Santa Picks His Helpers!

"A Christmas Frigidaire is not like an easy chair—something the whole family considers common property." A Frigidaire really is a gift for mother. She gets the real benefit. It brightens up and modernizes one entire corner of her kitchen. It permits her to have more varied menus. It means she can operate this end of her household in less time and have more savings from her budget to purchase little luxuries she needs from time to time through the year.

"It's really a gift for mother, but there is nothing to prevent Dad from making use of the extra ice-cubes, or sons or daughters from enjoying the many facilities it provides for a home. With the term payment plan, a Christmas Frigidaire can be acquired by almost every family.

"In order to insure installation by Christmas morning, we advise prospective purchasers to make their selections now."

A Frigidaire really is a gift for mother. She gets the something the whole family considers common property.

Thanksgiving Day 1934

When good people assemble around the firesides of home, thrilled to the spirit of this gracious and generous day, the sheaves gathered, the harvest over and the last days of Indian Summer going, the wanderer turns his footsteps toward the light of love, the old home.

Thanksgiving Day is with us. All people of this mighty nation should give thanks to the Supreme Being for the many blessings bestowed. We want you to know that we are thankful and our hearts are warmed with gratefulness for your support through the past few years of uncertainty.

All things wanted may not have come—but we may well be thankful for the vision that spurs us on and the promise of the future that keeps hope alive.

PROGRAM

Tonight, Thursday, comes Bing Crosby in "WERE NOT DRESSING." A sure good picture and we want you to see it, as this is Thanksgiving day, a holiday for all so come out.

Saturday—Comes Victor Jory, Irene Hervey and Stanley Ridges in "Call of the Wild." Also James Cagney in "Devil Dogs of the Air." Both pictures are western. Don't forget Mickey Mouse comedy, "MICKEY'S BIRTHDAY." Don't miss this one.

LYRIC THEATRE

Hunters report quail as being scarce throughout the county.

Harry T. Letton qualified in county court Monday as administrator of the estate of the late R. L. Gillispie.

The Carlisle city school closed Wednesday at noon for the Thanksgiving holidays, and will reopen next Monday morning.

Congressman Fred M. Vinson Monday filed a post-election account with the Secretary of State, listing expenses of $471.

Show your appreciation of your hospital by contributing either money, food or supplies during the three days campaign for the hospital, beginning today.

Ernest Piper, local dairyman, reports numerous thefts of milk from porches of homes where it has been delivered. City Marshal Ernest Sims is making an effort to catch the person or persons stealing the milk.

A truck driven by Jack Collins, of Carlisle, and a truck driven by Howard Barlow, of the county, collided on the Maysville and Lexington road near Millersburg Saturday night and both trucks were badly damaged. No one was injured.

Henry C. Peters purchased the residence of the late Albert Perbatt for $983 at the public auction conducted by the Scott-Kendall Realty Company Saturday. Terms of the sale were one-third cash, balance in one and two years.

More than forty glasses of jelly donated by members of the local chapter of the American Legion Auxiliary will be distributed among poor families. Part of the jelly will be distributed at once and the remainder will be given out with other donations during Christmas.

J. C. Tureman, who offered a prize of $20 to the first twins born in the Johnson Memorial Hospital, last week sent his check for this amount to Mrs. William Gilbert, mother of twin boys, at the hospital recently. Two other persons who agreed to give $10 each to the first twins, have not yet sent their checks.

The Carlisle high school Musketeers will attend the annual Central Kentucky Conference, the Dickinson system of rating their schools. Prankfort will meet in the Methodist church on next Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 5th, at 2 o'clock.

Allen In Wonderland Club Meets

The Carlisle high school Musketeers will attend the annual Central Kentucky Conference, the Dickinson system of rating their schools. Prankfort will meet in the Methodist church on next Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 5th, at 2 o'clock.

The trial of William Miller, of Carlisle, was postponed until the March term of the Bourbon circuit court when called for trial at Paris Monday. Miller is charged with malicious shooting and wounding with intent to kill, and malicious shooting and wounding with intent to kill. He was released on $1,000 bond.

With little more than three weeks left before Christmas, plans should be started for the community Christmas tree and entertainment for children this year. So far, no organization has come forward to sponsor the tree. For several years business men associated with the county have been given sacks of candy and fruit and it would be a real tragedy to deprive them this year. In the past the tree has been sponsored by a group of ladies, the American Legion and the Lions Club.

Ten fine cakes, baked by wives of Carlisle Masons, were taken to the Shrine hospital for crippled children at Lexington yesterday to be served to the crippled children in the hospital for their Thanksgiving dinner today. The cakes were baked by Mrs. I. B. Ross, Mrs. Taylor Masters, Mrs. Sam K. Veach, Mrs. W. T. Norton, Mrs. T. P. Scott, Mrs. James Caywood, Mrs. S. C. Vaughn, Mrs. George D. Scott, Mrs. S. C. Talbert and Mrs. Bruce Kenney.

When cakes were taken to the various homes for Easter, the crippled children were unintentionally overlooked.

A LITTLE FAMILY GIVES THANKS

THE CHILD

I thank You, God, for everything I see here in;
For laughter and my dad and mother, too;
For trees and birds and gold-faced daffodils;
For all outdoors that's big and still like You.

I thank You for warm rooms when it's winter time;
For Christmas and a lighted Christmas tree;
For Easter and Thanksgiving when there's pie;
For all the people who are friends with me.

I thank You for glad fairy tales I've heard;
For Tim, our cat, and Jack, our collie pup;
For night that watches till I fall asleep,
And day that waits near by to wake me up.

THE MOTHER

For childhood that is like a silver vase
That Life may paint in delicate design;
For girlhood that is glad as windwood trees,
For womanhood such as has long been mine—

My thanks; and for known sights and sounds and smells;
The kitchen when the baking's being done;
The parlor when Winter dusk sifts down
The garden that is intimate with Rain.

Thanks, too, for books that make me dream and laugh and love and live;
For music that is cool as petals on the rain;
For major faces that are mine to kiss;
For faith and wisdom that I've bought with pain!

THE FATHER

I thank You, God, for Life's command to work;
That I each day must touch the Wheel of Things.
I thank You for the coming of the night,
The freight and the dream-edged thoughts it brings.
My gratitude for seasons in their turn;
For holidays when I may stay at home.
For speech and laughter and the love of friends;
For pungent promises of new turned loam.

But most of all I thank You that a child
Can see in me the man he hopes to be,
And look a woman with an angel's heart
He's moved to share a mortal's lot with me!

—Ivee Vidlet Alleyn Storey.
