APRIL MORNING

Come to April morning;
Sit awhile and chat
There are flowers adorning
Her bosom and her hat.
The jonquil in its glory,
The violet white and blue,
And like an old love story
They whisper into you.

Tomorrow in the doorway
You'll find her standing sweet—
She'll wander mine and your way
With welcome in her feet;
A bird shall sing a carol,
And she will smile and sing
A lovely tara-tarol
Of love and spring.

Her sapphire sandals gleaming,
Balm in her hair and she wise
To all the magic dreaming
That haunts her lovely eyes:
Come to April morning;
Sit awhile and chat
About the flowers adorning
Her bosom and her hat.

RELIGIOUS

PRATHER HALL

True greatness can never be attained by striving for self. It lies only in service for others. Highest is the selfish about of man intent on his own exaltation, though he tread his fellows under foot in reach for it. Lowest was the cry of Christ intent on the good of others, though He be trodden in the mire to serve them. Self-seekers are never soul-savers. Let Christ be your Master, and all other thing to be childish. God has no little Heaven. You never stoop and go in like a little child. Come at 9:30 a. m. We are very sure.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

H. W. Alexander, pastor.

Question for discussion Wednesday night: "Did God leave all mankind to perish in the state of sin and misery?" Answer: "God having, out of His mere good pleasure, from all eternity, elected some to everlasting life, and did enter into a covenant of grace, to deliver them out of the estate of sin and misery, and to bring them into an estate of salvation by a Redeemer." Sunday school at 9:30; topic: "Jesus Rebukes Self-Seekers." Morning service at 10:30. At our morning service we plan to have our pleas ure to have with us Mr. and Mrs. Clay Crouch and children, of China. They will show some slides of the people and of their work in China. Mrs. Curtis will probably wear a Chinese costume in order to show us something of how they dress. Please do not miss these people and their pictures. I am sure it will be of interest to the young people.

METHODIST CHURCH

R. E. Arnold, pastor.

RELIGIOUS

PRATHER HALL

True greatness can never be attained by striving for self. It lies only in service for others. Highest is the selfish about of man intent on his own exaltation, though he tread his fellows under foot in reach for it. Lowest was the cry of Christ intent on the good of others, though He be trodden in the mire to serve them. Self-seekers are never soul-savers. Let Christ be your Master, and all other thing to be childish. God has no little Heaven. You never stoop and go in like a little child. Come at 9:30 a. m. We are very sure.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

H. W. Alexander, pastor.

Question for discussion Wednesday night: "Did God leave all mankind to perish in the state of sin and misery?" Answer: "God having, out of His mere good pleasure, from all eternity, elected some to everlasting life, and did enter into a covenant of grace, to deliver them out of the estate of sin and misery, and to bring them into an estate of salvation by a Redeemer." Sunday school at 9:30; topic: "Jesus Rebukes Self-Seekers." Morning service at 10:30. At our morning service we plan to have our pleas ure to have with us Mr. and Mrs. Clay Crouch and children, of China. They will show some slides of the people and of their work in China. Mrs. Curtis will probably wear a Chinese costume in order to show us something of how they dress. Please do not miss these people and their pictures. I am sure it will be of interest to the young people.
