Here is what they are saying:

One lady said "I bought a sack of White Rose at Sexton's for a dollar. It is the finest I ever used." I want to say it was so good I went back and bought a barrel."

An old customer said, "When I found I could buy White Rose for a dollar I had Tilton send me four sacks and I believe you are making it better than ever. My daughter is making the finest biscuits I ever saw."

Metcalfe says, "I have some new customers on White Rose who have always used a certain other brand." Quality and price have brought them around.

Here's a funny one. A barbour said: "I use White Rose flour all the time and it's fool proof. The only way I could have better biscuit would be to have a good wife to make 'em."

J. A. Barlow says he appreciates the effort we are making to furnish a home product at a reasonable price.

One lady sent us some home-made light bread and said "This is made of your White Rose flour." She wasn't ashamed of it and neither were we.

A local physician says "Since I have learned your process of flour making I am satisfied it is the most healthful flour on the market and have recommended the use of White Rose to several of my patients."

These are all true testimonials. If you are using White Rose flour, made in your own town from wheat grown in your own county, with the same manufacturing cost distributed among home people, and if you like it, we would like to know it. If you haven't tried it yet, just hand a dollar bill to any local merchant and specify White Rose.

FAILING VISION GREAT-ER DISASTER TODAY THAN FORMERLY

The present day development of Arts and Sciences and Modern Industry compels man to use his eyes much more universally and exactingly than did his ancestors. Eye-work is more and more important.

The result of such a condition is two-fold. It means that the human eye is subjected to much greater strain than formerly and, at the same time, that the satisfactory performance of its functions is more essential to human success and happiness.

Failing vision spells even greater disaster to the individual of today than it did one hundred, or even fifty, years ago.

The New Ford
Its Value Exceeds The Price You Pay
These are the days when every dollar counts. The period of reckless spending is over. People are going back to the good old-fashioned principles of thrift and economy. Value is again being carefully considered. On the basis of cost, performance and the actual comparative worth of every part, the new Ford is a value far above the price you pay. It is made of better materials and with greater care and accuracy because of the re-cognized efficiency and economy of Ford manufacturing methods.

VACATION

(T. Morris Longacre)

Now here's a vacation idea that clicks. And time to watch the gliding of the hours. Or

Listen to the trees silence, and simple light,
The ardent cure for heavy and troubled lowers
And the free crowded hour. Today shall reap
Time's fabulous close, and with the falling sun
Fresh gifts store home, the memory may keep
One perfect fortnight from oblivion.

A silled moon seeks harbor in the west,
The orchard is breathed alone the grass.
The drifting fireflies signal as they pass—
Another with peace tonight and be at rest.

Tomorrow, the distraction and the din
But now God's leisure and a sun to spend.

"Uncle Cole" 91 Years Old

—Hon. Coleman S. Templeman, well-known Democratic politician of this section as "Uncle Cole," celebrated his ninety-first birthday anniversary Saturday at his home near Moorefield. Mr. Templeman is the son of the late Felix and Margaret Ratliff Templeman, pioneer residents of Nicholas county. His wife, who survives him, Miss Adams, died six years ago. Although becoming feeble and almost blind, Mr. Templeman retains his mental faculties and is able to get around his home.

Mr. Templeman's son, Samuel Templeman, of Goshen, Ala., was present for the celebration of his birthday anniversary. Other guests at the dinner given in honor of the celebration of the occasion were, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Templeman and son, Ben Hellman, Mrs. Fannie Soper, Mrs. Kate Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Grover and Dr. and Mrs. L. K. Branger.

Mr. Templeman has been an elder in the Moorefield Christian church for many years and has the distinction of organizing more Sunday schools in this and adjoining counties, than any other man. He represented the district in the state legislature and has been prominent in farming and civic enterprises.

RELIGIOUS

METHODIST CHURCH

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

S. H. Cumming, Minister.

Services, Sunday May 18th. "The Largest Gift, Given by a Poor Widow" is the sermon subject for the morning hour. Let's unitedly exalt the worship and church money that is offered. You can have no greater joy that your contribution should be one that will be over his name at the sermon. The beautiful new order of worship will be used last Sunday and will be used again this Sunday and each Sunday in the one-hour limit. Come and share with us in these good things.

7:03 p. m. is the hour of evening worship and it is the desire of the pastor to preach a sermon to men on "Do We Know There Is A God?" What is your answer to? Come and hear this message and strengthen your faith. If folk cannot come this kind of message we will preach others in the series as follows: How Do We Know That the Bible is the Word of God? How Do We Know That Jesus is the Son of God? How Do We Know that We Are the Children Of God? How Do We Know that We Shall Live Forever? Invite some one to tell us if you want to hear the rest. The Ordinance of Christian Baptism by Immersion will be administered at the close of the evening service to a special music. Welcome for all.

9:30 a. m. is the hour for the Bible school, with a class for all ages which gives you an opportunity for Bible study taught by consecrated teachers who have had their time and talent freely for your sake. Come and share in it.

6:30 p. m. the Sr. C. E. Society will meet in the Junior church room. This service is for young people and all children. Children please don't forget Sunday evening and other announcements for tonight.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 a new study will be given on the book of "The
