Clerks Held Responsible For Keys To Ballot Boxes

County Clerks who lose keys to the new ballot boxes are liable on their official bond to the county for any damage it may suffer as a result, James M. Gilbert, Assistant Attorney General Monday ruled in a formal opinion to W. B. O'Connell, chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

The opinion was given in response to an inquiry from Mr. O'Connell stating that Miss Hattie Pigman, County Court Clerk of Knott County, had informed him that she had misplaced the keys to the ballot boxes of that county and had inquired what course to pursue in finding other keys.

Mr. Gilbert said that Miss Pigman must make an affidavit to the State Board of Election Commissioners of the loss, and that the board, if it considers the affidavit sufficient, will then authorize the contractor to furnish the necessary keys.

Can Make Wine And Beer At Home But Not To Sell

The citizen who manufactures wine or beer in the home for home consumption, with no sales involved, was declared legitimate by Prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodcock to be beyond the reach of federal enforcement.

As a matter of law, Woodcock explained in his first pronouncement on this point, the home manufacturer is within the law so long as the liquor he produces is intoxicating in fact. This, he said, is a point for the jury to decide.

Practically speaking, however, he continued, evidence to bring the home manufacturer to trial cannot be obtained unless additional features are involved upon which a search warrant can be issued.

Woodcock said a citizen can transport wine manufactured in his own home and for home consumption, providing that it is not "intoxicating in fact," and that no commercial law violations are involved. He said nothing about it being advisable for a citizen to transport beer.

Clark Men Accused Of Intimidating Witness

Cecil Puckett, brother of Brooks Puckett, who was given a sentence of 21 years in the Clark circuit court on a charge of killing William Goff, was arrested Sunday afternoon as the third of a trio of men who were indicted on charges of intimidating a witness. The men are Joe Fox Palmer and Bishert Charles, all of Clark county. The men are charged with having prevented Gay Gatewood, a negro, from testifying in circuit court against Brooks Puckett, who is alleged to have shot and wounded Gatewood at the time he killed Goff.

BARKLEY ATTACKS ROBSION'S RECORD

Charges Republican Candidate Failed As Friend Of Labor, Soldiers, Farmer

500 ATTEND LUNCHEON

Approximately five hundred leading Democrats from all sections of the State attended a luncheon given in the ball room of the Phoenix hotel in Lexington Thursday by Governor Ruby A. Wallis, of Bourbon county, and Senator Thomas A. Combs, of Lexington.

The meeting was probably the greatest political gathering of its kind ever held in the state, the purpose of the party men present for the meeting and apparently all factional lines have been wiped out as party is more solidly united than it has been for many years.

The speakers at the luncheon were Senator Albert W. Barkley; Judge M. M. Logan, nominee for the long term in the United States Senate; Ben Williamson, nominee for short term, Charles Fennell, chairman of the state campaign; Hon. H. K. Boone, chairman of the Kentucky Women's Democratic Club; Judge Ben L. Hardin, chairman of the Democratic state central and executive committee; former Senator Thomas A. Combs, Frederick A. Wallis, former United States district attorney; Congressman; Attorney General J. W. Gaugnack; Mrs. Cecil Cantrill, president of the Fayette County Democratic women's club; Mrs. Robert Rhea O'Brien; Virgil Chapman, nominee for Congress from the Seventh district, and Mrs. Elsie N. Schiff, of Fort Thomas, former Postmaster at Cincinnati.

Senator Barkley was the principal speaker, and his address was largely the record of John M. Robsion, Republican nominee for Senate.

Ridding the Republican nominee's self-established platform and campaign promises, Senator Barkley flatly denied Senator Robsion's claim that he had been the author of the distribution of $2,000,000 in federal aid in the eastern part of the state during the flood of 1927, and also denied that either Senator Robsion or the present congressman from the district had procured the $2,000,000 United States veterans' hospital to be located in Fayette county.

Ridiculing the fight which Senator Robsion is making against "Raskob and Taxlessness," Senator Barkley asserted that "whatever answer Mr. Raskob may have to make for his actions, it is not within the province of Senator Robsen to demand an answer, when the chairman of the Republican party has had to answer to a charge that he used a donation of $36,000 for his own private use. It is not within the province of Senator Robsen to demand an answer from Joe Palmer and Bishert Charles, all of Clark county. The men are charged with having prevented Gay Gatewood, a negro, from testifying in circuit court against Brooks Puckett, who is alleged to have shot and wounded Gatewood at the time he killed Goff.

Senator Robsen tells Fayette county that he and Congressman Blackburn located the United States veterans' hospital at Lexington, when I know that in May, 1928, largely through the efforts of Virgil Chapman, the bill was passed authorizing the construction of the hospital in Kentucky, and again remember when, on January 12, 1929, the hospital was located in Fayette county, before Blackburn took the oath of office.

Senator Robsen claims to have secured $2,000,000 in federal aid for eastern Kentucky during the 1927 flood, when it was I who introduced an amendment to the bill to bring that section of the state relief, as the records will show."

CLOTHING, MONEY SENT

Former Carlisle Residents Contribute For Indigent Children

In response to an appeal of The Mercury for clothing for indigent children of the county, Mrs. P. H. Van Bibber, of Duncan, Arizona, last week sent to this office a box of children's clothing, which has been turned over to Judge Paul D. Dartnall for distribution among children. The box contained a lot of clothing for a boy. Mrs. Van Bibber before her marriage was Miss Ella Stamp, of Carlisle.

Another former resident sent a check for $25 to be used for the purchase of clothing for indigent children. The check was received by Judge Dartnall from Miss Charles F. Holderman, of Detroit, Mich. Miss Holderman was formerly Miss Madge Mann, of Carlisle.

Several articles of clothing were have donated clothing, but with the approach of cold weather the need for clothing is becoming great and articles of any nature will be glad- ly received.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL THIS WEEK

Annual Campaign For Membership Being Made In County To Relieve Distress

For the first time in several years, an active Red Cross Roll Call campaign is being waged in Carlisle and Nicholas county. Although only a number of citizens here have paid their membership dues, the local chapter has been kept alive by Mrs. Robert Rhea O'Brien, chairman of the Nicholasville district, for the annual conference for an orphans' home. The Kentucky Conference, in session in Carlisle recently, approved of the offer and the action of the Nicholasville Conference made it definite that the orphanage would be moved to Nicholasville from Louisville.

The offer carries with it values to the community of $40,000. Mrs. Hare is to get an annuity during her lifetime in exchange for the property.

Rabbits Heavier Clothed Predict Severe Winter

The rabbit and his kinsman, the possum, the coon and the foxes, have always acted as the most reliable of weather prognosticators in Kentucky. This year, so say the believers in the rabbit and his tribe, the rabbits and other furred animals are giving every warning man that a hard winter is in the offing.

The animals' fur is heavier, the rabbits are all lastly preparing to emerge from their holes on these crisp, frosty mornings, and they sniff the air as if trying to detect the first trace of the snow which they know to be soon coming.

Old inhabitants of the county say that when the fur on the rabbit and the 'possum is heavier than usual a long and cold winter is in store.

ANNUAL MEETING AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. M. J. White, Of Maysleik, Conducting Series Of Meetings Here Today Only

Rev. M. J. White, of Maysleik, is conducting a series of meetings at the Baptist church, this being their annual revival. The hours for service are 2:30 and 7 p. m. The revival will not run beyond October 13. Much will depend on the interest manifested. Members of the church and the friends of the church are urged to be present on every opportunity of listening to Gospel messages from able preachers. Let us go and we want to see every one that we can possibly see at these services. All are cordially invited to worship with us. The older people who cannot get to the church call the Pastor, phone 230, and if possible to do so each one will be provided conveyance to and from church. This is our joyful privilege to serve those who cannot go. We want more children in the Junior choir for the evening services.—W. M. White.

WOMEN ORGANIZED

Enthusiastic Response Reported By Mrs. Robert R. Vaughan, Of Glasgow, Women's Chairman

MRS. ROBERT R VAUGHAN
Mrs. Robert R. Vaughan of Glasgow, Kentucky, State Chairman of the Democratic Women's Organization of Kentucky, in that records show that never before in the state has interest been received from the Democratic women of the state in so much every instance, the first name mentioned was accepted her appointment and replied with such enthusiasm and such reports of work already started, that it is the confident belief of Judge M. M. Logan, Ben Williamson and the Democratic Congressional nominees.

It is impossible to attach enough importance to the part the women of the counties of Kentucky are going to have in this coming November election," Mrs. Vaughan said. "If the same two hundred thousand Democratic women voters in Kentucky turn out and vote as is now confidently expected that they will do, the results will be most gratifying."

DRASTIC MEASURES TO CONSERVE WATER

Council Orders Closing of Public Toilets And Restricts Use Of Water For Other Purposes

At the regular monthly meeting of the city council Monday night, the most drastic steps yet taken were adopted for the conservation of the water in the water works lake.

Superintendent Joe Clay reported that the water is rapidly diminishing and only an extremely limited supply remains and it will be necessary to cut off the water unless there is rain. The city has had talked—with a number of large consumers, acting upon directions of the water works committee, and the slowing down of operations were made, which were approved by the council. Today the public toilets at the court house and the park will be closed. The washing of the showers in the city school; the filling of the city pool and the sprinkling off water of any person found washing automobiles or sprinkling; limiting the supply of water for Burnett's laundry to use for boiler fuel, the only water to be taken from cisterns or wells; limiting the supply of water to the Carlisle Bottling Works to water used in beverages only, washing water to be taken from other sources."

The street committee reported that it had received a request for the water mains on North Sycamore street.

The Farmers Bank, city treasurer, reported the balance of $728.23 in the general fund, $688.34 in the water works fund and $804.44 in the water works sinking fund. Police Judge Hardy Myers reported fines to the amount of $10 collected during September and $10 in delinquent taxes during September.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK IN KENTUCKY

All Citizens Called Upon To Inspect Premises And Take Precautions To Prevent Fire

This week has been designated as "fire prevention week" throughout the United States.

With fires being started in furnaces, heating stoves and grates for the first time, the danger from fire is especially great. Before a fire is started the pipes should all be inspected to see that they are in good condition; the chimneys should be cleaned out and all rubbish removed and other precautions taken.

Throughout the year a large amount of paper and other useless articles are allowed to accumulate in attics and basements and these articles provide a fire hazard. The electric wiring should be inspected occasionally to see that insulation has not worn off.

Fire prevention week is especially important this year, because of the shortage of water, because a major fire would now only use up a large part of the surplus water from the lake, but might get beyond the efforts of the fire department.
