Growers Of Tobacco Are Warned By Stone

In a radio speech James S. Stone, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, told tobacco and cotton planters, now about to do their spring planting, that care is the time to prevent unprofitable surpluses.

"Producers of most types of tobacco," said, "are facing a serious ruin before the present season is over. This is especially true of burley tobacco growers. The report of intentions to plant recently made public by the Department of Agriculture indicates that the acreage of burley tobacco will be increased about 15 per cent over that grown last year. If these intentions are carried out, it will mean a crop of not less than 430,000,000 pounds when, the annual consumption of burley tobacco is seven-tenths less than 200,000,000 pounds. Such an increase in acreage may mean a much larger crop, because the estimate is based on a declining average yield, rather than the normal one.

"Notwithstanding the drought, the 1929 burley crop was far in excess of quantity of that tobacco used, with the result that it is estimated that stocks at the beginning of the next marketing season, October 1, 1931, will be fully 60,000,000 pounds greater than last year.

"In other words, in two years it looks now as if production will be some 200,000,000 pounds in excess of consumption. This is likely to mean ruinously low prices for the crop for burley tobacco.

"Growers have it in their own power to change this gloomy outlook. This can be done by reducing acreage in the next season to the extent that by that amount as is reported to be our need.

Trench Silos Are Found Satisfactory Past Winter

Trench silos, tried in Kentucky for the first time last winter, were found a satisfactory way of storing corn, according to an investigation made by Earl G. Welch of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

At the suggestion of County Agent H. C. Brown, six Fulton county farmers last fall dug silos, making them in the form of trenches 10 to 12 feet wide, 60 to 100 feet long and 6 to 8 feet deep. They were made on level sides and open ditches or tiles used to drain the low corners of the pits.

Digging the trenches and filling them with silage cost an average of about 75 cents a ton for labor. They held from 25 to 100 tons.

Delay In Immunizing Hogs May Be Costly

The objection of many farmers to delaying the vaccination of pigs against hog cholera on account of fear cross infection from their sows will not until the hogs are full grown before spring farrowing, says Dr. J. R. White of the division of hog cholera control, Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture. In sections where hog cholera is not now prevalent year after year, Doctor White advises delaying treatment as the only safe method of protection. In those localities the immunizing of the herd should be a regular practice just as castrating, dehorning, and other common livestock operations. "As in the case of any investment, the larger and healthier early in the life of the animal, it is preferable to immunize early.

In experimental tests and under field conditions pigs a few days old have been immunized against hog cholera with success. Generally, however, opinion seems to favor immunizing pigs when they are weaned after weaning. Even at that period, when the pigs may weigh from 20 to 40 pounds, the amounts of serum and virus necessary to confer immunity are much less than for grown hogs. The cost is correspondingly lower, a fact that is very important in some cases only a third of the serum necessary to treat a full-grown hog. Also the veterinarian finds it easier to handle young pigs. He also finds the loss is small compared with that of a larger hog.

MAY DAY PROGRAM AT SCHOOL FRIDAY

Approximately 100 Children To Be Given Blue Ribbons On Child Health Day

TO PRESENT PROGRAM

May Day is designated as National Child Health Day, and is so celebrated throughout the United States as the day of the culmination of the health program during the school children of our country. This day proclaimed as May 1st has for its goal a nation of strong, happy and healthy children. Everything that is reprehensible habits of right living and to concentrate the thought of the people upon such a program.

The Carlisle city school each year is endeavoring in every possible way in cooperation with the parents to emphasize the desire of its pupils for a wholesome physical, mental and spiritual growth. Accordingly, Friday, May 1st, is being observed with a program in the high school auditorium starting at 1:30 p. m. This program presented in 4 parts and will be associated with youth, flowers and music, games and the Maypole Dance is stressed in this program. Also at this time the health certificates of Kentucky Blue Ribbons to children who have attained the five point health standards as laid down by the Kentucky Bureau of Maternal and Child Health. These standards are:

1. Normal weight for height and age.
2. Good posture.
3. Normal teeth or defects corrected.
4. Normal throat, or defects corrected.
5. Normal vision, or defects corrected.

In addition to the above five points the following are required:

1. Small-pox vaccination.
2. Diphtheria immunization under ten years of age.
3. Certificate of passing grade in school.

Much time has been spent by both parents and teachers in the preparation of these May Day exercises. It is felt that there is no more important activity in which the school can engage than the continual emphasis on the rules of good health. The public is cordially invited to this program in which grade children in beautiful costumes, with their dances, song and speech will strive to present the ideal of health and happiness.

The program of these May Day exercises consists of a musical-fantasy-comedy entitled "The Good Health Way and the Queen of May."

The characters are as follows:

Queen of the Fairies, Tantrum, Mother Calory and his Caloric Army, Children of the Sun.

Mother Tantrum, Mother and Father Tantrum, Miss Meanie and Miss Crosspatch.

The order of the program is as follows:

Queen's Procession

Springtime Chorus and pageant by First and Second grades

Springtime Chorus

Dance of Vitamines

Dancing and singing by Children of the Sun

Drill of Caloric Army

Dancing by Fairies and attendants

Maypole Dance

Presentation of Kentucky Blue Ribbons to blue ribbon children

Approximately 100 children will be given Blue Ribbons and the names of the children receiving ribbons will be published next week.

Beckham To Lead Gilbert Campaign For Governor

W. T. Beckham, of Louisville, has been appointed Chairman of the state campaign organization of Judge Ralph Gilbert, of Shelbyville, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Governor. Headquarters have been opened in room 1525 Inter-Southern Building, Louisville.

In accepting the Chairmanship, Mr. Beckham stated that Judge Gilbert will continue his campaign with a series of radio speeches, the first of which will be delivered over WHAS, radiocaster of the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, on Tuesday evening, April 28th, at 9:30 o'clock, and the next over the same radio at the same hour, Tuesday, May 5th.

Alumni Banquet May Be Called Off This Year

Because of the fact that only five members of the graduating class of the Carlisle high school attended the meeting called for last Thursday night, no action was taken on the plans for the annual reunion and banquet in honor of the graduating class.

Miss Thelma Linville, president of the association, has called another meeting for tonight, Thursday, at 7:30 o'clock in the office of I. B. Ross and requests all members to attend.

Due to the fact that there is no money in the treasury and the large graduating class, the banquet may be called off this year unless more interest is taken. Miss Linville said.

TO COACH C. H. S.

Chester Shearer, who was been selected as coach of athletics at the Carlisle high school, will begin his duties here in June, it was announced by Supt. Ross Ewing. Mr. Shearer has been an outstanding star in four major athletics, football, basketball, baseball and track.

RAISED BILL IS GIVEN STORE HERE

Bill Raised From One Dollar To Ten Dollars Given To Dudley Craycraft At Howe's Store

Dudley Craycraft, clerk at the store of Sam T. Howe & Co., was victim of a practical joke last Saturday. Boys in three cars drove into Glen Dean, 7; Oren Rae Gaffin, 2; Julian Atkinson 7; James Tossfield, 1; Henry Howe Brumblett, 2; James Fada, 1; Allen Wade, 1; Allen Moore, 1. These were all nice calves, bought from James Miller & Ashby Lee, of Nicholas county. The calves were in good condition and averaged 550 pounds in weight.

Other club members who have their calves are Julian Wilhoite, 4; Orville Atkinson, 4; Allen Bell, 1; Vaughn Mattox, 1; James Toadvine, 1; Allen Jane Gaffin, 3.

The boys are hoping to enroll boys and girls to grow five more baby calves so that the Nicholas County Club will be able to exhibit 2 car loads (15 baby beeves) at the Fall Fat Cattle Show at the Bourbon Stock Yards on Nov. 11 to 13.

Camel Cigarette Award To Be Made Early In May

Announcement of awards in the Camel Cigarette Contest, now being conducted, will be made early in May, according to Mr. Reynolds Tobacco Company stated Monday.

The contest judges and their staff, who have been carefully reading the contestants' letters, estimate that approximately 1,000,000 entries, each accompanied by a Camel wrapper, are now in the hands of the judges.

The first prize-winner will receive a check for $25,000 from R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, manufacturers of Camel cigarettes, awards of $10,000 and $5,000 are given in the second and third winners. The next five will receive $1,000 each, and the balance of $5,000 will be distributed among thirty winners.

Carlisle Christian Church Will Honor Graduates

The Official Board has the following names of graduates who are members of the Carlisle Christian Church, or Bible school, or choir:

These folk are requested to attend the evening service of the church, May 17th, at 7:30 o'clock, at which time the class will be addressed by a graduate with a gift from the board and congregation, and deliver a special sermon. There will also be special music and short talks by all
