

Here is ENERGY

A man's command of energy has always had a great deal to do with his well-being. The energy of his own muscles, the energy of animals—and finally the energy brought to him over the electric power lines—these he has commanded in increasing the amount of work he may do.

Most flexible and efficient of this electric power, is versatile, it is inexpensive, and it is delivered wherever it is needed, whenever it is required, and in great or small quantities as the user may desire.

This company's transmission lines serve the communities of a wide area with simple, economical and flexible supply of electric energy for farm, factory and home.

SUGGESTS POLYVALENT DISEASE CONTROL

Due to the growing commercialization of poultry raising, the disease control of poultry has become a very important factor. The author suggests a polyvalent disease control system that would be effective against a wide range of diseases. This system would involve the use of a single vaccine that would protect against multiple diseases, thereby reducing the cost and complexity of disease control for poultry raisers.
