NICHOLAS COUNTY HEALTH UNIT URGED BY SPEAKER

doctors and immunize children and adults," the speaker said. "But that will be too late; already little children will have given up their lives to the disease."

Death of a child from such preventable diseases as smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid, scarlet fever and other diseases is little short of a crime, Mr. Snyder said, when it might be able to prevent all of these diseases. He urged parents to have children inoculated against contagious diseases. Some of the principal duties of a full-time county health unit is to advise parents in the health habits of their children and the prevention of epidemics. Mr. Snyder's address was received with enthusiasm here, and already several leading citizens have started a movement looking toward the establishment of a health unit.

Mr. Snyder's lecture was presented as part of a nation-wide health campaign sponsored by the American Public Health Association and the Milbank Memorial Fund to promote public and individual health.

A full-time health unit consists of a physician, a sanitary engineer and a nurse. Mr. Snyder said, and every county in Kentucky could afford a unit. A part of the expense is paid by the Rockefeller Foundation and a part by the federal Government, leaving the counties only a small portion. Many Kentucky counties already have full-time health units, he said.

DOLLAR BOUGHT MORE IN JUNE THAN IN '26

The dollar bought more in June than it did three years ago.

The Bureau of Labor statistics announced Friday the purchasing power of the dollar was 103.7 as compared with 100 in 1926.

It purchased less meat, butter and cheese in June than it did three years ago, the bureau said, but in other foods it represented 113.9 in purchasing power as compared with 1926.

Beef operations in this country are now 95 per cent of capacity.

AGED COUPLE SLAIN IN HOME IN KNOX

Wealthy Old People Found Dead In Home Near Barbourville; Robbery Believed Motive

James Carum, 78, retired farmer, and his wife, Mary, aged 68, were found slain in their home at Artemus, near Barbourville, Knox county, Monday.

Neighbors noticed a door standing open and on entering found the bodies of the aged couple lying on the floor. They had been beaten with an ax and handle, choked and each shot through the head.

Robbery is supposed to have been the motive as Carum was reported to have kept several thousand dollars at his home.

The crime is supposed to have been committed by two or more persons and police said they are working on the theory persons closely acquainted with the couple and their habits.

Everything in the six-room house was found undisturbed, police reported, so tell whether any money was taken. Carum owned several hundred acres near Artemus and resided in that village. The couple lived alone and had no children.

Three persons were arrested Monday and held without bail in jail in connection with the double murder. The persons arrested were Mrs. Mary Reed, of Corbin; Dewey Bird, 35, of Barbourville, and Ben Anderson, 25, of Corbin. All denied the crime.

FIRE RATE CASE FINALLY CLOSED

A decree has been entered in federal court at Louisville by Judge A. M. J. Cochran settling the 12½ per cent fire insurance rate case that has been in controversy for three years and which has been before the courts twice.

Under the decree and in accordance with the agreement, the first insurance rate reduction ordered by the Kentucky Conference, Monday, and an additional reduction of 12½ per cent will be made by the Kentucky Conference, M. E. Church, South, to hold the annual session in Carlisle in 1930. The invitation will be extended to the conference by Rev. Jones at the meeting in Winchester in September.

Two weeks before a vote of the conference was taken on the question of extending the invitation, Rev. Jones' congregation voted almost unanimously to extend the invitation. Later officers of the church made a canvass of the Sunday school membership, and an almost unanimous vote for the conference was given.

The conference would bring approximately 300 ministers and laymen here for several days, and members of their churches have expressed a willingness to entertain some of the delegates. The conference was held in Carlisle in 1909.

SCHOOL TEACHER IN WAYNE ASSAULTED

Three Drunken Youths Drive Pupils From Building, Assault Teacher, Escape, Join Hills

Three youths eluded a posse of Wayne county officers and citizens Monday afternoon and are believed to have escaped into the hills of Tennessee after criminally assaulting a 19-year-old school teacher at the Slick Rock school in Wayne county.

The three youths sought are Buford Abbott, 24, Otto Abbott, 18, and Sam Abbott, 20. The two latter are brothers and Buford was arrested several years ago to hone convicts when they were worked on the county roads. The loss on building and contents is placed at $10,000, which is partly covered by insurance.

An attempt was made to assassinate the President of Austria.

Mrs. W. B. Wasson Had Best Answers Last Week

A TOAST

Spokes in the wheels of progress
That move the world along—
Are liars to the few
Trying something new
To boost the old home-town!

Second choice went to Miss Frances Sugg, Carlisle. Miss Sugg's paper was neat and showed originality in design. Each of the three entries submitted by Mrs. Wasson, Mrs. Campbell and Miss Sugg in the Slogan Contest has been correct.

Other papers were well done, but contained one or more mistakes. The most beautiful flpenscrian script the Mercury has received in months was marred by the downfall of most. As usual papers were used in which words that were not misspelled.

Of the seven papers, that of Mrs. W. B. Wasson, Sharpsburg, Route 3, was the unanimous choice of the judges for first prize. Mrs. Wasson's paper consisted of two sheets, with the names of the firms advertising on each sheet and the word correctly spelled at the end of each spoke. At the bottom was this verse:

Only seven succeeded in spelling all the words correctly this week. The entries slumped also. Whether they were frightened by the big words or were correctly spelled in one or two advertisements and gave up, not reading that the misspelled words were simple words after all, is hard to say. Anyhow, entries were scarce, (40) but papers were much neater than they have been so far.

The word, "distant," in the advertisement of the Carlisle Drug & Supply Company was a stumbling block for many. Distant means "decreasing." Several corrected the word, "aprise," to "advise." The correct way to spell it as "apprise," in Father Henry's advertisement. Another word was "prescribe." Others slogged at the word, "labour," in the Bourbon Hatchery advertisement, missing the real word, "satisfactorily," which was misspelled. Word Editor has seen it misspelled "labour." But the word, "perifere," being a synonym of "periphery," was the downfall of most. As usual, there were many misspelled words that were not misspelled.

CARLISLE CHURCH INVITES MEETING

Local M. E. Church, South, Extends Invitation To Conference To Meet Here In 1930

At the Methodist church Sunday morning, Rev. Jones, pastor of the church, announced that the local church would extend an invitation to the Kentucky Conference, M. E. Church, South, to hold the annual session in Carlisle in 1930. The invitation will be extended to the conference by Rev. Jones at the meeting in Winchester in September.

Two weeks before a vote of the congregation was taken on the question of extending the conference. The congregation voted almost unanimously to extend the invitation. Later officers of the church made a canvass of the Sunday school membership, and an almost unanimous vote for the conference was given.

The conference would bring approximately 300 ministers and laymen here for several days, and members of their churches have expressed a willingness to entertain some of the delegates. The conference was held in Carlisle in 1909.

SCHOOL TEACHER IN WAYNE ASSAULTED

Three Drunken Youths Drive Pupils From Building, Assault Teacher, Escape, Join Hills

Three youths eluded a posse of Wayne county officers and citizens Monday afternoon and are believed to have escaped into the hills of Tennessee after criminally assaulting a 19-year-old school teacher at the Slick Rock school in Wayne county.

The three youths sought are Buford Abbott, 24, Otto Abbott, 18, and Sam Abbott, 20. The two latter are brothers and Buford was arrested several years ago to hone convicts when they were worked on the county roads. The loss on building and contents is placed at $10,000, which is partly covered by insurance.

An attempt was made to assassinate the President of Austria.

Mrs. W. B. Wasson Had Best Answers Last Week

A TOAST

Spokes in the wheels of progress
That move the world along—
Are liars to the few
Trying something new
To boost the old home-town!

Second choice went to Miss Frances Sugg, Carlisle. Miss Sugg's paper was neat and showed originality in design. Each of the three entries submitted by Mrs. Wasson, Mrs. Campbell and Miss Sugg in the Slogan Contest has been correct.

Other papers were well done, but contained one or more mistakes. The most beautiful flpenscrian script the Mercury has received in months was marred by the downfall of most. As usual papers were used in which words that were not misspelled.

Of the seven papers, that of Mrs. W. B. Wasson, Sharpsburg, Route 3, was the unanimous choice of the judges for first prize. Mrs. Wasson's paper consisted of two sheets, with the names of the firms advertising on each spoke and the word correctly spelled at the end of each spoke. At the bottom was this verse:

Mrs. Wasson had a perfect paper, but was too much for her, Mrs. Alex Schanlau, of Chicago, has sued her husband for divorce. They had not
