FORMER NICHOLAS BOY AWARDED MEDAL FOR WORK

The following article appeared in last week's issue of the Corydon, Ind., Republican, and will be of interest to relatives and friends here of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Sparks, of Crandall, Ind., formerly of this county:

Common barberry, the outlaw shrub which spreads the destructive black stem rust on wheat has been discovered in Harrison county by Richard Sparks, 14 years old, a student in the seventh grade of the Crandall school.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Sparks, of Crandall. He studied the barberry and the damage which it causes to wheat in school under the direction of the teacher, Otis Pouts.

Then the boy made a search near his home and found three large planted barberry bushes and many wild ones grown on the farm of J. Rollins Wagoner, farmer by C. H. Shellman, tenant. The farm lies one-fourth mile south of Crandall.

The bushes were reported by Richard to the teacher, Otis Pouts, who informed the County Agent R. E. Johnson. Mr. Johnson sent the report to W. E. Lee, State Leader of Barberry Eradication in Indiana. Mr. Lee was so favorably impressed with the work done by Richard Sparks that he recommended him for the Service Medal offered by the Rust Prevention Association and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This medal was awarded on May 1.

The common barberry is a shrub or bush which spreads the dreaded black stem rust of wheat and other small grains. One bush in Decatur county in one year alone caused a damage to the wheat crop in that vicinity of $50,000. The United States Department of Agriculture is waging a campaign in thirteen of the wheat-growing states for the destruction in this pest of the wheat grower. In Indiana the agents work in cooperation with Purdue University.

LIKES HIS LITTLE TOWN

Editor Joe Richardson, of the Glasgow Times, thus glorifies his home town. There is much to think over in what he says:

"Strange to say, The Times doesn't want Glasgow to even grow into a large city. For this we may be charged with selfishness. But we believe the most delightful cities on earth today, the finest places in which to live, are the smaller, or medium cities where all residents depend on common ground of association and acquaintance. This is fine living, fine atmosphere, and breeds a fine citizenship. And this very condition holds down selfishness, trickery and the ever-lasting pursuit of wealth the extreme of the fellow who isn't intimately known to you.

"Here homes increased more than five inches in average height between 1700 and 1800.

CHASING THE RAINBOW

(Shelby News)

The lure of fabulous wealth has a strong appeal to the average human being. Take the case of the stylized "Edwards Estate" with its promise to "heirs" of individual returns ranging from a quarter to a half million of dollars from old Eighteenth Century land grants in the heart of New York City. A few years ago the Federated Edwards Heirs Association was formed with branches in almost every city in the United States, including Shelbyville. The promise was made that the seven billions of dollars would be recovered from those now holding Manhattan real estate. Shelbyville and the county responded among the lawful heirs. Dr. Herbert E. Brown, of Lakeland, Ohio, promoted the organization and collected $20.00 each from more than 2,000 s. t. h. heirs to a fund to prosecute the claim against the Wall Street barons. Unfortunately for the Doctor, none of his alleged "heirs" smelled a mouse" when the number of heirs kept mounting higher and higher and laid the whole scheme before the Postoffice Department at Washington. Early last week the genial "Doc" was given a term of three and a half years in the Atlanta Penitentiary for using the mails to defraud following his trial in the Federal Court at Cleveland.

To Make This Community

28 Business Men Of Carlisle Paid A Tax Bill of $15,801.20

THIS MONEY GOES to maintain schools, to build and light streets, to officer and police the town—in a word to make the town of Carlisle a community of happy homes.

HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT of the fact that the home town merchant constitutes the basis of community and county prosperity? Without him, this would be a poor place to live. He devotes his time and money to provide a home town market where you may come to do your buying and selling. His taxes are the life-blood of the community. Without him there would be no town government, no street lights, no schools.

WOULD A REASONABLE MAN living in any town, or in the county in which that town is located, knowingly and willingly contribute to the ruin of the business men whose taxes maintain his town? That is biting the hand that feeds you, isn't it? It is, in effect, killing the goose that lays the golden egg. You will answer: "No, a reasonable man would not do that." But he will and does in every town, in every county.

HOW DOES HE GO ABOUT THIS strangling of the home town merchant? How does he strike a vicious blow at the very foundation of his community life, yes and of his own home? By his increasing patronage of the mail order house; through buying from house to house canvassers, solicitors, agents, no one of which pays a cent of taxes to maintain town or county.

TAXES OF THE HOME MERCHANT remain the same or increase from year to year. He goes on paying his share and more to send your children to school, to light your streets and police them, to build your roads, to make a happy home life for each and every one of us. And you slowly strangle the financial life out of this man through your patronage of the "fly by night" solicitor, the mail order house, neither of which pays a cent of taxes or gives a tinker's dam for the welfare of your community.

THINK IT OVER. $15,801.40 paid by 28 merchants of Carlisle to maintain your town, your county, your roads and schools and churches—your community life! This is only a fraction of the amount contributed by home business men to help maintain the community, but it will serve as an example, and should serve as a warning to the man who is unthinkingly biting the hand that feeds him.

ALWAYS IT IS THE HOME TOWN MERCHANT who rejoices with you when times are good—stands by you when times are hard. He is your friend and wants to give you a full dollar's worth for every dollar you spend with him. In addition to this he gives a portion of this dollar back to the community in taxes every year. Strangle the financial life out of this man and you have undermined the foundation of community welfare.

Our Interest In The Welfare Of This Community Prompts Us To Sponsor This Message To The People Of Carlisle And Vicinity.
