PREACHING AT MOORFIELD
There will be preaching at Moorfield Sunday night at 7:30. Rev. Alexander from Carlisle will deliver the message. Everyone is cordially invited.

PRATHER HALL
A believing world can trust and rejoice in a risen LORD and Saviour. The shame and ignomy, as well as the suffering are over. Though they appointed His grave with the wicked, God the Father put Him in a rich man's tomb.
His miraculous entry into the world was more than matched by His miraculous exit. When He said to His disciples, "I am leaving the world to go to the Father," little did they dream of the shame and suffering, distress and death that lay before Him upon that dreadful path to the Father. Come at 7:30. You are welcome.

Behavior Of Boys At Forest Camp Excellent

Following the first pay day for men in the reforestation relief camp at Ft. Knox where 5,000 youths were quartered, not a single case of drunkenness or disorder was reported, according to Harper Cutton, Director of the Kentucky Relief Commission. There were chosen 5,100 unmarried boys between ages of 18 and 25 for reforestation work, Mr. Cutton explained. Approximately 75 per cent of the number were selected from families where actual relief need exists. The others were selected from Washington, because of possibilities of leadership showed.

Many of these boys are college graduates, new engineering. They will have opportunity to advance to permanent employment in the forestry service, airplane or sub-service if sufficient aptitude is disclosed, it was explained.

The youthful inhabitants of the forestry camps are required to work 40 hours a week planting trees, building fire lines and cutting out underbrush. Recreational facilities are provided. A monthly wage of $30.00 is paid the boys in addition to their board and all subsistence expenses. Of that sum camp inmates are required to send $25.00 a month to their needy dependents. This detail is handled through the United States Army.

Enlistment in the camps is for six months. Inspection of the various camps indicates that the men are living a healthy, comfortable life, are themselves being provided for and are being given a chance to contribute to the support of their families, Mr. Gatten said.

John Y. Brown Fears Loss Of Patronage

Representative John Young Brown, of Lexington, Friday said Joseph C. O'Mahoney, First Assistant Postmaster-General, had implied that I won't get any patronage." Brown said O'Mahoney, who is in charge of appointment of Postmasters, had told him that the Kentucky delegation in congress is against him, and that the administration in Kentucky is against him.

Brown has demanded a share in the patronage of the Sixth district with Congressman Virgil Chapman. The differences were aired after Brown had urged O'Mahoney to appoint Marshall Vaughn as postmaster at Berea. Differences between Brown and the Kentucky delegation have been marked since Brown went to Congress last March, and began when Brown, as speaker of the Kentucky legislature in 1932, fought Governor Laffoon's sales tax proposal.

Other Kentucky Congressmen said they were having no difficulty in securing postmasterships.

Kentucky One Of Few States To Pay Schools

With the final installment of its Common School Fund in the hands of all school districts throughout the state, Kentucky is the first of the few states which has met in full the payment of the share of dollars from the state fund, according to an announcement made by Barnie M. Richmond, Superintendent of Public Instruction. The total expenditure for the common school fund for the year this year was $1,972,660, which supplements local revenues.

Payment of the seven dollars per pupil was completed on June 1, and when the fourth part of the seventh installment went out to city, county and independent districts Monday, June 5, this time some people were in doubt that the rest of the school fund would be sufficient to meet the seven dollars per pupil. Mr. Richmond said, but this sum has been met and there is a small balance. In this report is the first time that Kentucky has enviable record among the other states which are still in arrears on payments from their school fund for the current year.

Mr. Richmond said that it was necessary to send warrants for part of the June payment to the districts, all of which were disposed of at par with the exception of the school tax which was paid because of the change in the discount date on delinquent taxes from September 1 to November 1, and in the penalty date from January 1 to March 1. This explains why the tax payment was also accounted for the delay in payment of the June allotment.

Unofficial estimates of the per pupil apportionment for 1933-34 indicate that it will be approximately 15 per cent less than that for the past year.

BAPTIST BOYS FROM FIVE COUNTIES AT CAMP BLACK HAWK

70 Members Of Royal Ambassadors Enjoying Week's Outing At Scout Camp

DR. COWAN IN CHARGE

A group of several Baptist Royal Ambassador boys from all sections of the Bracken Association are enjoying the week at Camp Black Hawk, the Scout camp on Licking river. The boys are having a delightful time.

This is the first time any R. A. group has had an outing of this kind, and Baptist pastors and other leaders are saying it is the finest thing ever done for the boys, and that it is only the beginning of greater things.

This year marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Royal Ambassadors, one of the largest boys' work sponsored by the Women's Missionary Union. It is an organization for boys ranging in age from 9 to 16 years.

Mrs. G. T. Cowan, of Carlisle, is the young peoples leader of Bracken Association, and if it weren't for her inspiration and the efforts of her husband Dr. G. T. Cowan, such a camp was made possible. Bracken Association is, indeed, fortunate in having such a talented leader as Mrs. Cowan in the management of the camp and also in the many outstanding men, including Dr. J. B. Ehrhorn of Mt. Sterling, Rev. H. H. Kazee of Morehead Rev Howard Kingston, of Maysville and Brooksville Rev. Hoskins of Augusta, G. B. Leonard and D. W. Supp both of Maysville, Rev. Wesley and Thomas Fitzpatrick both of Carlisle, are also assisting.
