A Way Must Be Found.

It is a fact that no one can deny that the Central Kentucky coal fields contain the largest reserves of coal in the world. It is estimated that these fields contain over 50 billion tons of coal. This is a vast resource, and it is one that must be developed in a way that will benefit the people of the state.

The State Debt.

The State of Kentucky has a large public debt. This debt is the result of various public works projects and other government activities. It is estimated that the state's debt is over $100 million. This is a significant amount, and it is one that must be managed carefully.

Postal Deficit Reduced.

The deficit of the United States Post Office for the month of July has been reduced. This is due to various factors, including increased mail volume and improved efficiency. The deficit is now estimated to be around $10 million, down from $20 million in June.
