CRIMSON CLOVER IS A GOOD FALL CROP

For July, August Planting

This is the most valuable leguminous crop for summer and early fall seeding. It can be sown every crop and can be sown during July or August. Unlike other leguminous plants, Crimson Clover when planted after other crops does not germinate, makes a fine growth on the land and also affords abundant winter and early spring pasture. It matures early in the spring and is ready to plow under as a soil crop or for making hay or seed. It can be sown in Corn after the last working, or in Wheat or Rye stubble.

Its greatest value is as a soil builder. It gathers much nitrogen from the air—thus making a heavy growth, and when plowed under in the spring, it soon decays and is ready for plant food. A good growth of Crimson Clover plowed under will almost double the yield of corn and make fertilization much easier.

The seed can be sown at the rate of 12 to 15 pounds per acre, covering with a harrow or cultivator. Best results are obtained when seed is inoculated. For sale by Carlisle Mill and Supply Company

OLD SALT TELLS OF SUNKEN GOLD

Treasure Hunt on High Seas Full of Thrills.

San Francisco—A little gray haired man with sand quintessential spine and a determined mouth sat in the lobby of the Palace hotel recently and told of a treasure hunt on the high seas as full of adventure, thrills and suspense as anything ever conceived by Stevenson or Conrad.

Capt. Charles O. Haskell, inventor and veteran salvager, was announced to the world a short time ago that he had located the old Pacific Mail liner Rio de Janeiro that went down off the Golden Gate in 1901 with 321 souls aboard and a reputed $6,000,000 in bullion, when he filed a claim at the recorder's office, was the surface.

But as to where the claim actually is or exactly how he found it, Captain Haskell was cautiously reticent.

"People have said that I used magnetic rods to locate the ship; that I used an ocean sounding device; that I used a diving suit, and many things.

"Well, what I used mostly was just plain common sense, and I've always been gifted as well with an uncommon share of luck, for you know when it comes to finding things."

"I found the spot all by myself by a secret but simple method," he said.

"The actual search took only three days, though I had been planning it for months before I left San Francisco.

"I had come to San Francisco in that year to meet an old friend, who was supposed to be on board. He had luckily had missed the boat in Honolulu. Naturally, at any port, I made a desire to find the vessel, as many did, in vain.

"Now I have located a ship in the spot where the Rio ought to be.

"Naturally, I can't say or that it is the Rio, but I know it is. I am now making arrangements to raise it to prove the question."

Further than that Captain Haskell would not comment, other than to remark that he has never known any benefit of letters since his claim was made public, some of them from people who offer to help him, some who plan to share in the adventure of salvaging the vessel, and even some women—who want to marry him.

New Rules Out for Commuting Commuters

Washington—A new set of rules governing commuting by Canadians employed in the United States has been made public by the Department of Labor.

The rules, designed to meet Canadian government objections to alleged difficulties encountered by workers in making their daily trips across the border, were embodied in an answer to a request by the Dominion that Canadian note received last December. The request was made in a representation that Canadians crossing the border daily to work in the United States will not be required to pay the head tax and any whose periods had been condemned should be given credit.

The new regulations provide:

1. Commuters who have established their commuter status will be regarded as now immigrants.

2. Commuters who have had no working or in Wheat or Rye stubble. its greatest value is as a soil builder. It gathers much nitrogen from the air—thus making a heavy growth, and when plowed under in the spring, it soon decays and is ready for plant food. A good growth of Crimson Clover plowed under will almost double the yield of corn and make fertilization much easier.

ONCE OVER

The great American inclination is to look things over. Nothing is either good or bad to the open-minded, until it has received that quick, interested appraisal which we have deftly named the "once over."

We are continually looking over new political leaders and ideas, new acquaintances, new faces, new actors and writers. And by the same token we are constantly called upon to pass judgment on a great variety of merchandise from soap to sedans—which is presented to us through the advertisements in the newspapers.

People who follow the advertisements know that through them they can find out more about articles, values, and the wise spending of their money than they could discover in any other way. New products, new improvements in merchandise, new uses for established articles, are constantly being brought before them.

Advertising makes it possible for you to get exactly what you want, to get full value for every penny, and to be sure of receiving the greatest possible satisfaction from everything you buy.

Read the advertisements regularly, and get the important news they bring you in every issue!

McROHAN IS WINNER BY MAJORITY OF 52

Myers Carries Nicholas But Loses Robertson By 64 Votes

CLOSE RESULT SURPRISE

Carrying Robertson county by a majority of 64 votes, Hubert McRohan, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative in the 43rd District, Legislative District, overcame the lead of his opponent, George C. Myers, in Nicholas county, and was selected as the party's standard-bearer in the November election by a majority of 52 votes.

It was one of the closest races in some years and the two candidates ran neck and neck, as the returns from each precinct became known. When the final one of the eighteen precincts came in, Myers had received 1,039 votes and McRohan 683. They had carried nine precincts, McRohan taking Headquarters, Mines Store, Eastern, Hume, Mathias No. 1, Triton, Bethel, Dunlap, Jones Store, City Building, Donnell's Store, Millersburg, Colville and Mathias No. 2. Myers carried Barrville, Morning Glory, Rose Hill, Myers Store, Moorefield, Bunnell Hoad, Mathias No. 3 and Cedar Grove. The latter returns in McRohan had a majority of 64 in Robertson and a final majority of 12 in Nicholas.

The election was quiet in this county, little interest being shown, according to reports. Only one or two political forecasters had expected the closeness of the result as the early returns of those who indicated political preference.

In the rural districts the vote was exceptionally light. McRohan carried the 4-H Club Camp, which had a special election at Black Hawk, by a majority of 19 votes. The girls are reported to have turned out in full force to help their candidate win the honor of a trip to Black Hawk.
