Amendments Extend Weed Act; Make Sounder Basis

Further provisions to place the tobacco industry on a sound economic basis are embodied in the new amendments to the Kerr Tobacco Act passed at the last session of Congress, according to the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

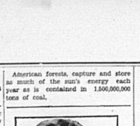
Amendments to the Kerr Tobacco Act, previous to the extension of this act to April 30, 1939. The amendments also stipulate that the tax shall be in effect with respect to any type of tobacco for any year the growers controlling two-thirds of the land customarily engaged in the production of that type of tobacco favor the tax. Provision is also made for simplification of the method of computing the refund.

Under the provisions of the act as originally passed, the Secretary of Agriculture was authorized to issue tax payment warrants to noncontracting producers who could not obtain an equitable allotment under the contract. The amount of tobacco, in any country, for which warrants could be issued was limited to 4 per cent of the amount of tobacco for which warrants were issued to contracting producers in that country. The act, as amended, makes available for insurance by the Secretary of Agriculture, warrants covering an amount of tobacco of any type equal to 3 per cent of the amount of tobacco of such type for which warrants are issuable or issued to all contracting producers. In view of the fact that 95 per cent of the tobacco grown from 1931 to 1933, inclusive, was produced by growers now under contract, it appears that, with the change from the county basis for basing tax-payment warrants to the noncontracting growers, a more equitable distribution of available allotments among such growers can be made.

The Kerr Tobacco Act as amended also provides that the Secretary of Agriculture shall issue tax-payment warrants to a person who because of religious or moral principles is unwilling or unable to become a contracting producer, provided the tobacco produced by such conscientious objector is no more than the quantity that could have been grown under contract.

By the amendments the proceeds of the taxes collected under the Kerr Tobacco Act are made available to the Secretary of Agriculture for rental or benefit payments to producers participating in the tobacco production program.

American forests, capture and store as much of the sun's energy each year as is contained in 1,500,000,000 tons of coal.



WHEN you are suffering, you want relief—not tomorrow—not next week—but right away. DR. MILES ANTI-PAIN PILLS relieve in just a few minutes—less than half the time required for many other pain-relieving medicines to act.

Next time you have a Headache, or Neuralgia, or Muscular, Sciatic, Rheumatic, or Periodic Pains, just take an Anti-Pain Pill. Learn for yourself how prompt and effective these little pain relievers are. You will never again want to use slower, less effective, less palatable medicines, after you have used Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills.

Anti-Pain should with your Dr. Miles Pills. They sure are wonderful for a Headache and for functional pains. I have tried every kind of pills for headache, but none relished me as Anti-Pain Pills do.

Ann Mathis, St. Benedict, Pa.

DR. MILES' Anti-Pain Pills

men who know whiskey like Glenmore

KENTUCKY STRAIGHT WHISKEY

GLENMORE DISTILLERIES CO. LOUISVILLE KENTUCKY

TRY A WANT AD.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs is a purgative and cleanses and disinfects all of the intestinal eliminants, thus cleaning the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and poisons.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twelve in the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (adv.)

School Days are Here

Let me have your winter clothes cleaned for you

ROBT. MANN, Agent
Lexington Laundry Company

Ladies' New Fall Dresses

in the leading fall shades, material and styles, priced

$3.95 $4.95 $7.50

in sizes 14 to 48

Ladies' Winter Coats

have arrived also. Come in and see them; they are in the new materials of Treebark, Windöw Pane and plain coatings, fur trimmed, tailored style.

PRICES:

$10.00 $16.50 $25.00

R. T. KIRKLAND & CO.

The Store Of Real Values

'Happy' Chandler Never Knew What It Was to Win Until He Was 30 Years Old, He Says

Now, that Lieut. Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler appears to be within stepping distance of the Governor's chair, inquiries are being made concerning the background of the 37-year-old candidate who wound up a whirlwind primary campaign with the greatest gains ever made in such a contest.

He was 30 years old before he knew what it was to win. I have been losing all my life, and am used to it," he said recently when congratulated upon his victory in the primary.

Chandler partner, it may be explained readily that Mr. Chandler was successful because he won the confidence and friendship of those he met. Children respond at once to his genial, sympathetic understanding of their interests, the overall-clad workman feels from his bikers found in "Happy" a man who was one of them at heart, business and professional people likewise found in him a man conversant with their problems and sympathetic with their interests.

It is noteworthy that the few persons who have attempted to take advantage of Mr. Chandler because of his cheerful nature and genuine courtesy have come to grief. It is equally worthy of note that none who so erred has ever been known to hold a personal grudge against him. His training on athletic fields, his contacts with fellow workers at day labor and with politicians in the State Legislature halls, have taught him poise, and polished expression with tact, skill and strength.

It is a matter of history that the comparatively few experienced political leaders who ship with their lots with "Happy" were overjoyed when they saw in him a person he was willing to work with. It was not without reason why," but to encourage their efforts to help him with speeches, to see more people.

But since public life is not in sight for the youthful Democratic standard-bearer, and many broad-minded thinkers of the State are studying the history of the man in an effort to determine what it is that results such a man. Their findings disclose a background of poverty, lifelong struggle and successful struggle apparently almost overwhelming odds.

Mr. Chandler was born on a small farm in Breckenridge county, near Corydon, the son of Joseph Sapinas and Mrs. Callie Bennett Chandler. His father was a descendant of one of the pioneer Scotch-Irish families that settled in Virginia and later moved to Kentucky, while his mother was related to Claude Terrill, former Speaker of the House. Poor health and poverty left young Chandler virtually an orphan at the age of 4.

He and a younger brother were placed on the home of relatives, who had large families of their own. After being loaned from pillar to post until he was 12 years old, Mr. Chandler went to live with an Indiana family, where he was sent to school. Meanwhile, he was doing heart-breaking work on farms from his determination to get an education."

Mr. Chandler then returned to Breckenridge county and, in addition to his chores, he earned money for his expenses by establishing a newspaper route, selling The Courier-Journal and other dailies to passengers. Meanwhile, he had lost his younger brother in the result of an accident.

Then he was 20 the present Mr. Chandler's life was marked by continuous struggle. He worked on a cotton farm for $5 to 1 and a month and a board, and then he worked Transylvania University, Lexington, and there, God, I love and shook in the [illegible] of [illegible] them all," he said in one of his campaign speeches.

Mr. Chandler paid his way from the first by doing such odd jobs as other students disdained, and by waiting table. Later, he coached basketball in the summer of 1920, played basketball at Grafton, W. Va., with the Red River Valley League.

An early ambition to be a lawyer came to the surface shortly after he had decided to become a professional baseball player. My baseball career was as far as I ever got toward becoming a lawyer," he said. I hurled with the varsity at Transylvania University and had played on a special team. Upon his return to Lexington to continue his studies, Mr. Chandler was tempted again with an offer to sing with the Al G. Fields Minstrels. He decided to continue his education.

Still undecided his way by what ever tasks he could find, Mr. Chandler entered the College of Law at the University of Kentucky to complete his law course and began the practice of law at Versailles.

In 1929 he was elected to the State Senate and so impressed members of his party that he was nominated and elected Lieutenant Governor at the last State election. Mr. Chandler has taken the lead, both as Senator and Lieutenant Governor, in legislation he believed to be for the best interests of the State. His fight to preserve Cumberland Falls is one of his best.

He is a veteran of the World War although he was only 18 at the outbreak. He is a member of the American Legion, Phi Kappa Alpha fraternity and the Lampas Masonic fraternity. He is a Shriner and member of the Episcopal church.

Mr. Chandler was married in 1932 to Miss Mildred Watkins, member of a prominent Virginia family. They have four children. Shortly after becoming Lieutenant Governor, he moved his family to Florida to visit the grave of his mother, and learned of her rich. This was fulfilled in the crust Edna Rebecca, who thrives, and buried in Josephs tomb.

V. The Servant's Ultimate Victory (vv. 10-12).

1. His suffering expressed the divine will (v. 10). The Lord himself laid this burden upon Christ. He was delivered according to the determined counsel and foreknowledge of God.

2. A spiritual progress resulted from his death (v. 10). Christ declared, "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone." The fundamental law of the universe which is life out of death, found supreme expression in Christ's death on the cross.

3. Through death shall come the realization of his fondest hope (v. 11). "He shall see the travail of his soul and shall be satisfied."

4. The divine reward (v. 12). The divine Servant shall share the glories of victory which by a strong arm were gained. Because he took the place of a sinner, it was to the purpose of the forces of darkness, while Hick man county farmers received $256,221 for their cotton. The rest was divided among Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle Graves, McCracken and Marshall counties.

For the more than a million dollars received last year for cotton in this state, $63,187 was in the form of rental and parity payments in connection with the adjustment program, including all money received to April 1.

Horses And Mules May Continue High

The increased demand for work stock, together with the comparative scarcity of good horses and mules, may mean continues high prices for several years, points out a statement from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"Horse prices will go higher and remain high for the next four or five years," declares Wayne Dinsmore of the Horse and Mule Association of America. "Breeding was neglected during the depression years and it will take several years to make up the shortage."

One out of every 12 cultivated acres in the United States has been shifted from surplus basic crops this year under adjustment contracts.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. © Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 6

ISAIAH PORTRAYING THE SUFFERING SERVANT

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 52:13-53:12.
GOLDEN TEXT—But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.—Isaiah 53:5.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Best Friend.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Isaiah Foretells Jesus' Death.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Our Salvation Cost.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Suffering Savior.

The prophecy of Isaiah is the grand center of the Old Testament. It features the Servant of Jehovah with great victories and glories, and is an inspiring purpose of redemption at the cost of great sufferings.

I. The Servant's Triumph (Is. 52: 13-15). The Servant is the Lord Jesus coming Messiah (42:1).

1. His wisdom (v. 13). He will deal prudently, for his mind is in communion with the Son Christ is the divine spirit of wisdom and understanding (11:2).

2. He shall be exalted and extolled (v. 13). Being the mighty God, even Immanuel, Jehovah was highly exalted (Phil. 2:9).

3. The appearance of the Servant (v. 14). Because of his marred visage, as Jesus, who looked forward with signs of regalty and worldly splendor, were not attractive (v. 2).

4. The issue of his ministry (v. 15). In his sprinkling of nations the Servant revealed as the great High Priest, applying the blood to the holy mercy and cleansing from their sins.

II. The Servant's Despised and Rejected (53:1-3).

1. The unbelief of the Jews (v. 1). The message of the prophets and failed to recognize the hand of the Lord in the coming of Jesus.

2. The origin of the servant (v. 2). The humble birth of Jesus and the lowly condition of the people in which he was reared were not attractive. The primary cause of the unbelief was spiritual blindness (cor. 4:4).

III. The Vicarious Suffering of the Servant (53:4-9).

1. His griefs and sorrows were ours. Though innocent, he was healed down under the load of our sins, and his stripes, this awful suffering was looked upon by the world as punishment for his own iniquity of sin of.

IV. The Death of the Servant (53: 7-10).

1. His strange silence (v. 7). He went as a lamb to the slaughter. How unlike are the words of Christ, who declared, make a great sin.

2. Unconscious of his vicarageties (v. 8). Though dying instead of the wicked people, they had failed to discern that his suffering was in their stead.

3. Buried with the wicked and the rich. This was fulfilled in the crust Edna Rebecca, who thrives, and buried in Joseph's tomb.

V. The Servant's Ultimate Victory (vv. 10-12).

1. His suffering expressed the divine will (v. 10). The Lord himself laid this burden upon Christ. He was delivered according to the determined counsel and foreknowledge of God.

2. A spiritual progress resulted from his death (v. 10). Christ declared, "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone." The fundamental law of the universe which is life out of death, found supreme expression in Christ's death on the cross.

3. Through death shall come the realization of his fondest hope (v. 11). "He shall see the travail of his soul and shall be satisfied."

4. The divine reward (v. 12). The divine Servant shall share the glories of victory which by a strong arm were gained. Because he took the place of a sinner, it was to the purpose of the forces of darkness while Hick man county farmers received $256,221 for their cotton. The rest was divided among Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle Graves, McCracken and Marshall counties.

For the more than a million dollars received last year for cotton in this state, $63,187 was in the form of rental and parity payments in connection with the adjustment program, including all money received to April 1.

Horses And Mules May Continue High

The increased demand for work stock, together with the comparative scarcity of good horses and mules, may mean continues high prices for several years, points out a statement from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"Horse prices will go higher and remain high for the next four or five years," declares Wayne Dinsmore of the Horse and Mule Association of America. "Breeding was neglected during the depression years and it will take several years to make up the shortage."

One out of every 12 cultivated acres in the United States has been shifted from surplus basic crops this year under adjustment contracts.

THE FARM AND HOME

(Ky. Agricul ural Experiment Sta.)

Feeding plenty of mash is one of the best ways to increase egg production in October and November. the months in which most eggs are usually the highest. Eggs are scarce in these months because many of the layers are molting.

Three ways to prevent soil erosion: cover crops, keeping steep land in grass. Now is the time so sow winter cover crops. Terracing is another way any time the ground can be worked. Plan so put the hillsides in hay, pasture or trees.

Sawdust makes a fair grade of bedding for dairy cows horses and other livestock, but it is poor litter. In fact, an excessive amount of sawdust, even though it contains the adorable manure with it. Will injure the productive capacity of the soil.

The time is at hand to remove old stoneges for vegetables and fruits, or to construct new ones. Where one is available, it is possible to keep root and leaf crops in pits or trenches dug in the garden. Such a storage, however, must keep out water.

The AAA announces that the present price of potatoes to the farmer represents only about half the purchasing power that potatoes had during the 10 years just after the World War. About an eighth of all the farms in the United States grow potatoes as a cash crop.

Many housewives, rather than sell fall chickens at low prices, can them to use through the winter. They may be canned either fried or roasted. Circular No. 220, obtainable from the county agents or by writing to the College of Agriculture, gives directions for canning fowls, fruits and vegetables.

Statement of the ownership, management, circulation, etc., required by the Act of Congress of August 24, 1912. Of The Carlisle Mercury, published weekly at Carlisle, Ky., for October 1935.

State of Kentucky, County of Nicholas, ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Warren R. Fisher, who having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the editor and owner of the Carlisle Mercury and that the following is to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912.

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are, publisher, Warren R. Fisher, Carlisle, Ky. Editor, Managing Editor, Business Manager, Warren R. Fisher, Carlisle, Ky.

2. That the owner is: Warren R. Fisher, Carlisle, Ky.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: None.

Warren R. Fisher
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 28th day of September, 1935.

Lee B. Osborne
(My commission expires January 16, 1938.)

Kentucky Cotton Crop Brings Over Million

Although little known in the state as a whole, Kentucky's 1934 cotton crop brought farmers $1,037,147. More than half of this amount, or $551,946 was received by farmers of Hickman county farmers received $256,221 for their cotton. The rest was divided among Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle Graves, McCracken and Marshall counties.

For the more than a million dollars received last year for cotton in this state, $63,187 was in the form of rental and parity payments in connection with the adjustment program, including all money received to April 1.

Horses And Mules May Continue High

The increased demand for work stock, together with the comparative scarcity of good horses and mules, may mean continues high prices for several years, points out a statement from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"Horse prices will go higher and remain high for the next four or five years," declares Wayne Dinsmore of the Horse and Mule Association of America. "Breeding was neglected during the depression years and it will take several years to make up the shortage."

One out of every 12 cultivated acres in the United States has been shifted from surplus basic crops this year under adjustment contracts.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. © Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 6

ISAIAH PORTRAYING THE SUFFERING SERVANT

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 52:13-53:12.
GOLDEN TEXT—But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.—Isaiah 53:5.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Best Friend.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Isaiah Foretells Jesus' Death.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Our Salvation Cost.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Suffering Savior.

The prophecy of Isaiah is the grand center of the Old Testament. It features the Servant of Jehovah with great victories and glories, and is an inspiring purpose of redemption at the cost of great sufferings.

I. The Servant's Triumph (Is. 52: 13-15). The Servant is the Lord Jesus coming Messiah (42:1).

1. His wisdom (v. 13). He will deal prudently, for his mind is in communion with the Son Christ is the divine spirit of wisdom and understanding (11:2).

2. He shall be exalted and extolled (v. 13). Being the mighty God, even Immanuel, Jehovah was highly exalted (Phil. 2:9).

3. The appearance of the Servant (v. 14). Because of his marred visage, as Jesus, who looked forward with signs of regalty and worldly splendor, were not attractive (v. 2).

4. The issue of his ministry (v. 15). In his sprinkling of nations the Servant revealed as the great High Priest, applying the blood to the holy mercy and cleansing from their sins.

II. The Servant's Despised and Rejected (53:1-3).

1. The unbelief of the Jews (v. 1). The message of the prophets and failed to recognize the hand of the Lord in the coming of Jesus.

2. The origin of the servant (v. 2). The humble birth of Jesus and the lowly condition of the people in which he was reared were not attractive. The primary cause of the unbelief was spiritual blindness (cor. 4:4).

III. The Vicarious Suffering of the Servant (53:4-9).

1. His griefs and sorrows were ours. Though innocent, he was healed down under the load of our sins, and his stripes, this awful suffering was looked upon by the world as punishment for his own iniquity of sin of.

IV. The Death of the Servant (53: 7-10).

1. His strange silence (v. 7). He went as a lamb to the slaughter. How unlike are the words of Christ, who declared, make a great sin.

2. Unconscious of his vicarageties (v. 8). Though dying instead of the wicked people, they had failed to discern that his suffering was in their stead.

3. Buried with the wicked and the rich. This was fulfilled in the crust Edna Rebecca, who thrives, and buried in Joseph's tomb.

V. The Servant's Ultimate Victory (vv. 10-12).

1. His suffering expressed the divine will (v. 10). The Lord himself laid this burden upon Christ. He was delivered according to the determined counsel and foreknowledge of God.

2. A spiritual progress resulted from his death (v. 10). Christ declared, "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone." The fundamental law of the universe which is life out of death, found supreme expression in Christ's death on the cross.

3. Through death shall come the realization of his fondest hope (v. 11). "He shall see the travail of his soul and shall be satisfied."

4. The divine reward (v. 12). The divine Servant shall share the glories of victory which by a strong arm were gained. Because he took the place of a sinner, it was to the purpose of the forces of darkness while Hick man county farmers received $256,221 for their cotton. The rest was divided among Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle Graves, McCracken and Marshall counties.

For the more than a million dollars received last year for cotton in this state, $63,187 was in the form of rental and parity payments in connection with the adjustment program, including all money received to April 1.

Horses And Mules May Continue High

The increased demand for work stock, together with the comparative scarcity of good horses and mules, may mean continues high prices for several years, points out a statement from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"Horse prices will go higher and remain high for the next four or five years," declares Wayne Dinsmore of the Horse and Mule Association of America. "Breeding was neglected during the depression years and it will take several years to make up the shortage."

One out of every 12 cultivated acres in the United States has been shifted from surplus basic crops this year under adjustment contracts.

All Democrats Urged To Work For Ticket

"The test of one's Democracy is not who one supported in the primaries, but whether one supports the entire Democratic ticket in the final election," Lieutenant Governor A. B. Chandler, Democratic nominee for Governor said in a brief statement given out last week. The statement in full is as follows:

"To the Democratic voters of Kentucky: At a meeting of the Democratic nominees plans were made for conduct of the fall campaign. I desire to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to the Democratic voters who supported me in the recent primary elections. For those Democrats who for reasons best known to themselves supported any of my opponents, I have nothing but the kindest feelings; and, I now want to urge that all Democrats who are sincerely interested in the welfare of the Democratic ticket in Kentucky this year and in the reelection of President Franklin D. Roosevelt next year, join enthusiastically and actively in the making our success certain.

I have no disposition to inflict any sort of punishment upon any Democrat in Kentucky. The test of one's Democracy is not who one supported in the primaries, but whether one supports the entire Democratic ticket in the final election.

Campaign headquarters have been opened at the Kentucky Hotel at Lexington, manger under Robert Humphrey, of Mayfield as chairman. He also already used the work of my organization in each county and Democratic leaders have qualified for the campaign. Other workers will be announced later.

Democratic Women's Club, Democratic Women's Club, Democratic Women's Club,