

Gives Treatment For Chick Disease

If chicks stand around half-ruffled condition, with sharp wings and appear in a general listless, hunched and drooping shape, the trouble is usually curable, says J. E. Henshaw, of the Kentucky College of Agricul-ture, Lexington, Ky.

The first thing to do, says Mr. Henshaw, is to remove all loose bird droppings from the brooder house, and to clean the brooder house with a strong disinfectant. Give liquid milk, but no water, to sick chicks for a week to give them some strength. In a few days, the chicks should be on their feet and eating well.

The depression's cost to business has been estimated at $2,000,000,000.

On March 1, the railroads in this country carried 12,000,000,000,000 worth of goods and freight for 20 cents, or 20 cents, compared to the billions in 1928.
