CO. AGENT NOTES

R. J. Matson, County Agent

The 4-H Club girls of Nicholas county exhibited 62 entries at the State Fair last week and won their share of the prizes. Margaret Logan Howard won first on school costume made by girls 14 and 18 years of age and fourth on cotton dress suitable for home wear. Elmer Dunlap won fourth on her school costume. Both of these girls are carrying clothing work at the Carlisle High school under the leadership of Mrs. A. B. Fisher. Llewyllen Holmes won first on dress made by girl from 10 to 13 and Wynona Wise won seventh in the same class Delilah Robinson won fifth on her night gown. These girls are from the Moorefield school and did their work under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest Robinson.

The Fat Stock Judging team trained by County Agent R. J. Matson did not get in the money but made 997 points out of a possible 1500. Maurice West had his high man on the Nicholas county team, making 381 points. Oren Ray Griffin was second with 338 points and Glenn Smith was third with 312 points. Everett Stephenson was alternate on the team. Mr. Matson took the team to Louisville in his car and stayed on the State Fair Grounds with them in tents arranged for by the club department. There were 54 teams representing 18 counties competing in the judging contests.

According to Mrs. Eda Taylor every family that received is expected to have an exhibit of their work at the Nicholas County Fair.

Many stunts are being arranged for the boys and girls at the fair this year by Superintendent Mrs. Taylor.

The Carlisle public school, instead of its customary exhibit, is planning to display their work in the county court house, starting Monday, Sept. 28th, and continuing through Friday. This is a wonderful bonus and extra time was given to the collection which was given to the Carlisle school by Mrs. Otis Bunch Ellery, and should be on view at the opening of the fair.

Mr. D Howe is planning an exhibit which will be of interest to all of the children. He will have Dueming Cakes, Golden Glow, Early Snowball, Pom and Buff Cushin Bantams.

The poultry exhibit as at the county fair will be in charge of Mrs. Ida Mae Lord as a pen at the poultry show. This will not necessarily be confined to Nicholas county. 4-H club members will also show two pullets and a cockerel as a pen.

PROGRAM

Tonight, Thursday, comes Will Rogers in "YOUNG AS YOU FEEL." He goes modern in a great big way. He says a barnyard rooster became a night club peacock. Yes, and think of it, you can trade your carpet slippers for dancing pumps and waltz around like a youth, if you only think so. It's not your years but your yearnings. Do some yearning and get young. You don't have to dye your hair, he says that doesn't look right. Well, if you want to see a sure fire comedy, don't miss Will in this one. Also Movietone News.

Saturday—A dandy western "HEADING FOR TROUBLE." In the wild and wooly West of bygone days. Also a good comedy.

Monday—Comes Lewie Howard and Constance Montmorgen in "NEVER THE TWAIN SHALL MEET," a wonderful picture of the South Seas Islands, full of action, adventure, love and romance. Don't fail to see this one.

SUMMER'S END

Go, Green-Man Summer, get you hence;
Your coldness Autumn bids you go.
The lanthes of your innocence
Burn out; your virgins are the sole

Your pools grow dark; your grooves are rust.
Your withered stalks are rank with mold.
Your poppies are a little dust;
Your sunshine have forsaken you.

Beautiful garlands of decay
Seal up your song and quench your light;
No more at eve the ghost of day
Lingers with you to keep the night.

The canker that your roses breed,
Itself is clay, and clay the rose;
Your woodbine now is old-man's-beard;
You have no further lease of those.

Lest memory were too great a cost
Our job of you with you shall set,
And all we leave our Summer last,
And even as we grieve, forget.

Making Preparation For Collection Of Seed Loan

Mr. E. M. Blackford who is a field representative of the United States Department of Agriculture, now located in the Farmers Seed Loan Office at St. Louis, Missouri, is in Nicholas county making such investigations that are necessary and making the applications of crops under mortgage to the United States Government. At the time the U. S. Government has several representatives in Kentucky for the purposes stated and also supervising the selling of the crops under mortgage and the collection of the money. Mr. Blackford states that it is agreeable that the farmers make returns to St. Louis, making all collections direct to the local banks or the checks payable to Department of Agriculture." Mr. Blackford stated that the Department of Agriculture endorses cooperative marketing and is doing much to assist the farmers through the Association and in addition to this it is agreeable for the tobacco to be stored in bonded warehouses.

Mr. Blackford will be in this county for just a short while but states that other agents are working in the field and at the right time a representative will be sent into this county if necessary.

Mr. B. H. McBreen is the Administration office in charge of the office located in St. Louis, Mo.

TREMORS IN TWO STATES

The earth's surface in districts of Kentucky and Ohio did a little readjusting of its own Sunday, but beyond the momentary frightening of a few residents, damage was light.

Tremors whose shock suffered structure over a wide area in the two states, but the shocks were not severe enough to weaken foundations or cause buildings to collapse.

The disturbances, according to geologists of the local weather bureau, were caused by the slipping of strata within the earth's surface. These geological readjustments occur sporadically in the middle West, but no serious damage has resulted during the past 100 years.

Sunday's oscillations were most severe at Cincinnati, Springfield and Lima, Ohio. Windows rattled, houses trembled and alarmed citizens telephoned police departments to ask if there had been an explosion.

The maximum length reported for the shocks was about 15 seconds.

There were no injuries reported.
