U. Of K. Mineral Exhibit To Be Greatly Enlarged

An enlarged and greatly augmented exhibit of Kentucky's minerals, fossils and other rocks, will be open to the inspection of the public about October 1, according to David M. Young, curator of the museum of the department of Geology, University of Kentucky.

The museum, located on the second floor of the administration building on the campus, has lately gained access to considerably more room as a result of the removal of the properties of the now abolished Department of Mineral and Topographic Survey. The additional space will make possible a 50 per cent enlargement of displays. New cases are now being prepared, and when the museum is again open to the public, the collections will be the most complete of their type in the state.

Considerable damage was done by settling of the museum in the recent storm and the work of re-opening the museum will depend when the repairs are completed. The geological museum is maintained by the geological department of the University, headed by Dr. A. C. McFarlan. Much of the material in the museum represents gifts from Kentuckians and others.

PROGRAM

Tonight, Thursday, comes Irene Dunn in "THIS MAN IS MINE." This is the kind you like, don't miss it.

Saturday—John Wayne in "RIDERS OF DESTINY," also a good comedy. Be sure and see them.

LYRIC THEATRE

Buntin's Garage reports the sale of three Dodge trucks and two automobiles during the past week.

Sheriff D. M. Curry and Deputy Sheriff L. B. Barton are making a canvass of the county rounding up unlicensed cars. More than 1,500 dog licenses have been issued this year.

Floyd Kerns, who has been appraiser for the Flemingsburg Credit Production Association Bank at Flemingsburg, has been appointed assistant secretary of the association.

George Carr, of Lexington, has leased the bakery on Locust street from Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Caywood and has taken charge of the business. Mr. Carr has had twenty years experience as a baker.

Nicholas county farmers in some sections have started cutting and housing their tobacco crops. The crop in this county this year promises to be of the best quality in years. Corn and other crops are of fine quality this year.

A sow belonging to Mrs. John M. Hamilton, of the Pleasant Springs pike, recently farrowed a litter of 16 pigs, of which 14 are living. The sow had farrowed 23 pigs in three litters before this litter, 20 pigs being farrowed this year.

The Nicholas county board of education has assumed control of the transportation of pupils in schools which have been discontinued, to other schools as follows: Ernest Alexander, Wright and Locust Grove pupils to Minerva; Mrs. Ethel Small pupils to Beechgrove; Mrs. Ruth Ellis pupils to Stoney Creek; Wilson Clark, Mt. Zion and Maple Grove pupils to Moorefield.

Out of 249 tobacco reduction contracts checked by the county committee, only nine persons signing contracts were found to have exceeded their acreage. The farmers have been ordered to plow up 18.9 acres on 15 farms. More than 500 farms have been surveyed and the work is expected to be completed this week.

Bud Lowry, negro, charged with the theft of chickens from Forrest Daniel, surrendered to Sheriff D. M. Curry and Clark Lee last week and was lodged in jail. At a hearing before Judge Lemuel Conway, Lowry admitted that he was implicated in the theft in which Will Feather and "Frog" Harris, negroes, were arrested. All were held to await action of the grand jury at the September term of the Nicholas circuit court.

Because of numerous instances of alleged lawlessness in the cemetery at Old Concord church, a group of citizens in that section, in an effort to stop the alleged occurrences, have had W. D. Swan appointed caretaker of the cemetery. Mr. Swan qualified for the purpose of making arrests, if necessary. Mr. Swan qualified and executed bond of $1,000 with the following sureties: R. B. Owings, Clayton Goodpaster, Estill Ockerman, J. H. Hardwick, James T. Alexander, W. B. Bell, T. H. Botts, J. T. Ockerman and C. M. Lambert.

Dr. W. G. Irvin, of Carlisle, who for the past several years has been a state veterinarian engaged in tuberculin testing of cattle, has been transferred to the Agriculture Adjustment Administration program as livestock testing cows and heifers for Bang's disease." Dr. Irvin will be at the County Agent's office at the court house Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock to observe with farmers contracts for testing the cows. Each cow found affected with the disease will be destroyed and the owner will be paid for the animal.

The 275-acre farm of Charles Martin on the Maysville and Lexington pike in this county, near the Bourbon county line, was sold at public auction Saturday. The farm was sold in four tracts for a total of $43,226.50, an average of $158 an acre, which is considered an unusually good price. Tract No. 1, which included the residence and 69 acres, was bought by W. F. Conway, of Millersburg, for $161 per acre; tract No. 2, containing 43 acres, was bought by Mrs. Charles Martin for $180 per acre; tracts No. 3 and 4, containing 173 acres, were purchased by Glenn Shanklin for an average of $140.50 per acre.

The annual Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will be held in Kentucky Wesleyan College in Winchester beginning next Wednesday, August 29, and closing Sunday, September 2. Bishop U. V. W. Darlington will preside. Rev. V. L. Moore will be host to the body as presiding elder in the Lexington district and will be assigned to another field of service. Rev. E. K. Arnold, of Carlisle, Rev. H. O. Howard, Moorefield, Rev. J. H. Finch, Baltwell, and Rev. Cleveland Gaunce, Paisley, will leave Tuesday for the Conference. E. R. Kendall is the delegate and Mrs. Robert Harper alternate from this county. Many of the local Methodists will attend the sessions.
