CO AGENT'S NOTES

The first 4-H Club Fair will be held at Lexington next Monday and Tuesday, August 24 and 25. It will be a free fair and over $3,000 will be awarded in premium money. So far as we know, this is the only fair at least in Kentucky where given only to club boys and girls and much interest is being manifested throughout this section of the state. Twenty-four counties are expected to exhibit at the fair.

R. J. Masten local county agent is anxious for as many of Nicholas counties members as possible exhibit some of the things that they are producing next week. There are awards for every project that members are carrying and those expecting to exhibit should see Mr. Masten Saturday and get full information as to how and when to enter their products.

Twelve men attended the tobacco meeting held at R. A. Smith's Wednesday morning to study tobacco and tobacco diseases. Mr. Masten is promoting a seed crop of a tobacco known as No. 9 which was produced at the University of Kentucky and is the best resistant to black root rot of any yet produced. No. 9 is seen at Mr. Nortons is of excellent size and quality and is a heavy yielder. Mr. Masten says the 36-12 which has been used for some time, is a very good resistant variety.

Dr. Vileau plant pathologist gave a very interesting talk on plant diseases and their control. He urged that tobacco specialist from the University, also give a visit to the northside to study a dying out
