Protest Meetings Held In Georgia Leaf Belt

Farmers of Lanier andy Coffee counties held protest meetings Thursday and called on the federal and state authorities for action on prices offered by buyers of tobacco in the south Georgia belt.

James F. McCrary, chairman of the agricultural committee, Valdosta Chamber of Commerce, announced a representative of the growers' tobacco market in Georgia had been invited to meet in Valdosta Saturday morning with a view to protecting the interest of the growers.

A mass meeting of the tobacco growers of Coffee county of Douglas declared that the farmers are being paid ruinous prices for tobacco and that the market is lower by two years considering the quality of tobacco. It is bankruptcy, starvation and ruin for the tobacco farmers of south Georgia unless tobacco prices are put on a parity for the period from 1919 and 1929 as established by the agricultural adjustment of the U. S. Bureau of Agriculture."

State Will Get U. S. Road Fund Johnson Says

Ben Johnson, chairman of the Kentucky state highway commission, after a conference with federal officials said Friday that arrangements had been worked out for Kentucky to get the $7,317,000 allotted to it under the public works program for highway construction.

"We're going to get the money," Johnson said, in an interview.

"That's settled. And we'll get it on terms agreeable to both end." Only a few minor details remain and the money will be available just as soon as the routine has been gone through with."

Other officials of the bureau of public roads had objected to the Kentucky highway setup. Johnson and W. O. Snider, highway commission engineer came for conference with Secretary Wallace and Truman H. McDonald, chief of the bureau of highways roads.

Wallace has been away but Johnson said Snyder have conferred several times with MacDonald. The announcement that a satisfactory arrangement for allocating federal road funds to Kentucky had been worked out was made by Johnson soon after he talked with MacDonald.

Among the stipulations made by MacDonald were that Kentucky treat all sections of the state as a unit in spending the federal funds. At present Kentucky is divided into nine highway districts and MacDonald told the officials that this was objectionable to the federal administration. He also urged that Kentucky have a central engineering agency to deal with the bureau of roads on technical matters.

$420,000 To State Wheat Growers For Reducing

If all Kentucky wheat growers agree to reduce their acreages in 1934 and 1935, in accordance with the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's plan, approximately $420,000 will be added to their incomes on this year's crop, and possibly an equal amount for each of 1934 and 1935, says a statement from the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky, which is charged with setting up the wheat campaign in this state.

The State's allotment upon which the adjusted price would be paid has been announced by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration at Washington as 1,620,847 bushels. The per bushel payment probably will be 20 cents, less the cost of local administration and probably 2 cents a bushel to build up an export fund. Present plans call for the payment of 20 cents a bushel in September, 1934, and the rest next spring, on this year's crop.

To determine one's individual allotment upon which the adjustment price may be received, a farmer should secure accurate figures of his wheat production in 1930, 1931 and 1932. Fifty-four per cent of this average annual production; that is, a third of his total production for the three years, is his allotment, or the amount of wheat upon which the government will pay him the benefit for his agreeing to reduce his acreage in 1934 and 1935.

To secure the adjustment payments, farmers must agree this year to reduce their acreages for the next two years by not more than 20 per cent of the average number of acres grown in 1930, 1931 and 1932. Those who sign the agreements will receive payment on their allotted bushels in this year's crop, already produced and in many instances sold, and are assured payments on their 1934 and 1935 crops.

Signing the reduction contracts will in no way interfere with the growing operations, other than that farmers must sow smaller acreage to produce their number of allotted bushels, at average yields per acre, and that they must not increase acreage in a workman like manner. This done they will receive the adjustment payments even though the crop fails. They can sell their wheat at any time and at any place they see fit.

The wheat reduction campaign in Kentucky is being organized by the agricultural extension division of the College of Agriculture, through the assistance of county agricultural agents and local committees. Committees having no farm agents will be furnished assistant agents for the period of the campaign.

Farmers desiring full information on the wheat plan of the Federal Government should see their local agent or members of the local committee working with him.

Firebug Shot And Captured At Dover

Posse Captures Mentally Ill Man As He Runs From Building Which He Had Ignited

Shot down, wounded and captured by vigilantes, a world War Veteran, mentally and physically ill, is being held in jail at Maysville as the firebug who has terrorized the village of Dover, Mason county, for the past two weeks.

He is Edward Rippee, of Dover, held on an arson charge. Following the wounding and capture of Rippee several members of the posse wanted to hang him, but were persuaded to take him over to authorities.

Rippee, who was shell-shocked in the war, was shot down about early Thursday morning leaving a fire in the store here of T. N. Manley Mayor of Dover, after having struck a match to a kerosene soaked sack of excelsior. As he raced from the building a fusillade of shots from the posse rang out. He was wounded twice in the left leg and once in the arm. He will probably recover.

The fire was the fifth to break out in Dover recently. After the third, residents formed an armed patrol and when them again struck slept. Tom men were on duty when Rippee was captured. Watch had been kept on Rippee after he gave an alarm of fire at a nearby farm. The guard remained around his home until almost daylight, when Rippee left his home and went to the barn of Mayor Manley. He was discovered by the posse.

Two other men are in jail at Maysville charged with participation in the fires.

Sock In The Nose Causes Defeat

Led D. B. Caudill To File For Nomination Against Judge Henry Prewitt

An Associated Press story appearing in last Saturday's daily papers gives the following version of a personal encounter which is said to have occurred in the circuit judge race between Henry R. Prewitt, of Mt. Sterling, and D. B. Caudill, the successful candidate, in the Montgomery, Bath, Rowan and Menifee district.

A sock in the nose indirectly led to the defeat of Circuit Judge Henry R. Prewitt, Mt. Sterling, who conducted several of the murder trials arising from Kentucky's mine labor disorders of 1931. It happened this way, according to D. B. Caudill, Lee successful candidate.

Caudill, who was defeated by Judge Prewitt six years ago, told him he did not intend to run this year. Then sometime you [illegible] last day for filing candidacies, he held a dispute with a Prewitt adherent who said around the hotel in the nose and knocked him down.

Infuriated, Caudill said he returned to his home at Morehead, telephoned Judge Prewitt and told him he had decided to file. He hastily prepared his papers, and sent a special messenger speeding to Frankfort, who arrived during the hour before midnight, the deadline for filing with the secretary of state.

Caudill filed for both the Republican and Democratic nominations. Prewitt had filed in the Democratic race only. The final count in the district, which includes Montgomery, Bath, Menifee and Rowan counties, revealed Caudill had won the Democratic nomination by 136 votes, giving him the judgship.

RELIEF WORK CEASES UPON INSTRUCTIONS FROM LOUISVILLE

New Rate Of $2.40 Per Day Had Exhausted Balance Due This County

LAST WORK THURSDAY

Instructions from the Kentucky Relief Committee Thursday directed that all relief work in this county be stopped as quickly as possible, by reason of the fact that the balance in Louisville to the credit of Nicholas county as of August 1, would, if overdrawn by the work done in this county if work was continued on Friday and Saturday.

Under the new scale of 30 cents an hour for an eight hour day, workers have been receiving $2.40 a day which rapidly exhausted the allocation made to this county for August. The new scale of 30 cents an hour is required by the National Emergency Act program and naturally relief administrators in this county had no choice in the matter.

Reports from the county directing their relief work stop was received here late Thursday afternoon, messengers were sent to the various jobs where they could not be reached by telephone in order to convey the message to the foremen to cease work and bring in their tools. Work was resumed Saturday the Disbursing Officer and clerical force were busy issuing the merchandise orders in order that the last payment could be made.

Since relief work started in January Nicholas county has been allocated approximately $16,720.00 to be spent by the National Emergency Relief in cases where the recipient was unable to work. A very small fraction of this sum has been paid for the administration of the work and salaries of clerical workers. Members of the committee gave their time and did without wages.

Not a penny of money was handled by any member of the committee, but by the auditor appointed by the relief administration in this county. All funds were kept in Louisville and merchandise orders issued here and [illegible] registration. Legislation to be considered at the special session.

As to the length of the session, Governor LaFoon said "it should not last any longer than is required to get the measures that will be submitted to the legislature, and in my opinion should not be much more time wasted in debate and fooling around."

The call did not include the question of the repeal of the Beach-Graham state enforcement act and any action on that matter will have to await the regular session convening next January 2.

Governor LaFoon said he will have a definite program to submit to the special session in reference to the questions to be submitted the legislature." He added that he will have suggestions later as to other matters he intends to submit at the regular session next year.

The governor wants the automobile registration law amended to permit owners of passenger cars, for which license plates have not been bought this year, to purchase plates for as many twelfths of the annual fee as there are unexpired months in the calendar year. Under the law as it now stands purchasers or owners are required to pay the full annual fee regardless of the time of the year the plates are purchased.

There has not been a special session of the Legislature, since 1917 when it was convened by Governor Stanley, except when it was called by the governor himself.

Nicholas county is represented at the special session by Will McReddie

Attacks Use Of "Extra Help" In Recent Years

The last ten legislatures, from 1916 to 1932 inclusive, cost the state of Kentucky $1,552,254.74, this is the state inspector and examiner, said in a report on the costs and conduct of legislative sessions filed here by Ruby Laffoon.

The cost of administrations for the ten sessions was: A. O. Stanley, 1916, $238,098.67; S. W. Black, 1918, $368,046.55; E. P. Morrow, two regular, $285,086.66; W. J. Fields, two regular, $236,658.10; P. D. Sampson, one regular, $253,062.77 and Ruby Laffoon, one regular, $184,523.26.

He pointed to the fact that the session and the house in 1930 and 1932 passed resolutions authorizing the president of the senate and the speaker of the house to employ "extra help" as was deemed necessary by the presiding officers of the business of the two houses.

"Acting under this thinly-veiled pretense of authority, the speaker of the house (John Y. Brown) employed 16 extra employes and the president of the senate 28 extra employes,' Laffoon declared, adding that in addition the state constitution provides for 12 officers and employes of the house and ten for the senate.

"We find no provision for the general assembly in voting a bonus for the benefit of its employes. Their pay is fixed by the constitution and statute, for the services rendered," Mr. Laffoon said.

Lieutenant Governor Chandler, by naming 20 additional employes, including his personal page and his private secretary, "set a record," Mr. Laffoon said, "which we hope no future senate will attempt to equal, since it represented the highest number of surplus employes any Kentucky senate ever had at any session in the history of the commonwealth.

WOULD GO BACK TO FINISH HER WORK BEGUN 25 YEARS AGO

Rev. James C. Ogden Makes Plea To Nicholas Churches To Send Her Back

BEGAN WORK IN 1905

The Mercury is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. James C. Ogden, now visiting her daughter in Akron, Ohio, in which she makes a plea to all churches in Nicholas county to send her back to Batang, in remote Tibet, to finish the missionary work begun by herself and her husband in 1905.

After the death of Mr. Ogden in Los Angeles in 1928, Mrs. Ogden returned to Tibet. The missionary station at Batang was closed, however in 1932 and Mrs. Ogden returned to Los Angeles last December.

Mr. Ogden's letter follows:

"Dear Mr. Sumner and Family:

BACK TO TIBET

Twenty-eight years ago my husband, James C. Ogden, and I were at this time on the Pacific coast attending the annual conference, getting ready to sail for China, and on to the work in Tibet. We had been married this as old life's work. It took us five months to reach our station, Batang, Tibet, after we had said our tender feeling for those brown people whom we had come to love. We were right among them the rest of our stay. We learned to learn their language, speak it, read, write, and translate their church needed books for their use. We learned to love their language.

We spent three terms together, and after his death in 1929 Miss Grace Vinson, a nurse, and I returned, and I had just started my fourth term when the word came the station at Batang where we had been since 1908, must be closed. We must return to Peking to America. We did so and on December 24th last I left Los Angeles. I felt if I could not stay and work with the Tibetans the desire ever to return, has been taken away from me, and surely it would, but the desire to go back among them is deeper and I cannot rest and am not satisfied. We long ago sent one and to my son Harold, "Your mother would never want to go back would she?" And he replied, "She would be ashamed of her if she didn't want to go back." And I am sure Ruth feels the same about it.

I at this time call Nicholas county and I have been thinking how happy I would be if all the churches would get together and send me back to Tibet, yes, and many of the members of the churches are my own relatives. We erect monuments to our loved ones here, but I feel that would be the greatest monument you could erect to the memory of James C. Ogden. To preach the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ to the Tibetan people. His people and the ones for whom He gave His life. I counted Him not and not try to go back and spend the rest of my days there. I must go back and I am willing to work my fingers to the bone, but I feel sure in some way or somewhere there will be provided a way for me to return and work with the Tibetan people, and when I am laid in my little orphan children say, "Your did come back, didn't you?"

We have not built a home but during this depression, but none of us have had to sleep on the floor, use the same garment we wore in day time for bedding, or to eat from a small wooden bowl. This is the kind of poverty the Tibetan has to live in. I have told about it. We complain while we have our comforts and we have been blest by the depression.

I wish I could speak to every church in Nicholas county and I know every church, Christian, Christian, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, or any other church, for we are all interested in having the Gospel in every nation. We are commanded to go into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature. It was for the purpose and soul of God to send Christ to Tibet, and he must depend on us to carry on His work in the distant lands as well as in our own land. Are we willing to make that sacrifice? Are we willing to give as much, and gave His life. What have we done? If Christ came unsparingly to us we will not be satisfied until we have sent him to others. May God lead us to do His will.

I am with my daughter Ruth for a few days and expect back to Los Angeles. I will be glad to visit any of the churches of Nicholas county for a few days if the way is open.

Yours in His Service,
Minnie Asbury Ogden
