BLINDNESS IS PREVENTABLE

One pair of eyes in a lift-time.

It is estimated that one half of all the blindness in the world could have been prevented.

Throughout the nations there is an effort being made to educate the people to the fact that such person will have ONLY ONE PAIR OF EYES. Can you afford to neglect yours?

You may not need glasses, but if a careful examination shows that you do, wear them.

AFTER CHRISTMAS

(Lexington Herald)

Two: the night beluadi Christmas, C. Gott, vat a night!

I'll nefer get, ofer our troubles, I tells—

Jimmy's vagon all busted Heine's clothes doesn't fit.

Ven I say vat I gave mama goes nutting mit.

Lena got some nice shoes, but she vanted a coat.

Eddy got a nice slet, but he vanted a boat;

Uni my socks, you should see 'em they're a regular freak

Unt the necktie they gave me would do for a shelk.

I vish you could see now the bill vat I owe,

Vat my family's been buying just to make a big show—

Then the baby got sick, an' the bill from dot guy

Of a doctor, my friend, would knock out your eye

The tubes on the radio set blew out Chevrolet—

I must pay my insurance next week without fail

Unt my taxes I pay now—or else go to jail.

Unt my clothes are worn out, I need vat you want.

My shoes need half-colling, vot you call dhem?

Merry Christmas" to me don't mean nothing at all.

So I'm going to bet now—rouse mit it all.
