NOTICE

It has been reported that I would not nor could not be a candidate for Tax Commissioner this year. This is incorrect and I will have an announcement in the next issue of The Mercury.

In the meantime please consider the manner in which you think the assessment of property should be made according to the law which plainly reads:

"It should be the duty of the Tax Commissioner or Deputy to see in person, to visit the residence or place of abode of each Taxpayer in order to make an assessment of their property for taxation."

I propose to make the assessment according to this law should I be elected to this office.

Negro Sentenced To Hang For Criminal Assault

After deliberating for only a few minutes, a jury in the Daviess circuit court at Owensboro Thursday found Hosea Bethea, 22, negro ex-convict, guilty on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Ellen Edwards, prominent Owensboro society woman, and sentenced him to death.

Judge George Wilson immediately sentenced Bethea to hang on July 31 and he was rushed to the Louisville jail for safekeeping to remain until the day of his execution. The Kentucky law prescribes hanging in the county in which the crime was committed upon conviction for rape.

The negro entered a plea of guilty. The body of the aged woman choked to death, was found in her room at Owensboro on June 7. Bethea was arrested after a cheap ring alleged to have belonged to him was found in the room.

Senator Logan Pays Visit To Carlisle

Senator M. M. Logan, of Bowling Green, was in Carlisle last Friday in the interest of his race for the Democratic nomination for reelection as United States Senator.

Senator Logan has issued the following statement in regard to his candidacy:

"There have been suggestions in the newspapers recently that I was to be appointed to a Federal judgeship or given some other appointment that would preclude my making the race for the Senate. Such statements are without any foundation. In fact, I seek no appointment of any kind. I shall make the race for the Senate regardless of whether I have few or many opponents. I shall abide by the decision. If I am elected I am entitled to an endorsement by the Kentucky Democrats, so am I, and that is all I ask. It would and should have had no opposition. I invited no fight. If those supporting either of the other candidates desire a fight, let us begin it and I shall neither give nor ask quarter.

"If the party becomes disorganized and the State of Kentucky becomes doubtful for Roosevelt, I will have the satisfaction of knowing that I am not responsible for such a situation. I shall continue my complete organization, and then I shall begin a speaking campaign in which I shall inform the people of those things which they have a right to know. Others have struck the first blow entirely unprovoked. I am not compelled to forego defending myself."

The victim of the shooting was Clarence Dunaway, 23, of Maysville, who died at a hospital in Maysville a few hours after he received a bullet wound in the abdomen. Dunaway was reported suffering with gunshot wounds.

Thomas Ingram, 30, was arrested by the home of Earl Roe in the Poplar Grove section of Fleming county and charged with the killing. He said he found his wife in the company of Dunaway Ginn, of Maysville, and he engaged in a fight with the latter, both men getting the best of the fight, Dunaway said. Homer Day, 28, a friend of Ingram, was also arrested.

Last Old Soldier In Nicholas Dies

William A. Mitchell, 87, Dies At Home Near Myers, Was Union Veteran

William A. Mitchell, 87 years old, Union veteran of the War Between the States, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Stone near Myers, at 1:20 o'clock last Thursday afternoon following a short illness.

Mr. Mitchell was a life-long resident of that section of the county and was an honorable and upright citizen. He was widely known and respected in the community.

Mr. Mitchell served in the Fifty-fourth Kentucky Infantry, Union, in the War Between the States and at the close of the conflict returned to his home where he resumed farming. He was on this occasion until recent years. Until the past year, he walked to town daily, a distance of more than a mile, and took an active interest in affairs of his home and community. He was a member of the G. A. R. Post at Carlisle and was one of the last members of the organization.

The death of Mr. Mitchell, removes from the county the last of that vast number of gallant young Kentuckians who engaged in the four year conflict, closes a chapter in local history of the past half century or a century ago, the Blue and Grey fought for the last time. Veterans are numerous and they were both of a type of manhood and citizenship.

Mr. Mitchell is survived by six sons, Lacy A. Mitchell, Pleasant Valley; Orie Mitchell, Pleasant Valley; Cherbert Mitchell and Willie Mitchell, all of Ewing; daughters, Mrs. Bertha Throckmorton, Pleasant Valley; Mrs. Charles Flora, Ewing, and Mrs. Stone Parsons, Myers, and one half-brother, John Mitchell, Pleasant Valley. He is also survived by twenty-eight grandchildren and twenty great grandchildren. His wife died many years ago.

Funeral services were held at the Myers Christian church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. J. Whitehouse, pastor of the Carlisle Christian church, and burial followed in the Carlisle cemetery. Spanish American War and World War veterans were honorary pall-bearers.

Farmers Urged By County Agent To Sow Soybeans For Late Hay

Farmers are being advised to sow soybeans for hay by County Agent R. J. Matson. Soybeans should be sown at the rate of two bushels per acre, and such varieties as Manchu, Wilson Black Eye Mammoth and Virginia are a satisfactory crop of hay before the first killing frost and will be a feeding value to clover and timothy.

According to a recent ruling from Washington farmers who are cooperating with the Agricultural Conservation program may plant their idle land to soybeans, cowpeas, sudan grass or millet without affecting their payments. This ruling was passed in order that farmers in the drought area may produce hay by County for winter feed.

Plans To Assist Drouth Sufferers

Made At Meeting Held At Lexington Tuesday, 23 Counties Represented

Devastation resulting from the past two months of searching sun on Kentucky's fields and crops was revealed and plans were discussed for meeting greatly increased demands for federal aid, due to the drought, at a meeting of WPA area engineers from 23 Central and Northern Kentucky counties held at Lexington Tuesday morning.

Ernest Rowe, director of the Third Kentucky WPA district at Lexington, announced that intake and certification offices will be established at Lexington and three weeks' time and that WPA during the current fiscal year will pay on a new wage scale, the "prevailing" rate rather than the former "security" basis.

Gardens, pastures, hay and the potato crop were described as being "hopeless" in the survey reports submitted by the engineers. Corn and wheat crops, although seriously damaged in many of the counties, were said to have a chance to recover if heavy rains fall at an early date.

Boone, Bracken, Fleming, Gallatin, Grant, Harrison, Kenton, Owen and Pendleton counties appear to be the hardest hit of the 23 counties considered in Tuesday's reports. Lewis county has suffered the least of the group.

The other counties on which reports were made are Bourbon, Campbell, Carroll, Fayette, Franklin, Henry, Jessamine, Mason, Nicholas, Robertson, Scott, Trimble and Woodford.

Health Officer Advises Citizens To Unite In Fighting Mosquitoes

Mosquitoes have become very prevalent during the past week or two. Fortunately, at present, none of the mosquitoes seems to be infected with malaria germ sites. However, every effort should be made to eradicate these insects. Full cooperation on the part of every individual is necessary if we are to accomplish our purpose.

It is believed that the malaria belt will move approximately one hundred miles north this year. If this is true, Carlisle may expect to be on the edge of this infected area. Whether the malaria infected mosquitoes get here or not, these insects in their present state and numbers, make living more uncomfortable and consequently should be eradicated.

All possible breeding places in this area will be found and destroyed, especially old tin cans, barrels and other basins which hold catch water. The use of light oils in cess pools and septic tanks is recommended especially at this position and to kill any mosquito larvae that may be present. Any person whose home is connected with the sewer lines of Carlisle is empty one-half gallon of kerosene into their toilet each day. This would have a marked beneficial effect on the control of mosquito breeding. I am confident the city officials will see that Brushy Fork is oiled in some manner. If everyone will work together much good will be accomplished. Dr. E. W. Atherton, County Health Officer
