WHICH are SAFE Waters?

Some people believe that the safe waters are those which harbor only their own persons, interests and activities. This attitude does not lead to sure guidance of a community's welfare. What is safe for us alone is not always safe for the community, but what is safe for the people is safety for us. Don't lay off help unless it is absolutely necessary, don't board your dollars, for in stinting yourself you are biting off your nose to spite your face. Now is the time to buy when costs were never lower, now is the time to help your fellow man when misery stalks grinning across the world. Be open minded and open handed within your immediate power, and you will be doing your important bit toward steering the community into safe waters.
