BALD HILL

(Laura O. Dobson, Correspondent)

Come on ex-preachers. Let us revise our terms and leave off that afternoon visiting stuff. No one knows who visits his neighbor only in the community in which it is done, and that community knows about it. Other communities are not interested and it takes up so much space in our county paper, which we want to help keep the best paper in Kentucky and in the United States. Let us help our editor and his staff to keep it so.

About eighteen or twenty men have been working on our road, which has been greatly improved. We hope the good work will continue.

There has been very little moving in and out in this community so far this year. Only Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Ellisville moved last week to G. W. Dobson's place of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Lockard. Joseph Snapp and family have moved in with Richard Earlywine.

Young Mr. Banfield, who has been a guest of Richard Earlywine, has returned to his home in Lewis county.

Aunt Matt Dotson is able to get about some. Mrs. A. F. Ogden is said to be at Cynthiana school and Uncle Chap Ritchie is confined to his bed with something like partial paralysis.

The local banks were opened Wednesday to make change and carry on other limited business as prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Dealers here Wednesday were paying 8 cents per dozen for eggs, a drop of two cents from last week. No prices are quoted on the city markets.

The residence of the late Mrs. Mary C. Wilson, on Dorsey avenue, offered at public auction Saturday afternoon, was withdrawn after it had been bid to $500.

James Stewart, of Carlisle, was one of the twelve seniors at Transylvania College who received grades of all "A" and "B" during the past semester.

A routine meeting of the Nicholas fiscal court was held last Thursday with all of the Magistrates present. Current accounts were allowed and their monthly business disposed of.

Friends here have received notice that Mrs. Art. Gaither E. Smith, of Indianapolis, Ind., formerly of Carlisle, suffered painful injuries in an automobile accident at Indianapolis several days ago.

W. E. Brannaman, local agent for the L. & N., who suffered a fracture of the arm several weeks ago when he fell from a truck while unloading express from a train, has recovered sufficiently to return to work.

Most of the rural schools of the county will close their seven months terms next Friday, March 17. Some of the schools which took an extra week for the Christmas holidays will not complete their terms until March 24.

The weather man forecasts more storms, with colder weather, for today. Rain fell throughout the county Tuesday, further retarding spring growing, which has been hindered by wet weather and frozen ground.

Work has progressed rapidly on the grade and drain of the Miller Station road from the city limits of Carlisle to the Maysville and Lexington road. Most of the culverts and the foundations for the bridges have been completed.

Season tickets are now on sale for the regular basket ball tournament to be held here Friday and Saturday. No doubt large crowds from Carlisle and the county will attend the tournament. Buy a season ticket and help to make the tournament a success.

Most farmers throughout the county have completed burning out growing tobacco beds, although they were retarded in this work during the past week by the cold weather and freezing condition of the ground. Some reports have been received of the theft of canvas from tobacco beds.

Sheriff D. M. Curry reports that collection of taxes has practically stopped since the closing of the banks, Curry says. He has issued warrants against a large part of the state and county taxes of the county remain unpaid, and taxpayers have until March 31 to pay before the penalty is added. The penalty has already been added on city taxes.

The county diploma examination for rural schools will be held on Tuesday, March 28, while the examination for graduation will be held on Tuesday, March 21. Mrs. Etta B. Taylor, County Superintendent, announced Wednesday. A large number of children from the rural schools of the county are expected to take the examination.

The Mercury extends congratulations to its corps of correspondents for the improvement in the news sent in this week. In practically every letter there is at least one item of general interest other than visiting. By sending in all of the news of general interest in the various communities, our correspondents can make this department the most interesting in The Mercury.

Persons living in or near Carlisle who have ground suitable for garden, and who are willing to donate the use of it or have a garden raised on the shares are requested to notify the local relief committee at once. A number of persons now receiving local relief have no garden spot and the relief committee is endeavoring to secure a place for everyone to have a garden.

At the morning service at the Christian church Sunday morning a short program was given in celebration of the third anniversary of the ministry of Rev. S. H. Cunningham. H. K. Veach, chairman of the official board, and Hardy Myer, chairman of the board of elders, praised Rev. Cunningham for the splendid work he has done. During his ministry more than 200 additions have been made to the church.

There is a considerable shortage of tenant houses in Nicholas county this year, according to reports from that section, and tenants have not moved because of being unable to find a house in which to live. Large numbers of former residents who have been living in the various industrial centers for several years are moving back and occupying tenant houses. There are few empty residences in Carlisle.

MARCH

Spring's a-peepin' round the corner, Peekin' round at me, Comes a-dashin up behind ye Sly as she can be.

Only, when it hurt there's Winter, Cold and cold and gruff— Such is March, no nice, then Suddenly a mean old bluff.

Even so, when he's a-blowin', Shinin' after all— Still I know that Spring's a-comin' With her whole long heart.

Made of grass so green and flowers, Bluebells and all— Spring's a-peepin' round the corner, Peekin' over the wall.

RELIGIOUS

PRATHER HALL

It is almost impossible for us to believe that God can do most, when we do so little and expect so much. The multitude is met with His mercy. The disciples would have sent the people away starving. The Lord filled them full. Little becomes much when laid in His hands. Fragments, if faithfully gathered, will go for towards filling the hungry. Let us believe! Come at 9.30. You are welcome.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

H. W. Alexander, pastor.

Preaching at 11 a. m. Will take up the Catechism question, "What is God?" Golden Text: "God is love." It is any want of conformity unto or transgression of the law." Text: 3:16 "For God so loved, that He gave." Sermon topic: "Jesus' Ministering To The Multitude." Luke 4:40 to 5:16, text: John 3:16 "For God so loved, that He gave." Sermon topic: "Can a man be profitable unto God?" Job 22:2 Theme: "God's Investment."

METHODIST CHURCH

E. K. Arnold, pastor.

All services Sunday at regular hour of worship. Splendid services last Sunday. Attendance very good although some were absent. A timely sermon Sunday morning will await those who were absent. It.

"Remember and forget not" the Sunday school hour.

Epworth League and prayer services at their regular times next Sunday.

Let the choir practice. Your presence helps the preacher to preach and encourages others to sing. Stuff we lack greatly. A church with a program and one talent serves to help.
