TIS THE LAST ROSE OF SUMMER

(Thomas Moore)

'Tis the last rose of summer
All her lovely companions
Are faded and gone;
No flower of her kindred,
No rosebud is nigh
To reflect back her blushes
Or give sigh for sigh!

I'll not leave thee, thou lone one!
To pine on the stem;
Since the lovely are sleeping,
Go, sleep thou with them;
Thus kindly I scatter
Thy leaves o'er the bed
Where thy mates of the garden
Lie scentless and dead.

So soon may I follow
When friendships decay,
And from Love's shining circle
The gems drop away!
When true hearts lie withered,
And fond ones are flown,
Oh, who would inhabit
This bleak world alone?

Cowan entertained with a beautifully appointed six o'clock dinner on Tuesday evening at their home on Eastern Avenue in honor of Miss Bee Wyatt, whose marriage to Mr. Robert Thursby and Friday mornings, ten to ten-thirty at the home of Mrs. R. H. Cunningham, the pastor, is preaching a series of sermons that are proving helpful and inspiring and conversion to the hearts of his hearers. They are held only from intermediate and Sterling Blake. The color scheme of the dinner was carried out in the decorations of the table, the crystal candle sticks and crystal baskets of yellow flowers were arranged artistically.

RELIGIOUS

PRATHER HALL

The law was never given to impart life. It is impossible to make an more sinful by turning it into transgression. Its mission was to make the presence of sin, not to remove it. Only those who receive it by all its precepts could claim life. Paul in his epistles to Rome was supposed to be capable of understanding this, but he was remembered as a Hebrew. But they had the greatest essential that was given to the Gentiles at this time, a childlike faith. Come at 9:30. You are always welcome.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

H. W. Alexander, pastor.

Prayer meeting Wednesday night, (tonight) at 7:30. The regular services will continue as usual. Sunday school Sunday morning at 10:30; preaching at 11:30 and the evening service at 7:30. We have had two Sunday's vacation, now let us start anew with our attendance and we are sure you will be greatly helped by the blessings of God through the social worship in the house of God. Your pastor and his wife were certainly glad to get back to Carlisle after a two weeks vacation.

METHODIST CHURCH

E. E. Arnold, pastor.

Revival services have been planned to die begin at the Methodist church Sunday, October 31th. Mrs. J. H. Spillman, of Harrodsburg, an evangelist. Mrs. Spillman is widely known throughout the Methodist church and is not a stranger to the people of Carlisle she preached in the Christian church during the conference here two years ago.

Everyone should arrange all their affairs as far as possible so they can attend these services. Let these services be a matir of prayer and consecration.

Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30 by the pastor. Preaching in the evening as we dismiss for the Christian services at the Christian church. According to arrangements by the pastor the Baptist church will dismiss next Sunday night. This is done that there may be two services, as no one church can hold all the people.

Sunday school at 9:30. Epworth League is 6:15. Everybody invited to all services.

BAPTIST CHURCH

W. M. Hammond, pastor.

Sunday school 9:30. Subject, "Home Ideals for Today and Tomorrow." Lesson Text, Genesis 18:17-19. Devotional 6:4-7; Mark 10:13-16. Prayer service promptly at seven o'clock Wednesday evening. The Sunday school picnic will be at the home of Brother David Smart and his son, Mr. Homer Smart on the Moorefield pike, Friday afternoon, October 14. Children and adults are asked to meet at our church from 3:30 till 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, and conveyances will be provided for all.

Since Brother Arnold and his congregation are calling off the third Sunday evening for the revival at the Christian church, we will wait till the fourth Sunday evening to call off for the revival. Let all who can do so avail themselves of the opportunity to attend and enjoy this series of meetings.

With this understanding, and the Lord willing, we shall go along with out regular services the third Sunday morning, and at 7 o'clock in the evening. Visitors are always welcome at any and all of our services. For a number of Sundays the attendance has been gratifying, and we urge that all members be faithful to their church. This month closes our church year for 1932, and a number have not thus far contributed anything toward the support of the church. This is a sad mistake indeed, and extremely perilous.

REVIVAL IN PROGRESS

The revival meeting that is continuing nightly at the Christian church began Sunday with an attendance of 280 in the Bible school. This was a fine increase over the morning and evening worship hours. Rev. and Mrs. Ralph W. Pollock arrived Saturday evening from Rantoul, Illinois, where they have been engaged in a good meeting on Friday night. They are getting themselves to be outstanding in their leadership in the prayer meeting in the county seat. The service, every night in the Bible school, begins promptly at seven o'clock with a rousing songfest in which Mr. Pollock not only uses some of the old hymns of the church, but effectively introduces the more modern songs and some catchy choruses that are to be found in his special song book. Mr. Pollock possesses a baritone voice of more than average quality and his messages in song each night are from memory, are of a high nature of the services. Mr. Pollock preaches at the close of each service
