by Mrs. Frank Reynolds, who all add to the dignity of the cast. The two freshman comedy parts, played by Woodson Knight and Aylette Martin are also very good. Other parts will be announced later.

1928 DEATH RATE HIGHEST IN YEARS

Annual Report Of Board Of Health Gives Statistics For Past Year

FIGURES FOR NICHOLAS

The State Board of Health has issued a bulletin giving the preliminary report of deaths for 1928, and the birth and death rate for the past five years. The following summary of the report is given:

The total number of deaths in 1928 was higher than for any year since 1920, although the death rate was considerably below that for 1924, due to increase in population. Coincident with the high death rate is the lowest record in the State since the Bureau was organized in 1911.

It is not always possible to account for marked fluctuations in birth and death rates from one year to another, but pneumonia and under ordinary circumstances, influenza, are the chief causes embracing an entire State.

With increase in the death rate, there facts are outstanding, however, the death rate for the controllable communicable diseases, such as Tuberculosis, Typhoid Fever, Scarlet Fever, Whooping Cough, Malaria, remains as continue to decrease, and the larger number of deaths are from those causes not commonly known as preventative with the methods of modern medicine, and the high death rate from heart disease, coincident with the Influenza epidemic which was widespread during the fall and winter of 1928. Cancer, Heart Disease, Nephritis and other kidney diseases are the principal diseases responsible for the increased rate, and these may be expected to increase as larger numbers of children and youths that have had the advantage of modern public health education and supervision reach the period when these diseases usually manifest themselves.

There is no reasonable way to account for the abrupt drop in the death rate. It was apparent by July 1st that the death rate of births being reported monthly was very much below that of 1927 years, and the State Registrar wrote all Local Registrars, physicians and midwives, calling their attention to the fact and urging their co-operation in securing prompt and complete birth reports in order that the following dated fewer births were actually occurring, and this was borne out by returns from adjoining states that a similar situation prevailed.

There was a total of 30,274 deaths recorded for the year. The rate per thousand, based on a population of 2,253,000 is 11.8, which is still slightly above the average for the registration area of the U. S., which is now embracing forty-four states. The rate for whites is 10.8 and for colored, 21.7.

The eleven cities of the State that have shown a death rate substantially above that for the State as a whole did not have an excessive rate of increase as the State, showing that the increased number of deaths occurred in the small towns and rural communities, and the real Louis Wakefield is under one year of age as compared with 2,804 in 1927. This, with the low-est mortality rate from Typhoid Fever, fact mortality rate from 62.3 in 1927 to 49.5. The rate for whites showed an equality with the rural areas in consequence of the higher rate for colored. This, however, is no more than a normal fluctuation and can always be controlled by the activities of Full Time Health Departments.

Mrs. Holman Lynam Burned By Falling Embers; Narrow Escape

NEIGHBOR SAVES LIVES

Mrs. Holman Lynam suffered painful burns on the arm and she and her three small children narrowly escaped with their lives when their home on Jackson's Jackstown road in the Taylor's Creek section was destroyed by fire Monday morning. All of the contents of the building were burned.

Mr. Lynam was in town at the time of the fire. Mrs. Lynam was in the kitchen of her home and was unaware that the building was on fire until Robert Wilson, a neighbor, saw smoke coming from the roof of the house and ran to it. When Mr. Wilson reached the home Mrs. Lynam had built a small room to the main building. Mrs. Lynam, in leaving the building, was struck on the arm by falling embers.

The wind was blowing away from the part of the building where Mrs. Lynam was working and she was unaware that the building was on fire until it was burning. The blaze originated in the roof.

Mrs. Lynam carried $500 insurance on the house, with no insurance on the contents.
