THIRD SET OF TWINS
(Big Sandy News)

What is believed to be a record in this county was the birth of a third set of twins to Mr. and Mrs. Brig Vanhorn of the Five Forks section near Louisa on Tuesday of last week. The first set of twins, born seven years ago were boys; the second set were a boy and a girl, and the third set, born last week, were girls. The twin daughters born last week were the 13th and 14th children born to Mr. and Mrs. Vanhorn. One of the infant daughters, however, died four days after birth and there are now 13 children in the Vanhorn family.

Curtain Is Drawn On Harlan Bombing

The curtain was drawn officially Friday on the dynamite bomb slaying of Elmon Middleton, Harlan county attorney and militant slot machine foe, who was mortally wounded in August, 1935, in an explosion that occurred when he stepped on the starter of his automobile.

Five men, were indicted in connection with the slaying.

Otis Noe, slot machine operator, has been given a life term.

Friday, a jury in Harlan circuit court acquitted Bill Leonard, 24, after deliberating two hours and 45 minutes.

After the verdict was returned indictments against the three other defendants, Basom Huff, 25; Bob Farmer, 32, who turned state's evidence Friday against Leonard, and Ernest Hampton, 28, were dismissed on the motion of Commonwealth's Attorney D. B. Smith. An indictment against Joe Hampton, father of Ernest, previously had been dismissed after he testified for the commonwealth in the Noe trial.

Miles Sparks, Texas cattleman, is father of 26 children.

Time For Enlistment In Cancer Army Extended

Declaring that enlistments in the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer are lagging behind the quota set for the state, Mrs. E. B. Heller, State Commander of the Kentucky Division, has issued a special appeal to women to enroll in the fight against a disease which stands second in the list of causes of death in the United States.

"This campaign," says Mrs. Heller, "must be put over the top. Too many lives are at stake for us to fail in this great crusade. Experts in cancer control estimate that perhaps half of the 150,000 persons who died in this country of cancer last year might have been saved had they known something of the disease and put their knowledge into action. We of the Women's Field Army are trying to spread that knowledge. We are trying to reach the 20,000 who, in years to come, will die unnecessarily unless our campaign receives adequate support. Physicians, clergymen, editors and leaders of women's organizations have all rallied to the cause. I believe that the average woman of this state, when she learns how much she is needed, will enlist at once."

The fourteenth district musical contest was held at the Mayslick high school Tuesday. Four competing schools were Carlisle, Brooksville, Flemingsburg, Maysville, Minerva, Washington, Ewing, Lewisburg, Maysville and Orangeburg.

The Carlisle high school entered all of the contests except the glee clubs. These clubs will go to Lexington April 30 to sing in the state festival and were not taken to Mayslick. The local school competed in nine contests, winning three firsts and two seconds.

Carlisle was first in girls' trio in competition with Brooksville. The young ladies composing the trio were Misses Helen Hackley, soprano, Helen Linville, second soprano, and Alberta Hostetler alto.

In bass solo, Powell Neil was the winner. He is second year student while Hostetler won first over eight schools, being given the rating of superior, the highest mark given by all three judges.

In baritone, Charles Shouse won second, with six schools competing. His rating was also given first rated by the judges as excellent and both will represent the district in the state contests at Lexington.

In solo, Alberta Hostetler rank ed second but was given a rating of superior by this division judge and will also with the winner, represent the district in the state contests.

Approximately 200 pupils from the ten schools competed in the contests, running from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. Mrs. M. D. Sheperd director of vocal music in the school, directed the training of the Carlisle contestants and will be in charge of those who will represent the district at the state festival.

F. E. Pfanstiel, who is chairman of the fourteenth district, comprising schools in the counties of Nicholas, Bracken, Robertson, Lewis, Mason and Fleming, was in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

Grain Crops Come Through Winter In Good Condition

Kentucky's orchard and rye have come through the winter in unusually good condition and prospects are late according to the April 1 crop and livestock report for Kentucky issued by the Louisville office of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The condition of wheat in Kentucky April 1 this year was 86 per cent of normal while a year ago it was 76 per cent and the 10-year average (1926-35) was 77 per cent. This indicates a production of 8,342,000 bushels in Kentucky this year compared to 5,840,000 bushels produced in 1936 and 3,278,000 bushels in the 10-year average.

The condition of rye in Kentucky April 1 this year was 80 per cent of normal as compared to 77 per cent a year ago and the April 1 10-year average was 86 per cent. Pastures of all kinds were late, being only 67 per cent of normal April 1 this year compared to 71 per cent a year ago and 76 per cent the 10-year average.

Hired farm labor in Kentucky is 84 per cent of a normal supply, with demand 86 per cent of normal, while a year ago supply of farm labor was 92 per cent of normal and demand only 89 per cent. The ratio of the supply of hired farm labor to demand for hired farm labor is thus 98 per cent April 1 this spring compared to 113 per cent a year ago. Farm wages are higher than a year ago, considering the average of the state as a whole.

Two hundred preachers and lay delegates are expected at the conference, which will give attention to the various activities of the churches activities. Will Launch Probe On Harlan Situation

Senate civil liberties investigators Thursday said they would begin their study of "anti-union activities" in the Kentucky coal fields Wednesday with an examination of Harlan county's peculiar "law enforcement system."

They said Theodore Middleton, Harlan county high sheriff, would be asked to explain the arrangements under which many of his deputies are on the payroll of coal companies.

T. C. Townsend, Charleston, W. Va., chief of the senate committee, testified at earlier hearings that "many of these deputy sheriffs x x x is to keep out of Harlan county representatives of the United Mine Workers organization."

Deaths Increase, Births Decrease In Kentucky Last Year, Report of Bureau of Vital Statistics Shows

A notable increase in total deaths and a slight decrease in births in Kentucky in 1936, as compared with 1935, are shown in the preliminary figures just issued by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health. This experience, however, is not peculiar to Kentucky. It is more or less common to the country as a whole. Most of the states in the United States Registration Area showed upward trends in mortality rates last year with continuing declines in birth rates.

"The calculated rate of 11.2 per 1,000 population, as against 11.1 for 1935, does not," says J. F. Blackerby, state registrar, "prove perfectly the increase in mortality. The same thing is true of the slight decrease in birth rate. The 1935 rates for both deaths and births were based on an assumed population of 2,638,000. The 1936 rates are based on figures released by the U. S. Census Bureau, Jan. 21, 1937, which give Kentucky an estimated population of 2,866,000. This is a population increase of 228,000 over 1935.

At the time this tabulation was made 32,005 death certificates had been recorded, as against 29,470 in 1935. Birth certificates recorded totaled 52,309, as against 57,757 in 1935, the rate per 1,000 population being 20.0, as against 21.1 the preceding year. These figures will be subject to some increase, by delayed certificates, particularly those relating to births.

"Despite this marked increase in total deaths, it is gratifying to note that deaths from communicable and preventable causes have, in almost every instance, a decline. The increases are almost all in the higher age brackets—above 50—and from causes which are emphasized as being affected favorably by periodic health examinations of the apparently well.

"Diseases of the heart continue to be the principal cause of mortality tables. A total of 5,880, as against 5,319 in 1935, died from diseases of the heart in 1936. This is, nearly one person out of every 6 who died in Kentucky last year died from some disease of the heart. The rate for pneumonia, which is the second leading single cause of death, jumped from 86.1 in 1935 to 95.5 in 1936. Deaths from this cause aggregated 2,853 last year, as against 2,562 during the preceding year. Cancer again shows a slight increase, the figures being 2,016 in 1936 as against 1,971 in 1935. Deaths under one year of age jumped from 3,544 in 1935 to 3,770 in 1936, the group from one to five years, however, showed a decrease from 1,467 to 1,365.

"Of the communicable and preventable diseases, diphtheria, typhoid fever, tuberculosis, scarlet fever, whooping cough and measles all show material decreases. These reductions may be safely attributed to organized public health work by fulltime county health departments which shows its best results in the control of communicable diseases more or less peculiar to childhood and in the promotion of environmental sanitation.

"It is particularly gratifying to observe that the diphtheria rate again fell off nearly five full points, dropping from 13.3 in 1935 to 8.5 in 1936. This, no doubt, reflects, in large measure, the cumulative effects of intensive efforts to secure larger immunization of pre-school children, among whom the greater percentage of diphtheria mortality occurs.

"It is also worthy of note that typhoid fever rate again showed a material decline, falling from 9.1 in 1935 to 6.9 in 1936."
