THE MOVIE STARS ARE WISER ABOUT EYES THAN FANS

Most everybody thinks the only glasses that are worth buying are those and actresses wear are simply worn to make them look funny.

Optometrists in Hollywood are always very busy, because "stars" directors and writers in the motion picture industry have a sincere desire to take care of their eyes. Wisdom is their defense.

They realize their eyes are their most valuable asset, proved by the "fans" adoration and interest.

Strained eyes foment be bright and snappy.

Kind Words for White Rose

One of our best county merchants said he had been catering to the whims of his patrons for cheap flour, but has decided he has been doing them an injustice as well as degrading his own business. He has been making some tests himself and finds that the so-called cheap flour is not only the highest priced in the long run, but that most of it makes bread of very inferior quality. He has always handled some White Rose Flour but says he is going to push it now as the quality is so much better and the price very little more.

ARCHITECTURAL PRECEDENCE

(Amy Roscoe)

Trees have arches.
I ask you for a forest
For a cathedral of trees
And Gothic arches
Before you praise churches.

Mountains have towers.
Look to a mountain of crags and canyons
Before you go to the canyons of the city to look for towers.

The sea has bastions.
Look to the mass, under which the roar and push of the waters shake the ocean.
Before you go
To bulwarks to study bases.

Ice has minarets.
Where will
You find higher—
But it's you, since I want to look at these;
And to rocks and boulders
Or buildings to study lines.

Tilton, on Bell Mansell street, in Lexington, Rev. B. O. Heck, pastor of the Methodist church at Centre, officiating.

Miss Louise Tilton, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Miss Margaret Ellis, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Mr. Warren L. Bain, Jr., of Lexington, was best man.

About 75 close friends from Lexington and surrounding towns attended the wedding. Following the ceremony a reception was held. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Tilton and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, with the following friends assisting: Mrs. Lida M. Darnall, Mrs. Mamie Howard Veech, Mrs. Miller Mann, Mrs. Ida Tilton and Misses Helen Gaunce, Carlisle; Mrs. D. M. Curry, Jr., Mrs. Vivian McCraw and Miss Fannie Lee Dalzell.

Later the young couple left for a bridal trip through the East. They will be at home at Fair Oaks, Pa., near Ambridge, Pa., where Mr. Ellis is employed by the Woolf Steam Steel Company.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ellis were graduated from the University of Kentucky in the class of 1930. Mrs. Ellis was popular in 1929. The bride was reared in Carlisle and had many friends here. She has also managed as teacher at Corbin and in the Lexington public schools.
