FROM OVER THE LINE

(By J. W. Rogers)

Sweet springtime is coming. Hy O. Hy O. Sweet springtime is coming Hy O. Hy O. Sweet springtime is coming. I hear the bees humming, sweet spring time is coming Hy O, Hy O.

The people of Kentucky have never had a statewide vote on prohibition. Our Legislature has provided for such a vote soon. What will Kentucky county do? What will Kentucky do? Vote dry? Men will all be sober, mothers cease to cry; Glory Hallelujah! Kentucky's doing dry.

We began to teach school when the state per capita was $2.00 and large families of children created a large school census. It now looks as if we will retire from teaching as the per capita comes back to $2.00, and the number of school children becomes one-third less. In Nicholas county we were taught and trained as a teacher, but we quit teaching as we were taught to teach for 50 years, but we may not be able to close our teaching career in Nicholas county. News of the death of Miss Maude Dacres fell heavily on our heart. She was a schoolmate of Mr. Kenney's at Normal School in Carlisle, years ago. Friends who knew her through her life tell us she was a noble character.

Sorry that bill providing for a penalty to be imposed on autoists who drive by a school bus while taking on or putting off children didn't become a law. Seems useless to be no opposition but the bill was lost in the last hours' confusions. Hell! Good! Glory! Good!

Miss Agnes Brandenburg, 20 years old, awoke early Saturday at her home in Beattyville screaming that her dream had come true. In her dream she had seen him sink beneath the muddy backwater of Indian Creek near Beattyville. Her dream was substantiated as fact a short time later, when the body of Thomas H. Brandenburg, 50, the girl's father, was found drowned.

After the girl told the family her dream, Leonard Miller, who had not renamed home, a brother, Hargis was sent to search the backwater for Brandenburg. Hargis found his father's car partly submerged in the creek, and after summoning aid, he succeeded in dragging the automobile out. The body of Brandenburg was found about 12 feet away.

Consider Four Plans To Provide Revenue

Four separate forms of taxation appear likely to be considered by the legislative interim committee created to study taxation and report to the next legislature, the General Assembly expected to be called by Governor Laffoon to convene April 16.

While the committee at its meeting Friday discussed only the financial needs of the state and did not as a whole take up the question, individual expressions of individual members indicated that a general sales tax, a selective sales tax, an income tax and an increase in the whisky tax probably will be considered when the committee takes up its study of possible means of raising money.

Meanwhile, from Senator Roy B. Moss, of Lexington, Democratic leader in the Senate, came a warning that the Republican blue in the Senate would resist any revenue program not designed to help the 100 counties lacking road funds and schools.

SHERIFF'S INCOME CUT

The act of the recent general assembly reducing the real estate tax rate from 30 cents to 15 cents on the $100 valuation will materially reduce the income of the sheriffs in their capacity of tax collector. While the act did not change the percentage income due the Sheriff he will receive only one-sixth of the amount formerly received from collection of real estate tax. He will continue to receive 10 per cent on the first $5,000 of funds and 4 per cent on the remainder. However, he will collect only one-sixth as much in state taxes as formerly.

W. G. P. Ledford narrowly escaped injury while returning home from Lexington Saturday night when he temporarily lost control of his automobile as it went on the soft shoulders of the road in passing another car and left the road near the old cemetery at the Nicholas-Bourbon line, this side of Millersburg. The machine was considerably damaged.

Notices were sent out to approximately twenty property owners whose assessments were increased. The board, which is composed of P. L. Curtis, H. R. Snapp and C. C. Shrout, will meet today to hear complaints as to why the increases should not be made.

The will of the late Patrick Mahoney was probated in county court Tuesday. The will, which was dated October 2, 1914, bequeathed the entire estate of the testator to his sisters, Misses Mary and Maggie Mahoney and provided that upon the death of either of the estate should revert to the surviving sister. Miss Mary Mahoney has died since the will was written and the estate reverts to her sister.

Social and Society

BY ASHEN ROOTS THE VIOLETS BLOW

Now fades the long last streek of snow.
Now burgeons every maze of quirk
About the flowering squares, and thick
By ashen roots the violets blow.

Now rings the woodland loud and long.
The distance takes a lovelier hue,
And drown'd in yonder living blue
The lark becomes a sightless song.

Now dance the lights on lawn and lea.
The flocks are whiter down the vale,
And milkier every milky sail
On winding streams or distant sea;

Where now the seamew pipes, or dives
In under greening gleam, and fly
The happy birds, that change their sky
To build and breed, that live their lives

From land to land; and in my breast
Spring wakens too, and my regret
Becomes an April violet,
And buds and blossoms like the rest.
