High School Doings

C. H. S. Again Honored

Carlisle High School has for the tenth consecutive year received notice that it has been elected to membership in the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. To be thus honored, the highest efficiency in instruction, curriculum and equipment must be maintained. All graduates, by virtue of this membership, are admitted without examination to practically every college in the South, and the great majority of those in the United States. This is the highest rating given to schools in Kentucky, and an honor of which we are justly proud.

Examinations Being Held

The first semester of the school term ends this week. Examinations covering the first half of the year's work began Wednesday and will continue through Friday. This year, contrary to the rules of the past, all pupils will take these examinations. All schools of higher learning grant no exemptions and it is felt that the experience and training gained in taking the examinations here will be of great value to those who go on to college. Our half day is allowed for the examination in each subject.

President's Address Heard

Friday morning at 11:30, through the courtesy of Harper's Garage, the pupils of the high school were privileged to listen by radio to the President's address delivered before the houses of Congress. The reception was splendid and the opportunity of hearing this history-making address was much appreciated.

Band Gives Program

Tuesday the general chapel program was given by the band under the direction of Mr. Fightmaster. Five numbers were given. The improvement in this organization has been marked, the members are working hard and the program was much enjoyed.

Religious Education

As in the past, a regular course in religious education will be offered the upper six grades beginning next week. This course will be taught by the pastors of the churches of Carlisle: Rev. Jacob, Rev. Whitehouse, Rev. Arnold, Rev. Alexander and Rev. Cleary. It is hoped to enlarge this program this year by making arrangements to include a graded series of lessons, including the pupils of all grades. Many pupils receive no instruction whatsoever in this most important of all subjects and we can think of nothing finer or more worth while to bring to our students.

Sanitation Films Shown

As per the regular schedule, two educational films were shown Friday to the student body. Both films a connected series of episodes stressed the importance of pure water, showed the disease germs carried in impure water, warned against the use of the common drinking cup, pictured proper methods of using the drinking fountains and gave some beautiful scenic views of dams and waterfalls in various parts of the United States. From a physiological standpoint these were among the best films shown during the year.

News Notes

Many alumni visited the school during the holidays. We are always glad to see these graduates.

We are sorry to lose from membership Lorene Mitchell, a member of the freshman class who moved into another school district.

Through arrangements with the KHSA approximately sixty pupils are being fed daily in the public lunch. A menu consisting of meat, vegetables and a choice of soup or milk is served.

Dr. Amey Vanderbrook, head of the Department of Political science, addressed the P. T. A. Tuesday at 3 p. m. Many of the pupils of the upper grades remained to hear this distinguished lecturer.

Kentuckians In Congress Plan Busy Session

The Kentucky Delegation in Congress is making plans for a busy session.

With both senators and all but one of the nine congressmen Democrats, the state's votes in the National Assembly probably will be cast largely in support of any program brought forward by the administration.

However, if the bonus question comes to the fore again, several of the house delegation will be likely to cast their votes for immediate cash payment, against the stand of the president who opposes payment of the bonus now.

During the approaching session, as in the last, Senator Barkley probably will take a prominent part in support of the administration on the floor of the senate.

Kentucky's junior Senator is regarded as one of the President's staunchest supporters. In addition to an address during the last year before the Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the majority leader, might be appointed to a Federal bench—an event that seems unlikely at present—Barkley's name has been mentioned as a likely candidate to succeed him, as before.

Senator M. M. Logan already has prepared for introduction at the approaching session a bill to provide unemployment insurance, and expects also to offer soon a bill to create a court of administrative justice to speed up court action on matters involving administrative functions of government.

Representative Fred M. Vinson is expected to renew his efforts to reduce the federal tax on tobacco products, which he said would increase the tobacco industry's interest in boosting consumption. He contended also the Federal Government in the long run would lose no revenue, the reduction in the tax being made up ultimately by the increased consumption. The 40 per cent substantial reduction advocated by Vinson would permit the sale of no-added standard brand cigars ten cents a package.

The delegation will have two new faces. Rep. Virgil Chapman, new ONeil, Democrat, of Louisville, and Robinson, of the ninth district, Republican from Kentucky.

All the other representatives have important committee posts which will keep them busy during the session—Gregory on the judiciary committee, Cary on appropriations, Rayburn on banking and currency, Garden on agriculture, May on military affairs, Chapman on ways and means and Fulmer on interstate commerce.

$2,140 Found Sealed In Old Suitcase

Twenty-one hundred and forty dollars in gold certificates which Mrs. Virgil, Baugh, of Eubank, Pulaski county, found sealed in the bottom lining of a second hand suitcase that had been purchased by her husband from Grandpa Williams, Eubank, for $6, is the cause of an unusual law suit filed in Pulaski circuit court Friday.

According to the petition, filed by R. C. Tartar, Somerset, attorney for the plaintiff, Charles Williams, a brother of Granville, died in the Veterans' Hospital at Dawson Springs, Ky., in 1924. About a month before his death he drew out $2,140 from a bank in Dawson Springs and closed his account. After a search, his relatives gave up hope of finding his money and had his belongings shipped to his former home at Eubank in two traveling cases. Both of the cases were used by the family and neighbors during the years that have followed until two months ago when one of them was sold to Virgil Baugh.

In cleaning out the suitcase Mrs. husband had purchased, Mrs. Baugh noticed a strip of adhesive tape across the bottom. She removed it and found the certificates concealed in the lining. The Baughs immediately invested $1,000 of the money in a farm in Lincoln county and designated the balance in the First State Bank of Eubank.

In the suit, Granville Williams, administrator of his brother's estate is suing for recovery of the money and for enjoining the Eubank bank from paying out any of the $1,140 still held to the credit of the Baugh's.

Kentucky Homemakers To Discuss Problems

Four days packed with interesting discussions, musical programs and entertainment are in store for women who attend the homemakers' meetings during the 23rd annual Farm and Home Convention at the Agricultural Experiment Station January 22-25.

Dr. N. Y. McChesky of the University of Michigan will speak twice the opening day on the subject of mental health. He is a noted psychologist, and will have interesting messages on this important subject.

Other prominent speakers during the four days include Miss Mary A. Rokahr, home economist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture; Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture; Miss Lila Bane, home economist of Chicago; Dr. Carl C. Taylor, North Carolina sociologist; Miss Jessie Harris, head of home economics work for the University of Tennessee; Mrs. Charles H. Bewell of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and Miss Elsie Davison of the Tennessee Valley Project.

Miss Mildred Lewis of the University of Kentucky will direct the musical programs and lectures on music. Skits, operettas and other forms of entertainment and recreation will have prominent places in the program.

The Kentucky Federation of Homemakers will hold its annual meeting during the week, and a number of Kentucky farm women report on the progress of homemakers' clubs over the state.

Musketeers Trim Bourbon County High 46 To 8

(By John Parker Ross)

As predicted, the Musketeers at last found the basket and in so doing rang up 46 points to defeat Bourbon County high here last Friday night 46 to 8. This game was the first game that the "Little Green" team has shown any offensive ability. True, Bourbon County did not prove as strong as they have in the past, but the fact was that the Musketeers were hittinf the hoop and would have given anyone on their schedule a trimming Friday night.

As in the past, the Musketeer defense was air tight. Bourbon County getting only two field goals, both coming in the last half. The score would have been much larger had Coach Shearer left his start ter team on the floor, but in order to give other boys experience numerous substitutions were made in the last half. The subs made little in the way of points but showed their ability on the defense.

No outstanding star dominated the play Friday night, for the five men on the floor, but in order to give the unit, passing the ball, the player who had the best shot and then following up in case he missed.

In a preliminary game the Musketeer "B" team defeated an Alumni five 12 to 9. Lawrence for the "B" five was high point man with 5 points, followed by Hopkins with 4, while Cassiday with 5 and Talbert with 4 did the scoring for the Alumni.

Lineup: Varsity Game.

Carlisle (46)		Bourbon Co. Hi. (8)
Cartmill (5)	F	Cummins
Kerns (12)	F	Carrington (2)
Brannaman (8)	C	Hudson (2)
Smart (6)	G	Berry
Arnold (c) (12)	G	Bonta

Subs: Carlisle—Armstrong, Hopkins, Kendall, Reid; Armstrong (2), H. C. H. Grouch.

"B"—Alumni Game.

Carlisle ("B") (12)		Alumni (9)
Armstrong (2)	F	Smart
Hopkins (4)	F	Mann
Boot	C	Simms
Lawrence (5)	G	Cassidy (3)
Kendall	G	Talbert (4)
Shroat	C

Referee: Williams. Putts.

The Bourbon County high game marked the end of the non-conference games on the Musketeer schedule, all of the remaining games will be played with Central Kentucky Conference foes, and Nicholasville happens to be next one. Nicholasville will come here Friday night, Jan. 11th, to take part in a double header. The Musketeers defeated the Jessamine county team twice last season, but little is known of the strength or weakness of the valiant this season so anything may happen. However, after the offensive showing of the Musketeers on last Friday night, I shall stand along with the "wearers of the Green."

For the preliminary game Friday night, Coach Shearer will put another of his numerous teams on the hardwood for the first time, the Midgets, who will take on the Midgets of M. M. I. This will be the first showing of the Midgets, and it will be worth looking them over, for they are the Musketeer team of the future.

One of these nights, not many moons away, Coach Shearer will place still another outfit on the floor, for the first time in their short span of years, the Pansy. This team in size will closely resemble the famous basketball team of Canada, the Dionnes, and of course all you mothers and fathers will want to see your son put on the "Green and White" for the first time. Be bold reporters in readiness for it won't be long now.

The Musketeers will journey to Winchester Tuesday night, January 15, for a conference game. This game promises to be a battle from start to finish. Winchester defeated Irvine by two points while the Musketeers lost to Irvine by one point. Better go if you like to see a good game.

PREVENT HOME ACCIDENTS

Four and a half million home accidents a year, of which 30,000 end fatally, speak forcefully of carelessness. It would, of course, be impossible to avoid all of them, but a reasonable amount of precaution would greatly reduce the number. Bathtubs, poorly lighted halls and stairs, slippery floors, articles placed carelessly where people may trip over them, improvised step ladders such as rocking chairs and boxes, and innumerable things left within the reach of small children all exact their toll. The bathtub takes the lead as a breaker of bones, and a sprainer of joints and therefore should receive the first consideration. Its threat lies chiefly in its slippery bottom. Handholds fixed in the wall and a heavy Turkish towel or a rubber mat made for the purpose placed in the bottom will work wonders. Common sense and a little timely thought will give about all the instruction needed to remove all the pitfalls. Small rubber pads sewed to small rugs which per pads sewed to small rugs which are apt to slip on waxed floors, and the snow cleaned off the back steps may save a tragedy. And baby's life, eyes, or features may be preserved by keeping poisons, sharp instruments, or matches out of his reach.

The average sun spot at its maximum size is about as large as the earth.

PETER'S GREAT CONFESSION

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 16:13-23, I Peter 1:1-7.

GOLDEN TEXT—And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.—Matthew 16:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How Peter Found Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter's Great Answer.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What It Means to Confess Christ.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What Think Ye of Christ?

The disciples had been with the Lord for several years. They had heard his wonderful words and witnessed his mighty works. Various opinions were extant about him. Since Jesus was soon to go to the cross, it was necessary for the disciples to have a definite and true conception of him. In order to help them into the right conception he preached this confession from Peter, as the spokesman of the group of disciples.

I. Peter's Confession (vs. 13-16).

1. How provoked (v. 13). Two questions put to the disciples called forth this great confession.

a. Who do men say that the Son of Man is? (v. 13). He first inquired for the opinion of the people concerning him. It is not enough to think that he was a great teacher. He'd been content with this, he would not have been included at Jerusalem, for this the Jews willingly acknowledged. It was his persistent claim to be the God-Man, the Messiah, the Son of God, that sent him to the cross.

b. Who say ye that I am? (v. 15). This question involved the personal opinion of the disciples. To be able to tell others think of Jesus is not enough; there must be definite, correct, and personal belief to hold. Belief and character are inseparably united.

2. What Peter's confession involved (v. 16). It was his Messiahship and deity. The burning question of the hour is, "What think ye of Christ?" It is a question that must be answered by every one.

3. Christ's commendation of Peter (v. 17). He pronounced him blessed. He was truly blessed, for he both possessed and confessed Christ. His confession showed his touch with the Heavenly Father.

II. The New Body, the Church, Announced by Christ (vs. 18-20).

At this juncture Christ declared his intention of bringing into existence a new body. Peter was to have a distinguished place in this body. He declared that Peter should be a foundation stone in his Church. Christ is the chief corner stone upon which the Church is built. Christ's person and work, mistakenly were confessed by Peter, and on this rock, the Jesus confessed, is laid the foundation of the apostles and prophets (Eph. 2:20). He further declared that association in this new body could not be broken by death, for the gates of Hades should not prevail against it.

III. The Cross the Way to the Throne (vs. 21-23).

From that time Jesus began to show unto his disciples that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things, to be killed and raised again the third day. This, indeed, startled the disciples. They did not as yet realize that redemption was to be accomplished through the sufferings of the cross. So marvelous was this announcement that Peter said, "This shall not be unto thee." Peter later saw through this darkness to the glory of the hill top. A new hope then filled his heart. (I Pet. 1:3, 4). Christ's victory through death is yet a stumbling block to many. Many are stumbling over the doctrine of salvation through the sufferings of the cross. Salvation by blood is hated by the devil.

IV. The Grand Objective of the Members of the Church (I Pet. 2:5, 6).

It is the highest ambition of every Christian to become a working part of Christ's glorious Church, which has as its supreme design the showing forth of the glory of God. It is this that beckons the believer on to the highest and best in life. No higher motive can actuate anyone than to make manifest the glory of God. The Church, God's spiritual house, has the living Christ as its chief corner stone and head. Because of their relationship to him, the believers are living stones, deriving their preciousness from him. While the world saw no beauty or comeliness in Christ, God esteemed him precious and esteems every believer precious because of his vital union with Christ.

Belief in Christ

The condition of salvation is that kind of belief in Jesus Christ which authenticates itself in repentance for the past and an amendment of life for the future.—L. L. Noble.

The Soul's Aspirations

The immortality of this life makes room for a better country. The soul of man, the mark of the Creator upon his creature, should make him long for that heavenly city. The soul is too big to be satisfied away from God.

Believe in Yourself Too

Pork should be cooked well done, as a health precaution. It sometimes carries the trichina parasite which, if not destroyed, causes illness. This organism is killed at 137 degrees, but a temperature of 185 degrees is recommended.

Save hatching eggs from hens of medium size, good type and color, and which show ability to lay well. Separate a pen of such hens from the rest of the flock, feed them well and mate them to a male from high laying stock.

Bleaching clothes can be done by means of sunlight, Javelle water or commercial bleaches. Sunshine is the least harmful to fabrics. Commercial bleaches should be used with extreme care to avoid injuring the fabric.

Write to the College of Agriculture at Lexington or see a county agent about making a brick brooder. They cost little to make, give satisfaction, where properly operated, and are one of the biggest boons to poultry raising developed in recent years.

There are many farms where hydraulic ram could be used to supply water to houses and barns. A fall of 2 feet from the spring to the ram is sufficient, but the amount of fall required depends upon the volume of water needed and the height to which it is to be raised.

Keep a little lime on shelves where jellies and preserves are kept. This will help to prevent formation of mold.

EXIGENT

Is the LARGEST Burley Market Because It Is the HIGHEST Burley Market

So far this season the Lexington tobacco market has sold 21,489,354 pounds of tobacco for $4,321,642.83, an average of $20.10. This tobacco has come from all corners of the burley belt—more than three score counties of Kentucky, and from Missouri, Kansas, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Tennessee.

Sales throughout the belt last week were the heaviest of the season, and thus afford an excellent opportunity of a comparison of averages that will really MEAN something—and that comparison: shows that the Lexington market averaged $20.06 per hundred pounds, while the other nine markets, selling Central Kentucky tobacco principally, averaged but $17.51.

And an interesting fact is that the highest averaging among these other nine markets sold only a tenth as much tobacco as did Lexington, and yet it did not average as high as did Lexington. Lexington's sales last week were the heaviest of the season on this market; and Lexington's average last week was the highest of any market in the entire belt.

Had the growers who sold on the nine Central Kentucky markets outside of Lexington last week sold in Lexington, they would have received exactly $258,655.54 more money than they did receive. IT WILL PROVE COSTLY NOT TO COME TO LEXINGTON.

But look these figures over for yourself. The Lexington totals are the reports of the sales supervisor; the figures for the eight other markets are those submitted to newspapers, and according to the warehouse code should be accurate. Look them over; compare them—and then decide for yourself what market is the logical place for you to sell your crop to receive the high dollar.

Monday, December 31	The Lexington Market Sold	1,429,445 pounds, average	$19.75	High Basket $33.00 High Crop $30.09
Tuesday, January 1	The Lexington Market Sold	1,598,620 pounds, average	$20.76	High Basket $33.00 High Crop $30.42
Wednesday, Janudly 2	The Lexington Market Sold	1,321,158 pounds, average	$19.69	High Basket $37.00 High Crop $31.88
Thursday, January 3	The Lexington Market Sold	1,548,458 pounds, average	$20.00	High Basket $41.00 High Crop $31.18
Friday, January 4	The Lexington Market Sold	1,314,108 pounds, average	$19.96	High Basket $38.00 High Crop $30.50

We invite a comparison of these pounds and averages with those for any other market in the entire burley belt Since sales were resumed after the Christmas holidays, here is what the reports show:

LEXINGTON'S SALES LAST WEEK: 7,212,117 lbs. for $1,446,595.97
Average $20.06

The Nine Other Markets Selling Central Kentucky Tobacco Sold Last Week: 10,143,363 pounds for $1,775,696.99, AVERAGE $17.51. SHOWING LEXINGTON IS $2.55 HIGHER THAN THE AVERAGE FOR THE OTHER MARKETS IN THE SAME TERRITORY.
