CO. AGENT'S NOTES

The first 4-H Club Fair will be held at Lexington next Monday and Tuesday August 24 and 25. It will be a free fair and over $2,000 will be awarded in premium money. So far as we know, this is the only fair at least in Kentucky where given only to club boys and girls and much interest is being manifested throughout this section of the state. Twenty-four counties are expected to exhibit at the fair.

R. J. Matson local county agent is anxious for as many of Nicholas counties members as possible exhibit some of the things that they are growing next week. There are awards for every project and each member are carrying and those expecting to exhibit should see Mr Matson this week or write him at once.

Dr. Vileau plant pathologist gave a very interesting talk on plant diseases and their control at Purnell Hall, to a large audience from the University. Harry specialist from the University also gave a very interesting account of the study of tobacco growing in the different counties in Kentucky and told of the progress made with the tobacco growers.

The meeting was conducted by our county agent who talked to the group about efficient farming. He explained that the program should not be confined to the 4-H Club boys and asked every farmer should use the best and most efficient methods. He said it took quality crops to get the highest possible prices and that there was little profit after the crop has been marketed.

Roger H. Burris, Jr., Is Outstanding Club Member
