Closing Of L. & N. Depot At Millersburg Discussed

A discussion of the proposed closing of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad station at Millersburg was held last week at the luncheon-meeting of the Millersburg Rotary Club. Speakers were J. H. Fitch, Lexington, L. & N. division freight agent; T. B. Carr, Lexington general agent, W. H. Harris, Lexington freight agent, and J. W. Sheeler, Millersburg general agent. Decrease in freight business, the speakers said, has caused the truck transportation, was given by the speakers as the reason for the proposed closing of the Millersburg station.

The club went on record as being opposed to the closing of the station, the members pledging support in the effort to increase the local freight business. It was decided that notice of the club's position on the matter would be sent to John M. McGrail, Lexington, L. & N. divisional superintendent.

Madison Democrats May Avoid Primary

That the Democratic party in Madison county again will avoid a primary and will choose candidates for county offices by vote of members of the county committee was indicated by a resolution of the committee made public Monday.

The county committee met Saturday in executive session at the court house and adopted the resolution. A large number of persons are prospects for county offices, it is said, but offices to be filled in November and it is believed that a primary might cause dissension in the party ranks. The ticket in the final election, so close to Republican control, is to be chosen between the two dominant parties.

The committee also met Monday and finally decide to nominate the ticket but called an open meeting at the court house Saturday, to which all Democrats are invited and at which the adoption of the method of nomination will be had.

New Model Ford On Display In Carlisle

The largest and most powerful Ford car built since Henry Ford began building cars, a new model, is now on display at Harper's Garage here.

The new Ford—a V-8 cylinder, 112-inch wheelbase car—has new and beautiful lines, a longer hood, new wheelbase, larger and roomier bodies, faster acceleration, more flexible power and speed. It is exceedingly economical in operation and with 32 miles to the gallon of gas, a sustained speed of 80 miles an hour.

The new Ford is engineered in the 14 body types. Features of distinction are the sloping V-type radiator grille, the slanted fenders, newly-designed headlamps, cowl lamps and bumpers, the curve of the hood side ventilators, the 20-degree slant of the windshield and the rear deck lines, the curve of the rear quarter and the slanting rear of the body for masking the gasoline tank.

The new all-steel bodies are wider, lower and longer from the engine dash back and consequently have more room. The instrument panel is directly in front of the driver, and is a complete instrument compartment at the right side of the instrument board. Front seats are individually adjustable. Options in upholstery and wide choice of body colors is offered. The new car has a safety glass windshield and all Doors are equipped with safety glass. Other refinements include rear-vision mirror, automatic windshield wiper, rain-vision ventilating windows, automatic spark control, and two manifold type horns.

The new Ford V-8 engine is fitted with aluminum cylinder heads, a fully balanced crankshaft, improved combustion head, more rigid valve gear, and other refinements that provide increased speed, power and economy.

Chassis features include a 56-horsepower engine, the crankshaft is rigidly counterbalanced, and operates on 5 main bearings. Pistons and connecting rods are uniform in weight. All of these features contribute to place all moving parts in perfect balance, thus assuring exceptional smoothness of operation. The engine is fitted with a downdraft carburetor, air-intake silencer and a diaphragm-type fuel pump.

Ford's 112-inch wheelbase chassis include an extremely rigid double-drop X-type frame, torque tube drive, a straddle-mounted rear axle pinion, transverse cantilever springs, internal expanding mechanical four wheel brakes, 11-inch molded steel spoke wheels and tires of 5.50 inches section.

The frame is cushioned by four Hotchkiss double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers. The shock absorber links are insulated in rubber. The rear fuel tank has a capacity of 14 gallons.

Front transmission is of the synchronized type with helical constant mesh gears, and operates quietly both in second speed, and during speed changing. The clutch is of the single plate type and is spring cushioned for soft engagement.

Mrs. George B. Blandfield, of Menifee, Pa., was granted a divorce after testifying her husband "monopolized the bed covers" and accusing him of hitting her on the ear when she pulled the clothes to her side of the bed.

Hoover Says Economic War Threatens World

Sounding a rallying call to the Republican party to support the new administration in all constructive measures, President Hoover, in an address at New York Monday night coupled with this a warning that the world is threatened with "an insurgent outbreak of economic war."

The President asserted the preventive for such an outbreak "can only be found now and found quickly in re-establishing confidence in gold standards among important nations."

He urged "bold" action and initiative and declared that a swap on debts might be acceptable to gain this end.

Delivering the final address of his administration at a Lincoln Day dinner of the National Republican club in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, the chief executive said he desired to speak of matters upon which there should be no partisanship.

First, however, speaking as the titular head of the Republican party, he forecast that "it will be recalled to power by the American people."

He pointed to the 15,000,000 Republican votes in the last election despite "the reaction from the word depression the world has ever seen" as such an evidence and added that "none of the sure guarantees that this will be so" was the support given by the 40% of the country. The party, he said, must look to them. He said "the Republican party will support the new administration in every measure which will promote public welfare."

PROVIDENCE TAXLESS TOWN

Webster county last Thursday night. The saving in the department salaries will be $750. Two policemen resigned to save the city more than two thousand dollars. It was fortunate for one Murphin that an honest man found the $112 he lost on January 25th. On that date R. M. Blackerby found a burglar proof dollar bill, a ten dollar bill and two ones on the floor of the Stanford Garage and after looking for the owner thinking it would be advertised for, and failing to hear of any one who had suffered loss and finding no advertisement in any of the issues of these columns, he inserted a 25c local in the I. J.'s classified column. The owner was found Thursday afternoon before the ink was dry. It pays to advertise in a paper with such a circulation as the Interior Journal has

Owingsville City Council Orders Street Lights Off

The streets of Owingsville have been in darkness for the past week as a result of drastic action taken by the city council at a meeting last Wednesday night. Resolutions were passed by the council to discontinue all street lights indefinitely. The action taken by the city was the culmination of negotiations with the Kentucky Central division of the Texas-Louisiana Power Company since the first day of last December. The time of the expiration of the contract with the power company for lighting the streets during the past year has been fixed at $1,800 per year for lighting the streets and the power company refused to lower the price.

A rate of 13 cents per kilowatt hour is charged business houses and residences in Owingsville.

WORLD OWN UTILITIES

(Stanford Interior-Journal)

Citizens of Memorial becoming tired of what they claim are exorbitant electric bills have organized a charter from the Secretary-of-State and purpose building a community power plant. Approximately one hundred citizens have subscribed to the stock lists.

Other cities have under consideration a similar movement. They claim that property rights should be respected and a fair price paid for everything, but think that it would be a good idea to regulate distribution of power along lines of public interest and fairness, instead of entrusting all the companies to regulate everything for themselves incidentally indulging in such stock manipulations as have caused Insull to change

Two Youths Arrested In Lindbergh Extortion Plot

Two youths were arrested at Roanoke, Va., Thursday and charged with attempting to extort $50,000 from Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, with kidnaping of his second son as the alternative to payment. Joe Bryant, 19, and Norman Harvey, 20, both residents of Roanoke, were taken into custody shortly after they attempted to cash a $17,000 check at a police operatives, masking as representatives of the famous flier, had placed in a stamp.

The second threat to Lindbergh was made public less than twelve months from the night his first-born was snatched away from his crib and murdered in the Hopewell hills of New Jersey.

Bryant and Harvey denied knowledge of threat using letters sent to Lindbergh and said they found the check.

MASSIC ASSAULTERS FREED

The finale of a trial which shook the South to its core and overwhelmed a foundations was written Monday when charges against four men of whom had accused of criminally attacking Mrs. Thalia Massie, bride of Lieutenant Thomas Massie, naval officer of Whitehaven, were dropped at the request of the prosecution. The four men had been held under bond for more than a year.

"Red" Tincher To Be Tried Today

One Of Bandits Which Attempted To Rob Moorefield Bank To Be Placed On Trial

Irvin "Red" Tincher, one of the four bandits who attempted to rob the Moorefield bank in this county on November 22, will be tried on the charge in the Nicholas circuit court today, according to announcement given out by Lexington officers Saturday.

Local officials would give no information concerning the trial of Tincher, but it is presumed an indictment was returned by the grand jury Tuesday.

Tincher is a cousin of George W. "Stribby" Tincher, who is under death sentence for the robbery and murder of the Stamping Ground bank. Frank Gadsley, also under sentence of death, and Isaac Swanigan, a trusty and member of the inmate comment, were the other members of the bandit quartet which held J. H. Swango, president of the bank, his wife and three daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hall, bank cashier, at gun point in the bank, prisoners for several hours on the night of November 22. "Red" Tincher was not implicated in the Stamping Ground robbery and was employed by a band which robbed the bank at Stamping Ground Saturday night, October 21. Trial of Tincher and Calvin Swango, alias Jack Swango, is expected until May when called at Shelbyville Friday.

Tincher has been held in the Lexington jail for safekeeping since his capture.

It is probable that Tincher will enter a plea of guilty when arraigned today.

Llewllyn Holmes Is Best Speller

13-Year-Old Student Of Moorefield School Wins Annual Spelling Bee Here Saturday

Nineteen of the thirty-one rural schools in this county had representatives in the annual spelling bee held at the court house Saturday afternoon.

Llewllyn Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Holmes, of Moorefield was adjudged winner of the bee and will represent the county in Frankfort in April to compete with boys and girls from other counties of the state for the county championship. She is in the eighth grade. Mrs. J. H. Bronaugh is her teacher.

Albert Dorton, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Dorton, was second. He is a student in the Moorefield school. Miss Lucy Lee James Henry is teacher. The word that spelled Albert down was given him.

Nola McFarland, student in the Myers school, was third, missing the word "interfere." She is in the eighth grade. Miss Ruth Lee Buchanan is her teacher.

The Class A and Class B winners will represent the district, composed of Bourbon county and counties, in the Twelfth Regional Tournament, which will be held at Georgetown April 6 and Saturday, March 10 at 11.

Paris will in all probability be the winner in Class A, as the Greyhounds have shown strong contender for state honors.

Tincher, Glenday Sentenced To Die In Chair April 18

April 18 has been set as the date for the electrocution of George W. "Stribby" Tincher, 27 years old, of Sharpsburg, and Frank Glenday, 27, of Chicago, in the electric chair at the Kentucky state penitentiary.

Formal sentence on the two men, who were found guilty in the Bath circuit court two weeks ago on murder charges in connection with the fatal shooting of Cashier Jim Keenon during the holdup of the Bath county bank at Owingsville, Dec. 27, were passed in the Scott circuit court at Georgetown Monday by Judge H. Church Ford.

Tincher and Glenday have both asked for new trials, and the date of their electrocution may be delayed pending appeal.

CITY MAY LOSE LIGHTS

A threat to discontinue the street light and fire hydrant water service to the city of Shelbyville unless an increase of $9,000 is granted by the Kentucky Utilities Company for that service, was made last Thursday night in a letter to the board of council of Shelbyville by L. B. Herrington, president of the company. The council has refused to pay the $9,000, contending the company owes the city $3,500 for failure to furnish an adequate supply of water through 1930 and 1931. The company refuses to recognize the claim.

WORK WILL CONTINUE

Nicholas county will receive $4,623 for unemployment relief work during the months of March and April out of $2,636,708 made to the state last Friday by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, it was announced in Washington Saturday. The total allotment will go toward support of the county health unit, having $4,500, or the same amount allotted to the county for unemployment relief during the months of January and February.

An allotment of $6,000 had been asked for the county by County Judge Paul D. Darnall and the local relief committee.

The local relief program, for which the state relief commission allotted this county $4,500, did not get into full swing until almost the middle of January and the work employed increased rapidly in following weeks.

Since the first allotment expires here, all applicants reported upon the relief rolls have been given work or will be given work on farms and in other lines, the committee said.

All persons now being given aid are urged at all times to secure other unemployment whenever possible.

The following is a summary of the amount of relief given by the local committee up to Friday, February 17:

Direct Relief	$ 1,230.63
Direct Relief	362.26
Allocation to Nicholas County for January and February salaries	206.96
	$4,323.44

Attempt Made On Roosevelt's Life

Mayor Of Chicago And Four Other Persons Wounded By Assassin Firing At President-Elect

An unsuccessful attempt to assassinate President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt was made at Miami, Fla., last Wednesday night by a gunman who fired a stream of bullets into the Roosevelt party, seriously wounding Anton Cermak, Mayor of Chicago, and four other persons. Mrs. Joe H. McGill, of Miami, who was standing near the President-elect, was shot in the stomach and seriously wounded. The other victims were only slightly wounded.

The assassin was captured by the crowd and rushed to jail. Shooting with an arrest, the man gave his name as Joe Zangara, an Italian bricklayer, of Hackensack, N. J. Zangara said "I am sorry I didn't kill him. I want to kill all presidents; kill all officials." Zangara told police he attempted to assassinate Mr. Roosevelt at Italy some years ago and had considered killing President Hoover, but found he was too closely guarded.

Zangara is believed to be a lunatic. Police said he had been a failure at society, and police and secret service officials declared that he made only his attempt at the life of the former President.

The Roosevelt party had stopped at Miami while returning from a cruise on the yacht Nourmahal. The President-elect had just finished a speech in Bayfront park and was in the park in Miami when Zangara, a man of slight build, stepped up on a chair 25 feet from the automobile, suddenly arose and fired.

The President-elect visited Mayor Cermak and other victims in the hospital before leaving for New York. He was calm throughout the confusion into which the bloodshed of assault and police and secret service officials precipitated. Throughout
