SUMMER TIME

(Pauline Young)

The young winds sport among the grasses,
The green rye heads are silvered by the sun;
Slowly the ploughman guides his horses,
Making the clean, straight furrows one by one.

The whole wide world is full of quiet wonder,
Heaven and earth alike are very fair;
A shimmering light all tremulous and radiant
Pools the green fields and holds the sunlit air.

I see it as a grace on barn and homestead,
And on the trees it rests a shining crown;
The little daisies shimmer, while the trefoil
Wears all the sunshine as a yellow gown.

Part of the glory and the magic
Fairest of flowers in all these flowerbeds are;
You run toward me, golden curls aglying,
Cold buttercups in both your tiny hands.

Tag Day Report

—The young folk who so willingly gave of their time and energy on Saturday selling tags for the Johnson Memorial hospital deserve much praise and appreciation. They were Susanna Reynolds, Pauline Stone, Marie Roberts, Helen Jane Henry, C. B. Pumphrey, Billy Crouch and Junior Benton. Miss Price and Miss Hopkins, of the hospital. Only $48.78 was realized from the sale of tags, by far the smallest amount ever received during the six years of the existence of the hospital. Money is badly needed to do some repair work on the building and clean up the building, but this small amount will not do very much. Surely some one could gave a small silver piece for a tag, and give enough to make out $50, at least.

The dollar was the largest amount received for a tag and only six one dollars were received. What is the matter? Every one says there is plenty of money now, and we have all we want for other things, entertainment etc., why not help this worthy institution?

Most of all that the sinning man of sensuality may be led into righteousness.

PRATHER HALL

The Church of Christ, including all believers, would like to tell you as earthly kingdom like the Jews, but the kingdom of her Lord. He came to receive her unto Himself and to present her salvation, and to bring her into an eternal, spiritual and Heavenly glory. I. Cor. 15:51-58. 1 Thess. 4:13-17.) Neither does the Lord Jesus expect the church to reform the world; but rather the world; that is the work of the Holy Spirit, but the church is expected to evangelize the world.

The Kingdom of God is not material or organic, but spiritual, and wherever God holds sway in the heart, there is the seed for the future Kingdom when Christ shall have conquered all things and bands over the reigns of government into His own hands.

The kingdom of the heavens is material and organic, but heavenly in nature and has its abode on earth when their Messiah once again stands on Mt. Zion and gathers all her Jewish captivity at the end of the age to reign with Him during the Millenium of one thousand years of blissful peace, to which all men will come to worship with us.

T. D. Mayhugh Lands In Jail At Mt. Olivet

Thomas Dobbins Mayhugh, of this county, is in jail at Mt. Olivet, Fleming possible return to the Frankfort reformatory, as a result of his arrest at Mt. Olivet last court day.
