THE JOY OF DAFFODILS

(Irene Ormsby)

Defiant of the changing winds of Spring,
A verge of daffodils enfolds the old
Log cabin.
Flimsy skirt clear bells all a-tremble
Like a group of maidens
Gathered in a meadow
Awaiting their beaux.
And a troubled wind is there
Who tears at their heads,
Rudely tossing them
Sabres high.
A Day bright as gay, but heartening to behold
With sturdy purpose in their
Shapeless pods
And again beset by storm
And frost,
Dismisses they hurl their pealing
Challenge high.
In fretful overtones that Spring has crossed
Look you the barriers where
Snow-drifts lie
Beneath the cold, dark clouds
They veil the hills.
Let us hear the joy of daffodils
Ring!

PRATHER HALL

In the parable of the two sons we have a portrait of the two classes in Israel to illustrate their moral distance from God. The prodigal was far from the father's house; the elder brother was far from his heart. So the scribes and Pharisees boast of a ceremonial nearness to Jehovah, but their hearts are far from Him. The tax collectors and sinners are the ones yet they knew their plight and yearned for the compassionate mercy of God, and the Lord frankly forgave them. They were not put on probation or set to the task of redeeming their character by meritorious conduct. They came to the feet of grace. The exultant rejoicing of all creation in the consummation of the kingdom of God is built on the love that was and gives life to the dead. Come at 9:30 to worship with us. You are always welcome.

Prayer meeting Wednesday night at 7:30. Sunday school at 9:30 Sunday morning, the subject, "God The Forgiving Father" to some all should be interested in. Morning service at 10:45. Theme: "What The Church Demands Of A Christian." Evening service at 7:30. Subject: "Is There A Personal Devil?" A new church year has just started, let us all with Paul say, "Forgetting the things which are behind I press for the prize toward the mark of the high calling of God which is in Christ Jesus." To those who have been rather slip-shod in their attitude and loyalty to the church, your pastor is asking, "Why not take a new lease on life, spiritually and the spiritual values it offers and make this the greatest year of your life so far as the welfare of your Spiritual Life is concerned."

DEATHS

SWARTZ

Funeral services were held at the late home Friday afternoon for Mr. Walter W. Swartz, conducted by Rev. James Ogden, of Lexington. Burial followed in the Carlisle cemetery. Mr. Swartz was born and lived in bed his home at East Union on Wednesday morning of last week, the victim of a heart attack.

OGDEN

Mrs. Birlla Jane Trisler Ogden, wife of Mr. A. F. Ogden, died at her home near Bald Hill Tuesday morning following a long illness.

Mrs. Ogden was born February 27, 1855, in Shelby county. At the age of 21 she moved to Bracken county to teach school, and while here met Mr. Ogden, to whom she married March 15, 1877. To this union seven were born children, eight of whom survive, as follows: Howard Ogden, of Louisville; Mrs. W. H. Arnold, Bowling Green; Mrs. Laura Ogden Dotson, Bald Hill; Mrs. Elbridge Miller, Carlisle; Arthur F. Ogden, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. Finley Baxter, Maysville; Mrs. O. T. Blount, Alpharetta, New Mexico, and Max Ogden, of Winchester. A son, the late James C. Ogden, missionary to Tibet, died several years ago, and a daughter, Nannie T. Ogden, died several years ago. She is also survived by nineteen grandchildren, four grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Laura Jackson, Mt. Orab, Ohio, and one brother, Mat Trisler, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Ogden was a consecrated Christian woman. When the end was near, she sang Rock of Ages, told friends she saw angels and read many beautiful passages of Scripture, and said she was going to a better land where her 82-year-old husband to go with her.

Funeral services will be held at the Bald Hill church Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and burial will follow in the Carlisle cemetery.

Sunday was one of the most delightful Easters in several years. While the weather was not as warm, the sun was out during the day.
