SOMEWHERE IN NICHOLAS

(By J. W. Rogers)

Once it was hard to find easy times. Now it is easy to find hard times. If we are looking for them.

Napoleon's motto was "If you cannot get around the Alps, go through them." Our motto these times should be "If we cannot go around the hard times, we can go through them."

At no time in our nation's history were we ever more certain of the uncertainty of human affairs than now.

Monday was "ground-hog day," when the hog came out of his hole, they say, if on looking about his shadow he saw six more weeks of winter and thaw. No shadow to him, no return to the hole, spring will come early and banish the cold. Which shall it be?

It is fast becoming a popular opinion that the rural school house by the side of the road and the church in the valley, will soon be things of the past. On to larger centers is the slogan. Many thousand school houses and more than 2000 rural churches were sold last year. Be this a blessing or be this a curse? In the world growing better in the world growing worse?

A few days ago Mrs. Blank gave her husband a basket of eggs with which to purchase some coffee at the near grocery store. The man permitted the grocery-man to let him have the coffee on credit, and took his eggs on with him to the nearest service station where he bought gasoline for his auto, giving the dealer eggs in payment. The dealer immediately took the eggs to the grocer and Mrs. Blank got her own coffee. Where bought coffee for his own use. Where did you get these eggs?" said the grocer. Mr. Blank just sold them to me for gasoline as he went to town," said the dealer. Think of that.

Reports show that 200,000 students graduated from college in 1930. Of these 190,000 took up the work of selling insurance and stocks, and the other 190,000 posed as school-ma'ams teaching the young idea how to shoot in an already overcrowded profession.

Some think the world is round. Some think it is flat, some think it is square and some think it is crooked. What do you think?

WHY FREQUENT EYE EXAMINATIONS ARE ESSENTIAL

Man does gradually but continually from the moment he enters this vale of tears.

At every body surface, as well as within the structures, a treacherous loss of tissue cells is registered at every moment.

Within seven years the body is said to have entirely changed or renewed itself.

Within that period, so silence tells us every progressive particle of human body is shed and is replaced by another.

Man sheds his skin like the snake, but gradually and invisibly.

So your eyes, like one other organ of your body, have undergone a change since your last examination. They are not exactly the same eyes, consequently frequent examinations are essential.

PROGRAM

Tonight, Thursday, Comes Joan Crawford in, "CUB, BLUSHING BRIDES." Miss Crawford is supported by Robert Montgomery, one of the best. If you never saw a Blushing Bride, now is your time to see one. This is a very good picture. Don't miss it.

Saturday—Comes Buster Keaton in, "DOUGH BOYS." Say, here is one of the best comedies on the screen. Also a Colorcine Revue. Come and have a good laugh.

Monday—Richard Arlen and Mary Brian in "BURNING UP," one of the finest automobile stories on the screen. It is some full of action, adventure and romance. Oh, well, it is just the kind of picture we all like. Be sure and see it.

LYRIC THEATRE

The Cynthiana Merchants defeated the Carlisle Drug Store Cowboys by a score of 16 to 10 in the charity basket ball game played here last Thursday night.

For the first time in some years, farmers may get their harness repaired in Carlisle. A new shop has installed a harness stitcher at his shop on Main street.

The Extension class was organized here Tuesday evening and will meet at 8 p. m. each Tuesday, for the rest of the semester. It is hoped that others will take advantage and enroll.

A last-minute rush of advertising, including a Master in Commissioners Sale that had to be run this week, has crowded out a lot of interesting items of correspondence, which we regret.

Farmers throughout the county have again started hauling water for stock and distillers, and reports from about during December brought out the same water, but this has practically been exhausted.

Stewart Dorsey and Lee B. Osborne have been appointed as members of the entertainment committee of the Forty and Eight for the state convention of the American Legion to be held in Lexington in July.

The County Clerk's office has been the scene of much activity with the annual fee drive. To date 75 automobile licenses had been issued up until noon Wednesday, more than half of which have been issued since Saturday.

Martin Judge qualified in county court last week as administrator of the estate of the late T. J. Booth and executed bond of $1,500. J. C. Gregg and Walter Bone, of John Dunn were appointed appraisers of the estate.

Hardin, farm of 63 acres on Cynthiana pike to A. J. Ritchie, of Winchester; for Mrs. Clinnie King, house and four acres of land on Maysville road, near Oakland Mills, to E. M. Hardin.

A group of interested farmers and business men met Monday and visited the office of County Agent R. J. Maland last Wednesday night, to discuss the farm outlook for 1931 and to plan a program of work for the year. Mr. Malloon plans to have similar meetings in each section of the county and to organize group leaders, who will later recommend a county program.

John and Henry West, sons of Joe West and wife, colored, were arrested in the Kentucky House of Reform at Greendale to remain until they become 21 years old, by Judge Emil D. Darnall in juvenile court last Thursday. The boys, known as "Cow" and "Bullfrog," are 11 and 9 years old, respectively. Complaint against their conduct have been registered from time to time.

A Paris item in the Lexington Leader says: "Robert Waugh, Carlisle, who has been gathering scrap iron for several days, finally amounted to selling about 100 pounds, could find no market for his stock in Carlisle, so he brought it to Paris and disposed of it to a local junk dealer. Mr. Waugh transported his stock in trade from Carlisle to Paris, a distance of about 15 miles, in a wheelbarrow, making the trip in about three hours."
