WHAT A DIFFERENCE

"Coming back to Washington on the cushions" was the way Representative-elect John Young Brown, of Kentucky, put it last week as he went on the House floor "to learn something about what it's all about."

Brown went through Washington "riding the blinds" back in 1929 en route to Boston to see the Centre-Harvard football game. Only 22 years old, the young Democrat was speaker of the house in the Kentucky legislature at its last session and was elected to the National House of Representatives in November.

Brown was a substitute end on the Centre College football team when Bo McMillan, Red Roberts and Red Weaver were All-American selections. He was graduated from that school and in 1929 received his law degree from the University of Kentucky. He entered politics and was first elected to the state legislature in 1930.

Man Freed On Charge Of Stealing Mrs. Sugg's Car

After deliberating for more than two hours, a jury in the Mason circuit court Friday returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of R. C. Martin, of Fayette county, charged with grand larceny.

Martin was indicted on a charge of stealing an automobile belonging to Mrs. Isabelle Sugg, of Carlisle. This was the second time that the case has been tried in the Mason circuit court, a jury being unable to reach a verdict at a hearing last March. Martin was represented by Attorney Harry Miller, of Lexington.

BURNS $81,622 IN ACCOUNTS

Dr. George Brown, Atlanta, Ga., formerly a Georgia legislator, burned $81,622 in accounts last week and told his patients to forget what they owed him and "let's start all over."

Dr. Brown notified his patients by mail. Some of the bills had been running since 1892, when he started practicing medicine. He said payment of the bills would be a hardship for many and that since the election of Roosevelt and Garner ushers in "a new day of hope," he would wipe off the slate and start over.

GLUTTONY COSTS HAWK LIFE

(Cynthiana Log Cabin)

Many a man has shortened his life by overeating, but Hawks is the only and this is the story of a hawk that lost its life for the same reason. Early Friday while Earl Hall was going to the home of a neighbor in the Mount Carmel section for board accommodation in a patch of bushes and on investigation found a big hawk struggling and evidently trying to swallow something too big for its throat. Mr. Jones killed the hawk with a rock and found that the big bird had a whole chicken of a quail lodged in its throat.

Health Note: Hawks, as well as folks, should chew or shred their quail thoroughly before swallowing.

HOOVER CHANGES MIND

(Richmond Register)

Now that President Hoover is on the way out he is willing to recommend a flat cut in salaries of federal employees of 11 per cent. At the last session of congress the president thwarted the plan of the Democratic leaders in the house to cut these salaries 10 per cent. Since his defeat the president is perfectly willing to advocate salary cuts he opposed when he thought his party was to retain pongr. It will be recalled that Mr. Hoover insisted on and secured legislation providing for a furlough without pay. And the voters thought so well of the idea that they gave him an indefinite furlough. It is safe to predict that Ogden Mills, who successfully opposed effort of the house of representatives to cut the appropriation for the treasury department 10 per cent, will be perfectly willing for it to be made now.

Dr. Beno Gutenberg, professor of geophysics at the California Institute of Technology, thinks the earth's deepest quaker in the Pacific may be the result of a tapping of the old wound which some scientists claim was left when the moon was torn off from that part of the earth.

Fruit Growers Of State Optimistic Over Prospects

Fruit growers attending the 71th annual winter meeting of the Kentucky State Horticultural Society at the Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky were optimistic about the future of their industry. Fruit prices have been averaging better than prices of most other farm products, it was stated, and many growers have been able to make money.

Small fruit is proving profitable in many counties in Kentucky, it was brought out at the meeting, and it is probable that this industry can be expanded with profit. Strawberries, raspberries, dewberries, cherries and other small fruits now are adding a million dollars a year to the incomes of Kentucky farmers.

It may be profitable to expand apple and peach growing in Kentucky, Alvin O. Eckert, president of the Illinois Horticultural Society, told the growers. Dr. J. B. Jordan, president of the Kentucky society; Prof. A. J. Olney, head of the horticultural department at the Experiment Station, and other speakers urged growers to care for their orchards and make moderate increases in plantings.

General cultural problems, disease and pest control, fertility, marketing, new varieties and other subjects were discussed at the meetings. The first day was devoted largely to the outlook for the industry and to spraying and other disease and pest control, and the second day to small fruit growing.

In addition to Mr. Eckert and Prof. Olney, speakers included Prof. J. S. Shoemaker of the Ohio Experiment Station; Frank Street and Ben K. Niles, Henderson; Dr. H. Van Antwerp, Farmers, and Dean Thomas P. Cooper and members of the faculty of the horticultural department at the College of Agriculture.

Mother Looks On As Children Burn

Neighbors hands held a frantic mother Monday to prevent her from rushing back into her flaming home to save two children. The youngsters burned to death. The mother had succeeded in saving another child.

The dead are Jack Jones, 4, and his sister, Irene, 9-months-old, children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones. Billy, aged 4, was saved when his mother, who had been visiting a neighbor saw her home afire and ran to the scene. A heater in the frame bgiue was blamed for the fire.

HONEST TOIL GOOD RESULT

(Louisville Times)

At a banquet in Harrodsburg, Governor Ruby Laffoon said he had left his spectacles in his business suit, and forgotten his manuscript; that it was his fourth speech that day, and that he didn't know his subject; that he was tired, and suffering acutely from evening clothes.

Yet he kept his audience chuckling.

A good illustration of working under a severe handicap, yet doing a workmanlike job.

A Governor less devoted to public service would have simplified the problem of the evening by cutting the banquet, sending a false alibi, slumping into slippers and slipping into a snooze.

LOCAL COMMITTEE GIVES CLOTHING TO 110 FAMILIES

More Than 500 People Given Assistance By Red Cross During Past Week

MORE CLOTHES NEEDED

One hundred and ten needy families of Nicholas county were given clothing and shoes by the local relief committee during the past week, and many more requests for assistance have been received. More than five hundred individuals were given assistance.

The articles given during the past week included clothing, shoes, hats and underwear for the entire family. The first 70 families were given sufficient clothing for all members to last them the remainder of the winter, and the remainder of the individuals were given sufficient clothing to keep them comfortable for the present.

The articles given out the past week were garments collected during the thrift bag campaign.

Mrs. E. E. Plaisted has been in charge of relief headquarters in the Conway building. Mrs. Plaisted said Wednesday that practically all of the articles contributed during the thrift bag campaign have been given out. Most of the articles were gathered in Carlisle and residents of the county are being asked to contribute all clothing.

The relief headquarters at present has a limited supply of overalls and pants for boys and a few dresses for girls. These articles were sent here by the national Red Cross chapter quarters. The garments have been made up by members of the relief committee, and the women are now busily engaged in making dresses for babies and children out of remnants contributed by local citizens.

Dresses are being made from the material sent here by the Red Cross and they should be ready for distribution soon after the first of the year. The national headquarters has approved the request of the local committee for 2,000 more yards of cotton goods, and this will be made up and distributed as soon as received. The local committee will also later receive a limited number of cotton sweaters for men and boys.

Mrs. Plaisted requests that all members of the relief committee make a report to her at once so that the production committee will know what garments are most needed and how many more families will need assistance.

The local relief headquarters will be closed Friday afternoon and no more distribution will be made until after the first of the year except in extreme cases.

Resignation Of Gamage And Campbell Demanded

Sweeping charges, calling not only for the resignation of Harry Gamage as head football coach, but also the dismission of Assistant Coach John "Spinner" Campbell; cuts in salaries for most of the faculty members, and athletic officials, and the appointment of Ellis Johnson, football star on the 1932 team, as an assistant coach, were recommended by the students' committee which appeared before the Athletic Council of the University of Kentucky at its executive session Thursday afternoon.

It was stated that the recommendation was cast on the ability or character of Campbell as a coach, but his resignation demanded solely as an economy measure. The recommendations would effect a saving of $6,000 per year.

The Athletic Council took no official action. It is understood the majority of the members favor retaining Gamage until his contract expires at the end of next year.

Arrest Of Dry Law Offenders Show Drop

Federal prohibition agents together with State agencies made 6,719 arrests for dry law violations in November, 1,000 less than in October. Monthly report of Amos W. W. Woodcock, director of prohibition, showed however, that 7,150 cases were added to already overcrowded court dockets, which on November 1 listed 196,687 federal and 33,000 state cases, an increase of approximately 230 over October.

Woodcock reported convictions had been obtained in trials of 203 cases while 626 persons pleaded guilty to violating the law. Those acquitted or who had their cases nolle prossed, numbered 720.

In November agents seized 949 automobiles, 1,386 stills, 145 breweries, 148,639 gallons of beer, 12,572 gallons of spirits and 23,997 gallons of wine.

Since July 1, the Government has collected $1,456,317 in fines while States collected $692,372.

Will Distribute Sacks To Children

Lions Club To Send Christmas Cheer To Unfortunates. Churches And Legion To Help Members

Sacks filled with candy, fruit and nuts will be distributed to all of the poor children of the county on Christmas Eve and Christmas morning under the direction of the Carlisle Lions Club.

Departing from the annual custom of giving out the sacks at the community Christmas tree, the Lions Club, which this year is in charge of the tree, is making an effort to find out all of the unfortunate children of the county in order that they may be given the sacks. Toys gathered up here during the past month will also be distributed.

A large tree has been put up in front of the court house, and smaller trees have been placed along Main street.

The various churches will distribute baskets of food to members of their congregations.

Nicholas Post No. 17, will send baskets of groceries to ex-service men who are out of employment or who are needy.

Other interested organizations will endeavor to see that no child in the county is forgotten on Christmas morning.

New Truck Law Upheld By Court

Law Limiting Weight To 18,000 Pounds And Banning Trailers Ruled Valid By Court

Validity of Kentucky's new law limiting the gross weight of motor trucks to 18,000 pounds, the length to 26 1-2 feet, the width to 96 inches and the height to 13 1-2 ft. and banning all trailers from state roads, was upheld by the highest court of appeals.

The decision overruled the contention of the Ashland Transfer Company, the Ohio River Sand Service and eight other truck operators that the act violated the state constitution by delegating legislative authority to the state highway commission, which has charge of enforcing the law.

The law, enacted by the 1932 legislature, was sponsored principally by Senator Allie W. Young, requires speed governors, rear-view mirrors and two lights on the front of trucks and limits the speed on the highways of a truck whose gross weight exceeds 5,000 pounds to 30 miles an hour and to 40 miles an hour if the gross weight is under 5,000 pounds.

Sixty Shoppers Escape As Harrodsburg Store Burns

Sixty Christmas shoppers were imperiled Saturday afternoon when fire struck suddenly in the largest department store in the business district of Harrodsburg's business district. Loss of $100,000 on the three story brick building, which contained several stocks of merchandise and the offices of the efforts of Harrodsburg and Danville firemen, was estimated at $100,000.

Shoppers in the Louisville store, owned by Mrs. Ethel Knarr, on the court house, stampeded in a rush to escape after the fire broke out in the basement of the three-story brick building. The blaze had gained considerable headway before it was discovered. All of the shoppers escaped without injury.

Six Children Saved From Burning Home In Bath

Six small children of T. C. Crawford, living near Sherburne, Bath county, were saved from death with influenza, were saved from death when the two-room cabin was fire shortly after noon Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Crump, who were driving along the highway, discovered the blaze. After the alarm was given, R. B. Emmons and three other men rushed into the burning building in time to save the children just before the roof caved in. The fathers of the children had gone to a farm on a distant part of the farm a short time before the fire was discovered. A defective flue was blamed. There was no insurance on the building and the household effects.

RELEASE SCHOOL FUNDS

Release of January state school funds amounting to the school districts in time for payment of teachers salaries by Christmas was announced Monday by James Richmond, state superintendent of public instruction.

Checks for $608,602 were mailed out. Richmond said the payment of January funds in advance was made possible only through the "rush to operation" of J. Dan Talbott, state auditor, and Elam Huddleston, state treasurer.

Current tax receipts have replenished the school fund.

Let us be happy!

THIS has been a hard year for all of us—a year of many disappointments and discouragements.

But now Christmas is almost here.

Happiness is in the air.

Let us focus our eyes on that guiding star which led the Wise Men to a poor abode, and in the warmth of its glow rekindle in ourselves the genial flame of charity. Let us crowd out of our hearts all fear, all foolish foreboding of disasters that may (but probably will not) come to us and those we love.

Let us, for the day at least, forget the things that worry us. In their places let us substitute thoughts of the many things for which we may be thankful. Let us forgive our enemies and lean more heavily upon the staff of friendship. Thus each of us will become a center of happiness and able to spread that cheer which is at the heart of Christmas observance.

Let us be happy!

It is in this spirit that we send you this greeting for a Merry Christmas and the wish that all of us may carry much of the spirit and blessings of the day into every other day of the year. Thus shall we draw nearer to the fulfillment of the ideal typified by Christmas.

Three Homicides In Past Month

Long Record For Good Behavior Is Shattered. Thirteen Children Made Orphans

Nicholas county, which once went for a period of more than ten years without a homicide, has had all records in Fillings smashed during the past month with three homicides in the county.

The first fatality occurred on November 24 when Morgan Plurfi died as the result of the efforts of Harrodsburg and Danville firemen, was estimated at $100,000.

Shoppers in the Louisville store, owned by Mrs. Ethel Knarr, on the court house, stampeded in a rush to escape after the fire broke out in the basement of the three-story brick building. The blaze had gained considerable headway before it was discovered. All of the shoppers escaped without injury.

TOBACCO MARKETS WILL CLOSE TODAY UNTIL JANUARY 3

Carlisle Market To Have Full Floors For Sale To Be Held Here Today

PRICES REMAIN FIRM

Burley tobacco markets in Kentucky will close for the Christmas holidays with conclusion of sales Thursday and all markets will reopen on Monday, January 3.

The final sale before Christmas to be held here today will probably be the largest sale held so far. The floors of the Growers and Farmers Tobacco Warehouse, Inc., will be concluded.

The cold weather of the past week has halted deliveries here this week, and the weather has been such that more would have been necessary every day.

There are a large number of good crops on the floors for today's sales, although a considerable part of the offering for the closing sale is of inferior quality.

Jack Day, general manager of the warehouses here, is much pleased with the market here. Mr. Day said he has never seen closer cooperation between farmers and business men in their efforts to reestablish the market here. Very few farmers of this county will deliver their tobacco to other markets, Mr. Day said, and all who have sold here have been pleased with sales. On the sale held here Wednesday of last week, not a basket was rejected.

Sales on the markets of Central Kentucky have remained steady at average of around $14 per hundred pounds. The market remains at about $2 per hundred higher than on the opening sales.

$3,600 In Sheep Claims On File

Only 25 Dog Licenses For Next Year Have Been Issued. Sheriff Must Enforce Law

Sheriff D. M. Curry said Wednesday that fewer dog licenses have been issued this year than at any time in many years. Up until noon Wednesday only 25 licenses for next year had been issued. Approximately 1,500 dogs have been listed by Tax Commissioner Jim Will Martin. 1,072 individual licenses and 14 kennel licenses were issued for 1932, Mr. Curry said that claims for sheep killed by dogs now on file in his office total approximately $1,600, the unpaid claims dating from July 2, 1930, to the present time.

Under the terms of the law passed by the last legislature, the Sheriff is responsible for dogs upon which licenses have not been paid. The Sheriff may be assessed not to exceed $10 for each dog upon which license has not been paid. The owner of an unlicensed dog may be fined in any amount not to exceed $100.

The drastic terms of the law will call for drastic measures upon his part, Mr. Curry said, and after the first of the year he will be forced to either take up and kill unlicensed dogs or arrest the owners.

No extention has been granted owners of dogs and all licenses are due January 1, regardless of the age of the dog.

Gatton May Be Named To Succeed J. H. Richmond

Harper Gatton, of Madisonville, superintendent of schools at that place and on leave of absence as referee administrator for Kentucky, is expected to be named State Superintendent of Public Instruction to succeed James H. Richmond, Virgil Chapman, of Owenton, who was an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for this office in 1931, is also mentioned as a possible successor to Mr. Richmond.

Mr. Richmond was named last week as president of Murray State Teachers College to succeed Dr. Rainey T. Wells, who resigned to become general attorney for the Woodmen of the World. The resignation of Dr. Wells will become effective the first of the year, when he will move to Omaha to assume his duties. Mr. Richmond is expected to take up his new duties the first of the year.

Miss Ruth Flood Resigns As Nurse

Miss Zola Workman To Succeed Her As Public Health Nurse First Of The Year

Miss Ruth Flood, who has served so efficiently as public health nurse with the Nicholas County Health Department for the past eighteen months, has resigned, effective January 1.

Announcement of Miss Flood's resignation will be heard with genuine regret by citizens of Carlisle and Nicholas county. She has held the position since the local unit was established here July 1, 1931, and has made many friends throughout the county. Miss Flood has left nothing to be desired in a public health nurse and has been one of the most tireless workers ever seen here. Not only has she been unusually efficient in the performance of her official duties, but she has devoted much time to assisting the poor and needy. She has taken an active part in the district-wide drive for clothing to be given to the present campaign of the local Red Cross chapter, and is one of the committee of three in charge of distributing clothing and food.

Miss Flood is a native of Bourbon county. She has visited every section of the county in her work of assisting in health clinics.

Miss Zola Workman has been named to succeed Miss Flood here, and has arrived here to familiarize herself with her duties. Miss Workman is a graduate nurse from a Cincinnati hospital. She is a native of Bracken county, but for the past year has been employed in public health work at Bowling Green.

Quarrel Over Stalled Auto Causes Shooting

Two white men and a white woman were indicted for murder at Harland Monday as a result of a row with negroes who refused to help move a stalled automobile near Harland Sunday night.

Two of the negroes, Martha Stanley, 16, and Fred Brown, 21, were shot to death, and two others, Jesse Stacey, 20, and Luther Combs, 24 were seriously wounded.

Two murder indictments each were returned against French Vermillion, Sherman Townes and Mollie Cain, held by a grand jury that succeeded to investigate the case and they were ordered held without bond.

Officers who investigated the case said Vermillion became enraged when the negroes said it was too cold to help move the car and told the party to call some garage. The indictments against the three charge they conspired and banded together to cause the shooting.

Court was in session and a special grand jury was given the case.

Man Gone 50 Years To Return To State

Henry Clay Booth, lost for fifty years in relation to Illinois state will be homeward bound to the State of his illustrious namesake.

Booth, now 80 years old, South was located through a picture in a newspaper and will return home to aid in settling an estate, consisting of inheritances from brothers and sisters, all of whom are dead. Until both was now, he had been an inmate in a Fed Sanitarium.

A short time ago, the aged man's wife received a letter from Danville, Ill., newspaper as the oldest man and the Soldiers' Home section of Riverside county. In some manner, Booth's nephew in Bishop, Ky., was communicated with the newspaper and, through it, reached his uncle.

Next week, Booth will be taken to San Bernardino by another nephew, Lester O. Cain, a resident of Redlands. Funeral here will be placed upon a train to travel to Kentucky and claim the estate which the nephew in Bishop said was awaiting him.

Augusta Woman Seriously Injured When Beaten

Mrs. O. L. Owens, 30, was in a serious condition at her home in Augusta Tuesday night and Edward Short, 27, was in jail at Brooksville charged with having beaten her. A warrant charging assault and battery was issued against Short by the county attorney.

Mrs. Owens was found Tuesday in Georgetown, Ohio, across the river from Augusta, and was brought to Brooksville by her husband. She also appeared from her home Monday night. She was found also was suffering from a dislocated hip, two black eyes and a wound on the head.

Officers said Mrs. Owens told them Short beat and kicked her Monday night and took her to Brooksville and then to Georgetown to the home of his mother. According to her story, Short told attendants at a ferry boat Mrs. Owens was his wife and he was taking her to Georgetown for treatment. Short lives at Augusta.

WALKER IS HELD ON CHARGE OF MURDER WHEN MILLER DIES

George Miller Dies At Local Hospital As Result Of Pistol Wounds

WAS WOUNDED DEC. 7

George Miller, 34 years old, died at the Johnson Memorial hospital at 5 o'clock Saturday morning as the result of pistol wounds inflicted by Floyd "Penny" Walker on December 7.

Miller was shot three times with a 38 caliber pistol by Walker. One shot took effect in his abdomen, one in his right side and one in the left hand. Miller was taken to the hospital after the shooting and underwent an operation for the removal of the bullet in his abdomen. A few days later pneumonia developed, and later peritonitis. He had been in a critical condition for several days before his death.

The shooting took place in front of the Burgess pool room on East Main street. Walker, who was arrested after the shooting, claimed self defense, declaring he shot Miller when Miller made a motion to reach for a pistol.

Walker, who had been released on bond following the shooting of Miller, was arrested Saturday morning on a warrant charging murder and was lodged in jail. Walker is about 25 years old. He is married and the father of two children.

Walker and Miller had been unfriendly for several months. At the September term of circuit court Miller was fined $50 and costs on a charge of shooting and wounding Walker in an alley at the rear of Main street in Carlisle last spring.

Miller was a veteran of the World war. He was city mail carrier for several months following the war.

Miller is survived by his wife and two little daughters. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller, of the county, and a brother, William Miller, also survive.

Funeral services were held at the home Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. M. Hammond, pastor of the Baptist church, and burial followed in the Carlisle cemetery.

Walker was given an examining trial in county court Tuesday morning and was held to the circuit jury under bond of $2,500, which he was unable to muster and he was returned to jail.

Walker testified at the trial that Miller had cursed him and followed him a short time before he shot and killed him. Walker said that Miller made a motion as if to reach for a weapon before he pulled his pistol.

Several witnesses to the fatal shooting testified that Miller made no motion before he was shot and said nothing to Walker. Deputy Sheriff Clark Leer testified that he took a pistol from Harlan Collins after he had seen Miller hand the pistol to Collins after Miller was shot.

Three Slain From Ambush In Clay Feud Flareup

Three persons, one of them a woman, were killed last Wednesday in a feud flareup on Double Creek, Clay county. Those killed were Port Collins, aged about 25, Ed Jones, 21, and Mrs. John Wagers. The first two, authorities said, were shot from ambush as they were on their way to the John Wagers home after Mrs. Wagers had been killed. Mrs. Wagers was killed when unidentified men fired a volley into the house.

It was was a son of Joe Litts, whose home was fired on several weeks ago by ambushers. Two other sons were wounded at the time, one of them seriously. Tom Wagers, a relative of Wassie and John Wagers, was slain from ambush last week.

A posse of Clay county officers Thursday arrested four men in connection with the slaying. All were lodged in jail at Manchester.

Boyle Farmer Burns Home, Ends Life With Shotgun

W. C. Gray, 43, Boyle county farmer, committed suicide by setting fire to his home early Thursday morning, barricaded himself in his burning home and ended his life by blowing the side of his head off with a shotgun. Neighbors called the fire but Gray had committed suicide before the flames arrived and the home had been destroyed by fire.

Gray is survived by his wife and several children. He and his wife had been separated for some time, Mrs. Gray was a teacher in the Parkeville graded school, and had been too ill to teach for several weeks. She and the children were away from home at the time of the suicide. Gray, believed to have gone insane, barricaded himself in a barn across the road from his home.
