Legion To Continue Backing Vinson Bonus

The National Executive Committee of the American Legion meeting at Indianapolis Thursday voted unanimously to urge passage by Congress of a soldiers' bonus bill which includes no other question than immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates.

The resolution made no reference by name either to the Vinson or Patman bonus bills, both of which now are pending in Congress, but Legion officials declared it meant the organization would continue to support the Vinson bill.

The Patman bill provides for the issuance of $2,200,000,000 in new money to pay the adjusted service certificates. The Vinson bill leaves the matter of raising the money to the Government.

The committee expressed approval of the efforts of Frank N. Belgrano Jr., national commander, to bring about passage of a bill for the payment of the insurance premiums on World War veterans, have a paid insurance value and which certificates will be paid in full at this time. Belgrano is also credited latign of interest accrued and re fund of interest paid.

Few Bitten By Snakes And Of These Few Die

"Contrary to popular belief, very few people in the U. S. die each year bitten by venomous snakes, and of these few, only a small percentage die as a result," according to James Graham Brown, director of the Kentucky University of Kentucky, in an article on "Poisonous Snakes" in the March issue of the Junior Science Bulletin, which has just come from the press.

"The fear of the snake should be overcome by the fact that only a few among many happy hours camping or hiking in the woods may be the article, 'and when you go into the woods always take the precaution of wearing knee-high leather boots which, while not giving absolute protection, will greatly lessen the chance of. Leather puttees are better still and legins protect them well. Circulars issue of the Junior Science Bulletin may be had free from the author.

"If you are bitten by a poisonous snake," continued Mr Foster, apply a tourniquet immediately by tying your handkerchief loosely around the arm or leg and inserting a small stick and twisting the handkerchief enough to stop the circulation of the blood. A tourniquet should not be allowed to remain for more than one hour and should be loosened at the end of 15 minutes. Then another tourniquet should be established. Grab the bite sufficiently to cause a free flow of blood."

The writer then continued to describe the types of venomous snakes found in Kentucky with the advice "in get medical attention as soon as possible after the bite. Do not delay and do not experiment with the advice 'on snakebites'."

Nature's Greatest Experiment

This picture, made ten years ago by R. H. Beck, and given out by courtesy of the American Museum of Natural History, shows one of the homes on Floreana island, 3,000 miles west of the coast of Chile, and the manner and mistress of it. Here 200 persons reside on the island, awaiting a minimum of English and Tahitian. They are descendants of the nine British seamen and the twelve Tahitian women who landed on the island from H. M. S. Beverly 140 years ago. Each of the 200 persons is a descendant of the original 21. Although work person is related to each other, as a result of this close inbreeding, no ill effects can be detected, every man, woman and child being perfectly healthy, outside help has never been asked by the islanders, they being content to live off the land. Another scientific expedition is now returning to the island, after making new finds.

Collection Of Meteorites At University Of Kentucky

Portions of seven of the 17 meteorites known to have fallen in Kentucky are now in the University of Kentucky museum of geology, it has been announced by Dr. David M. Young, curator of the museum.

The latest acquisition is part of the Cynthiana meteor which was viewed from the monogam of mainranjury. Harvard University. The meteorite is one of three that have actually been seen to fall in Kentucky. It fell four o'clock in the afternoon on January 23, 1877, nine miles from Cynthiana. The fall was witnessed by a farmer who immediately went to the spot of the fall and dug it from an imbedded depth of 13 inches.

Other witnessed meteorite falls in Kentucky are the Cumberland Falls meteorite which fell in 1919 and the Bath Furnace meteorite which fell in 1902, pieces of which are already in the museum.

Recently the University museum acquired portions of the Kentucky county and the Williamstown meteorites, both ancient. Efforts are being made to make the University collection completely representative of all meteorites that have been found in the state. At the present time almost complete collections of Kentucky meteorites are on display in the Field Museum, Chicago, Harvard Museum, Cambridge, the National Museum, Washington and the American Museum of Natural History, New York City.

ZACHARY ALEXANDER CONFEDERATE VET, SUCCUMBED TUESDAY

Member Of Morgan's Brigade Dies At Home Here After Long Illness

WAS MARRIED 67 YEARS

Mr. Zachary Taylor Alexander, Confederate veteran in the War Between the States, died at his home on West Main street Tuesday afternoon following a long illness.

Mr. Alexander was 94 years old, and his death leaves only Mr. Neal Wagoner, of the Barefoot section, as the surviving Confederate veteran in Nicholas county.

He was the son of the late David and Elizabeth Alexander, and was born in Nicholas county in 1841. Mr. Alexander spent all of his life in the county with the exception of the four years spent in the army between the States.

Mr. Alexander was a member of Company F, Ninth Kentucky Cavalry, in the command of General John Hunt Morgan. He was captured by Federal forces during the raid and spent seventeen months in a prison near the Canadian border.

Following the cessation of hostilities and his subsequent release, Mr. Alexander returned to Nicholas county and engaged in farming, continuing this occupation until a few years ago when he retired because of advanced age and infirmity. He moved to Carlisle.

Up until about a year ago Mr. Alexander had been in splendid health and was the town daily to set near the Lincoln and Garrard county line Friday afternoon by a terrified 12-year-old farm boy. Mr. Reed had been out hunting the bend with a pistol.

The bullet had been the object of a wide search since Tuesday of last week, when he was last seen. Mr. Reed-squirrel. was found on a street in Danville Wednesday.

Officers are searching for a young man who, it is believed, is known as Alexander, Carlisle; one daughter, Mrs. Ethel Taylor Alexander, of Carlisle; one sister, Mrs. Mary A. Lipscomb, three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs. W. T. Mann, died several years ago.

Funeral services will be held at the home on West Main street Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. C. Whitehouse, and burial will follow in the Carlisle cemetery.

Kroger To Award Prize To Oldest Resident Here

Officials of the Kroger Company announced today they were seeking the person who has lived longest in the county. A prize will be awarded to the citizen who has been settled in this town longer than any other person. This recognition will draw out into the open a number of persons who lay claim to being this town's oldest inhabitant.

Prizes will be merchandise orders, and it is understood that the first number will register at Kroger stores for the honor of being declared as the one who has lived longest in this town. There'll be a lot of swapping of family reminiscences by old timers competing to the contest. So if you have been having lived here longer than anyone else, go to your nearest Kroger and register. A photo of the winner will be published in the Mercury after the contest.

This prize contest is part of the celebration the Kroger Company is holding here this week. The Kroger Company has planned a number of unusual stunts for this event and it is expected that a greater number of persons than ever before will go to Kroger's this week.

E. R. Sampson Announces For Representative

Ed R. Sampson, prominent farmer and citizen of the Blue Lick section, this week formally announced as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative from the Nicholas-Robertson district. Mr. Sampson is widely acquainted throughout Nicholas and Robertson counties, and has many friends.

Kentucky Still In Lead In Whisky Production

Kentucky and Illinois produced more than half of all the whisky distilled in the United States last year, the Internal Revenue Bureau has made public Tuesday.

Pennsylvania and Indiana, Maryland and Ohio ranked in order after the two leaders.

Kentucky produced 21,607,064 gallons of whisky in 1934 and Illinois 8,243,115.

100,651,233 GALLONS WHISKY

More than 100,000,000 gallons of whisky were produced in the first year of repeal, the Federal Alcohol Control Administration said in making public totals from sworn statements of distillers.

Production of bourbon was 72,611,233 gallons, more than double that of rye, 22,920,267. Other types amounted to 2,319,905 to swell the total production for the year to 100,651,233.

CONSOLIDATION OF 7 ONE-ROOM RURAL SCHOOLS PROPOSED

Representatives Of State Department Recommended Consolidation

NO EXTRA TAX LEVY

Consolidation of seven rural school districts if the county, with the construction of a modern new school building in the center of the district, was recommended to the county board of education by O. J. Jones, State Rural School Supervisor, and J. W. Booker, of the state department of education, last week.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Booker spent several days here consulting with the board and district various ideas proposed for the location of the school.

The schools proposed for consolidation are Bald Hill, Sugar Creek, Battle, Ellingsly, Blue Licks, Stony Creek and Center. A modern four-room building would be constructed, with four teachers who would teach not more than two grades.

In the event of the consolidation, pupils living in the districts would be transported to and from school. No extra tax for the construction of the school or transportation is necessary. Funds will be levied, Mrs. Eda S. Taylor, County Superintendent, said.

In the event of the consolidation of these schools, the number of rural schools of the county would probably be allowed to operate the next school year, Mrs. Taylor said, although a number if the schools are yet to be approved by the State Department.

Mr. Jones said the consolidation has been taken by the board if existation. The proposition will probably be decided at the regular monthly meeting of the board on April 20.

DONALDSON CHAIRMAN

J. Lyter Donaldson, of Carrollton, was unanimously elected chairman of the State Highway Commission to succeed Thomas S. Rhea, who resigned several weeks ago, at a meeting of the commission Tuesday.

PUBLIC DEBT DECREASED

Auditor Talbert's monthly statement Saturday reported that general expenditure warrants had decreased approximately $112,000 during March and road warrants decreased $666,000. He said both reductions resulted from warrant redemption calls.

Congress Passes Work Relief Bill

$4,500,000,000 Appropriation Is Designed To Give Work To 3,500,000 Men

The biggest peace time appropriation in history—$4,500,000,000—was voted President Roosevelt Friday to carry out already approved and new projects. Senate conferees at first said a third should be spent that way. Democrats recommended 60 per cent restriction. A conference committee of senators and representatives agreed upon 25 per cent with the President given leeway in deciding how this percentage should be divided between "direct" and "indirect" payment.

A board will be set up to handle the fund under direction of the President. Likely members of the board are Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, Rexford G. Tugwell, undersecretary of Agriculture, Secretary Ickes and Rear Admiral C. J. Peoples of the Treasury procurement office.

The final vote by the Senate on the measure was 66 to 13, with both Kentucky senators voting with the majority. In the House the conference report had been approved 317 to 78.

The measure is designed to put 3,500,000 employables now on relief rolls to work on right major types of projects. It gives President Roosevelt almost limitless powers for two years, however, in using the fund.

The $4,000,000,000 fund is to be spent for federal and non-federal public works, highways, housing rural electrification, farm improvement, education, "white collar" work, and numerous other projects.

Baby Is Cremated As Home In Madison Burns

Lawrence Johnson, Jr., 3, burned to death when the home of his parents, located on the Waco-Stevenson pike, 13 miles southwest of Richmond, was destroyed by fire Sunday night.

The baby was in bed with his parents when the father awoke and discovered that fire had broken out in a small wardrobe in the same room.

While the father dashed outside to get a bucket of water, the mother ran upstairs to awaken their two older children, Bobby, 6, and Francelin, 10.

By the time they returned to the bedroom, the flames had spread so rapidly that they were unable to rescue the baby. The mother was burned slightly about the shoulders and the oldest boy received minor burns when they sought to rescue the baby. After the blaze had burned out, the charred body of the child was found in the center of the bed.

The flames spread rapidly through the dwelling, which was constructed of pine boards covered with tarpaper, and the family was unable to save any of their possessions.

Kentucky May Get 95 Million

More Than 4,000 State Projects Are Listed In Public Works Administration Setup

Unofficial estimates made at Washington Monday place the extent of Kentucky's participation in the new $4,880,000,000 work relief fund at almost $95,000,000.

Available Kentucky projects already listed total $44 at a cost of ab ut $525,000,000.

George H. Bager, Louisville, Kentucky P. W. A. engineer, and George H. Goodman, Federal Emergency Relief Administrator for Kentucky, will be summoned to attend a conference here Wednesday, at which additional 48 States out of the fund will be considered.

One of the first tasks which confronts Kentucky officials in the listing of the 4,000 available projects in order of their respective desirability and practicability. When this has been done, it is anticipated that Kentucky projects will be considered in such p ef ence until whatever proportion of the work relief funds may be accorded to Kentucky by the Federal authorities has been exhausted.

Kentucky will be entitled to $15,227,000 for highway construction, and grade crossing elimination, if President Roosevelt's estimate that $4,000,000,000 of the $4,880,000,000 authorization will be spent during the next year for the three types of assistance in the work relief appropriation.

Under precedents set by the last three fu ds to be expended by the State Highway Departments but no portion of the funds has been allotted nor has it been matched by the states.

Harrison Board Of Education Acts After Three Students Beat Teacher In School

The Oddville high school in Harrison county was closed by County Superintendent W. L. Case last Wednesday afternoon, and Principal Frederick c ndict d some of the students of the school.

J. Ardery McCauley, teacher in the school, was beaten by three students of the school, resulting in the closing of the school. McCauley said Melvin Firenee, Richard Lee Brown and Joe Nicholas were the students in the school, attacked him, "beating him and choking him. All three of the boys are 17 years old.

McCauley said he had previously been threatened with the beating, and filed complaint of disorderly conduct against the three students with the education after the principal had refused to take action.

W. L. Case, county superintendent of Harrison county, announced that the county board of education would demand resignation of Principal Fred Harrison, and dismissal of the Oddville school. Superintendent Case said he believed Nankevil was responsible for the situation at the school, which has included other reports of misconduct. "He has lost control of the school and will have to go," Mr. Case said.

Millburn Florence Monday absolved Joseph Nankevil, 17, son of the principal, and Richard Lee Brown, 18, of complicity in the attack on
